SANTA ANA HOST TO C. E. MEET

2 Feared Drowned In Seaplane Crash

CURRENT COMMENT
By Chester H. Rowell

ALY, in its new nationalism, aspires to set its own styles, with rin as a center, instead of deding on Paris.

The ambition is too late. Paris is already supplanted. Fashions may still be "made in Paris," but they are set in New York. The Paris gowns are made for the American market, and their styles are whatever Americans will buy. And American customers are no longer vish. They will not wear whatr Paris dictates. That has been d, several times, in recent years, l when Americans refused to buy attempted new style it was en up, and ceased to be the style. ere will be no Italian style. Itals will wear the world style. And t will continue to be set by erica.

HE law is a mystery, especially the law of evidence. The unlled witness, who does not know act from an opinion, nor knowle from hearsay, is badgered into fining himself to rules which he s not understand, until he bees incapable of thinking or of ing the truth. But the skilled yer, who knows all of these rules, ceeds to violate them all in his ument, for the conscious purpose further confusing the already bedled jury.

Similarly, the witness can testify y to what he himself knows, and y not quote what he learned m others. But a lawyer, in Loudack's court in San Francisco, ceeds to present an affidavit, knowledged to be based on pure nor, with no pretense that he ws anything about it himself and offer of evidence to prove it, rging Judge Louderback with a rupt bargain with Senator Shortge, through his son, to missasn a divorce case in return for the ator's indorsement of the judge appointment to a higher position. l this pure scandal-monging, ich declares on its face that it ased on unassigned and unceril rumor, and does not state the rce even of that, becomes some- a "privileged communication," ich all the newspapers can print hout liability under the libel s.

HE newspaper part of the privilege is doubtless justified. Whatr the court permits to be pre- ted, as a public document, should public, to the public, and the y way to make it so is to per- the newspapers to print it. The stery is why it should be within privilege of the lawyer originalmaking it, to broadcast scandalous rges, with no claim of knowle or evidence to sustain them. It ht be well to impose on lawyers he of the rules which they im- e on witnesses.

ME interest has been aroused by the fact that the two honor n graduating in West Point this r were appointed to the Acady from the ranks, after serving privates in the regular army. The ss has been hazarded that their perience as common soldiers exined their success in training for icers.

* * *

HE actual explanation is doubtless quite different. Only a modte part of the court at West nt consists of military training, h as the experience of a private ht aid in acquiring. Much of it urely scholastic, of mathematics, guages, science and history, like t of any other college. Much even the military part has to do with ategy and larger tactics, for ich the experience of a private ht be a handicap rather than a p. It was not what these soldrs learned in the ranks that made m surpass their fellows in learnin the academy.

HAT helped them in the Academy was, not the qualities which y learned in the ranks, but those which they got out of the ranks. takes much more than ordinary elligence and character to be one the selected few to make this p. The soldier must have an unually good mind, and he must ve the determination to pursue preparatory education without usual labor-saving means of do- so. The winners in this con- t are in the championship class eady. The wonder is not that y surpass their fellows, whose rance was the product of a less ecting selection. The real wonder uld be if they had not done so. d the lesson is not that the comn man can do as well as the seted man. It is not even that the ining of difficulty accounts for

LEWS TO BLOODY CRIME ARE FOUND

POMONA, N. J., June 22.—Fifty New Jersey state troopers searched the foods north and west of here all night in response to the story of two young boys that they had seen two men stabbing a third lad.

Troops found the imprint of a boy's body in bloodstained grass, surrounded by bits of newspaper and clothing, also bloodstained, at the place where the boys said they saw the attack.

The two boys, Tony and Joseph Dellanoce, 9 and 13 years old, respectively, said they were walking through the woods when they saw the two men and the third boy. One of the men, they said, held the boy while the other stabbed him. When they screamed, the men picked up the boy and fled, they declared.

PILOT MAKES SHORE AFTER LONG BATTLE

Lt. Thomas Fisher Reaches Beach Following 8-Hour Struggle in Cold Water

FOG CAUSES TRAGEDY

Lt. Com. William Hactor, Charles Robbins, Passenger, Believed Dead

BULLETIN

An unidentified body was washed ashore at Newport Beach pier late this afternoon. It is believed to be the body of one of the two aviators reported missing this morning by Lt. Thomas G. Fisher, pilot of a seaplane which crashed into the ocean at 8:30 last night with its three passengers.

TWO MEN are believed drowned and a third narrowly escaped death, landing on the shores of Orange county at 5:30 this morning after spending eight hours in the icy Pacific waters, as the result of a navy seaplane crash five miles off shore at 8:30 last night. Lt. Com. William S. Hactor and Charles Robbins, a passenger in the plane, are missing. It is believed they were drowned. Lt. Thomas G. Fisher, pilot of the plane, reached shore between Laguna Beach and Newport, after battling the cold ocean waters throughout the night.

The plane was enroute from Seattle to San Diego and last stopped before the crash, at Crescent City. It was PB-T type Boeing seaplane, No. 7024.

The tragedy was not revealed until Lieutenant Fisher reached shore. The flier staggered up a cliff at the ocean's edge into a camp of women and children, where he appealed for help. The women took him to the camp of Robert Tyron, near Laguna Beach, where he was warmed and fed.

In an interview with a Register reporter this morning, Fisher said:

Pontoons Jerked Off

"We were flying along nicely and saw the lights of Newport Beach. I was endeavoring to follow the coast line and was forced low because of low clouds. After passing Newport Beach we struck fog and I went still lower. Lieutenant Hactor kept motioning me out to sea. I thought we were up about 400 feet when suddenly the plane hit the water. The pontoons were jerked off and the plane stood up on its tail. We immediately took the cushions for life preservers and plunged into the sea. The plane sank in less than five minutes."

Fisher's watch stopped at 8:35 p. m.

"After my ship sank I swam to a pontoon and tried to hang on to it," Fisher said. "It had been broken, however, and sank immediately. The other pontoon had disappeared. The three of us agreed to stick together and we kept track of each other by shouting back and forth. At about 11 o'clock we were still in touch with one another. Soon after that I lost track of Robbins, who swam on ahead of Hactor and me. Soon afterward Hactor also became lost to me."

After being cared for by Tyron in the camp near Laguna Beach, Lieutenant Fisher was taken to Laguna Beach where he notified naval headquarters at San Diego. He later was taken to Newport Beach, where he chartered the speed boat "Silver Spray" and scouted over the ocean and along the coast for some time.

One of Pontoons Found

The scouting party in the Silver Spray found one of the pontoons of the plane lodged in the kelp along the coast about three miles below Newport Beach, but found no trace of Lieutenant Hactor or Robbins.

Eight navy seaplanes and several destroyers and Coast Guard cutters were patrolling the ocean in the vicinity of the accident this morning in the hope of finding the two missing aviators. Up until late this afternoon no trace of the men had been found.

Lieutenant Fisher was cared for in Newport Beach by city officials and late this morning was taken to San Diego by Lieutenant K. C. Hawkins, one of the eight pilots flying over the ocean off the Orange county coast in the search for the missing men.

Lieutenant Fisher was injured in the crash, receiving a cut near his left eye and a deep gash in his right hand. He declared this morning that he did not know that he was injured until late this morning, after he had conducted a search for his missing companions.

NEW TRIAL

RUSSELL SCOTT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 22.—Russell Scott, former Canadian millionaire, who was convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug store clerk, today was granted a new trial by the Illinois supreme court.

Scott was sentenced to hang in 1924 and twice received last minute reprieves. Later he was found insane and sent to the Illinois State hospital, at Chester.

He later was found sane and returned to Chicago. Attorneys filed an appeal for a new trial.

OPEN WARFARE IS FEARED IN OWENS VALLEY

Grim Silence Pervades Inyo County As Guards Patrol Aqueduct

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—With the next move in the Owens valley water feud expected to be made in the form of arbitration, a grim silence pervaded Inyo county today, where city guards patrol the Los Angeles aqueduct against further attacks by dynamite.

Gov. C. C. Young, who arrived here yesterday, indicated that he favored a conference between ranchers of the valley, who claim their homes and towns have been despoiled by the water system, and members of the water power board of Los Angeles. No move has been made to bring about such a meeting.

Meanwhile a belated report reached here of an attack upon guards in No Name canyon shortly before a blast was set off Sunday morning under an open conduit near the Alabama hills. Officials expressed the belief that the guards were fired upon as a ruse to draw them away from the section which was dynamited.

With both sides heavily armed open warfare is feared unless some means of compromise is reached and further dynamite attacks are anticipated.

BASEBALL RESULTS

BOSTON, June 22.—Babe Ruth hit his 23rd and 24th home runs of the season in the first game of today's double header with the Boston Red Sox. Both were made off Wiltse. The first came in the fifth inning and the second in the seventh. Combs scored ahead of him on the second.

UNITED STATES WILL STAND BY PROPOSED 5-5-3 NAVAL RATIO

Treaty Along American Plan Now Foreseen

BULLETIN

GENEVA, June 22.—Naval experts tackled the problem of removing wide divergencies between the disarmament proposals of Great Britain, Japan and the United States. A technical commission, on which Admiral Schofield is the American representative, met to determine the exact meaning of each of the three projects and to agree on the actual present strength of the three navies.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—State department officials emphasized today that the United States will stand by its 5-5-3 ratio proposal to the Geneva naval limitation conference, despite conflict between its proposals and the British and Japanese plans.

In the absence of reports from the American delegation supporting Geneva pessimism, the state department maintained its confidence that the conference will result in a treaty along American lines.

The American plan is the result of prolonged study by President Coolidge, the state and navy departments and will not be easily sacrificed, it was said.

JAPAN UNABLE TO ACCEPT 5-5-3 RATIO

GENEVA, June 22.—Japan is unable to accept the 5-5-3 ratio of naval strength as applied to capital ships, Admiral Saito, Japan, told Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation, in a conference they held today to begin harmonizing their conflicting views.

Japan must be strong in cruisers, destroyers and submarines, Saito said. He intimated Japan would consider making concessions in other directions.

It was understood Japan accepts the American viewpoint in opposition to Great Britain's argument that armed merchant ships are not of great value as warships.

ROGERS' CONDITION IS REPORTED GOOD

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Will Rogers, comedian-mayor of Beverly Hills, continued to improve following his recent operation for gallstones, California-Lutheran hospital attaches announced today.

"Rogers spent a restful night and his condition today is excellent," they reported.

The comedian is said to be projecting plans for an early return to the "great open spaces" of the movie lots.

Man Slays Wife, Commits Suicide

YUMA, Ariz., June 22.—A double tragedy was enacted here today when O. W. Terry, 50, shot and killed his wife Lillie, 47, and then turned the weapon upon himself. Both died instantly.

Terry fired five shots from a .45 calibre revolver, three striking his wife, one going wild and the other piercing his own heart.

The couple is survived by seven children ranging from three to 20 years of age.

City Welcomes C. E. Delegates

ASSAULT COMPLAINT LOOMS AS RESULT OF FIGHT SIDELIGHT TO JULIAN PROBE

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Complaints charging assault will be sought here today as an aftermath to a clash in the offices of the Julian Stockholders' Protective association, which resulted in serious injury to Arthur M. Loeb.

Battered and beaten, Loeb lay in the General hospital today, threatened with the loss of one eye following an encounter with William Kimberle in an argument over the possession of the office and records of the organization formed following the collapse of Julian "Pete."

New developments in the nightmare of high finance that wrecked the Julian Petroleum corporation, causing losses totaling millions of dollars, were scheduled today.

While the federal radio commission was called upon to investigate the source of "air heckling" directed at C. C. Julian when he attempted to speak over his radio in an "expose" of the investigation, the founder of the oil company said he would attempt to retell the "inside story" of the case over the radio tonight.

The grand jury was recessed today and it was reported that 10 or more indictments in the Julian case would be returned tomorrow.

Further arraignments of Julian pool members, accused of usury, also were scheduled today. Following the plea of not guilty made yesterday by Harry M. Haldeman, founder of the Better America federation, Jacob Farbstein and Jack Rosenberg, prominent brokers, were to be arraigned this afternoon.

Meanwhile, it was reported that

Four Perish As Flames Sweep Home

(By United Press)

BOSTON, June 22.—Four persons are known to have perished in a fire which swept the residence of William L. Shearer jr., vice president of the Pain Furniture company, in Back Bay, early today.

The dead:

Jeanette Shearer, 20, daughter of the owner.

Helen McLaughlin, 35, maid.

Alice Scott, 32, a maid.

Bettie Howes, 16, a nurse girl.

Mrs. Annie Dickson, 43, of Watertown, a governess, and Firemen Eugene E. Carroll, Frank Gruttner and Frank Melody all were taken to the city hospital. Carroll's condition was serious, but the others were expected to recover.

Shearer, wealthy owner of the property, left in his yacht yesterday for New York.

No Word from 328 Criminals Since Outbreak Over Cigarets

(By United Press)

LANSING, Kas., June 22—Silence—the silence of expectancy, was the watchword at the Kansas state penitentiary today as officials and prisoners alike waited for word from 328 inmates who are holding themselves prisoners in a mine of the institution.

No word has been had from the men since yesterday noon, when they mutinied, overpowered 14 guards and held the guards prisoner in the mine with them. The trouble came as a result of refusal of prison authorities to permit cigarets or cigaret papers to be given the men from outside the prison walls.

The mutiny took a more serious turn last night, when other prisoners rioted within their cells. One guard, J. F. Thomas, was stabbed several times. He was in a serious condition today.

The riot in cell house "B" was of short duration. Five guards were overpowered by a group of men led by Delno Lautner, convicted of murder.

As the prisoners filed to their cells after being counted in, 11 of them formed a group near one of the inner dors of the prison and attacked the guard. Thomas was stabbed during the fight.

Guards Subdue Prisoners

R. H. Hudspeth, acting warden in the absence of Warden W. H. Mackey, summoned all remaining guards, who subdued the prisoners.

No action is to be taken by authorities in connection with the men in the mine. There is no food and little water available for them and it is only a question of time until they will be forced to surrender.

Disturbances leading to the riot began last Sunday. At that time men in the mines and cells voiced the ultimatum "no cigarets, no coal."

Shortly before noon yesterday the break came. How the men gained command of the situation is not known as no communication has been established. The guards in the mine are armed only with clubs.

The prisoners have blocked the cage to their level, 720 feet below the surface, and refused to answer the phone.

WEATHER PREVENTS BYRD'S DEPARTURE

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 22.—Storms prevented the America's departure for Europe again today and Com. Richard E. Byrd planned to take advantage of the delay to receive another college degree—his third within a week.

Yale will make the commander a master of arts at its commencement exercises this afternoon.

Byrd will return to Roosevelt field in the late afternoon in time to take off for Paris, should the weather clear by then, but reports this morning indicated the start would be delayed until tomorrow at the earliest.

With B. Batchen, Norwegian pilot, radio operator, navigator and general utility man, definitely announced as the fourth man for the trip, and Byrd officially sworn in as an air mail pilot, nothing remained to do when the weather clears but add a few more gallons of gasoline, toss in the provisions and take off.

ARMY'S ENTRY IN HAWAIIAN FLIGHT IS CLOSELY GUARDED

(By United Press)

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—Preliminary tests of the huge tri-motored monoplane with which Lts. Albert Hagenberg and Lester Maitland plan to make a non-stop flight from San Francisco to Honolulu will be made at Rockwell field tomorrow.

Upon the tests to be made here within the next 10 days hinges the flight itself, it was learned today. Not until after the tests have been completed will army officials decide whether the flight will or will not be attempted.

By tonight, according to the flyers, the work of checking over the engines and installing an additional 88-gallon gasoline tank will have been completed and the ship will be ready for some of the tests.

Meanwhile the plane is being housed in a concrete hangar, safe from fire and closely guarded by an army sentry, who has been instructed to deny entrance to visitors except on orders from the flyers or army officials.

CONVENTION WILL OPEN HERE TONIGHT

Approximately 3000 Delegates Will Attend Sessions in Four Churches

PROGRAM IS OUTLINED

Prominent State Leaders In Religious Movement Take Part in Activities

WHAT PROMISES to be the largest convention in the history of the California Christian Endeavor union, according to all signs and indications, will open here tonight with approximately 3000 delegates and visitors in attendance.

The opening session, scheduled for 7 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. outdoor auditorium, will be preceded by a prayer service for the convention at the First Baptist church, followed by a meeting of the state executive committee at St. Ann's Inn, the hotel headquarters of the convention.

Sessions, including conferences, discussions, study periods and devotional services, will continue until Sunday night, when the state meet closes with a general session in the Y. M. C. A. outdoor auditerium.

Notable as the convention must be because of the great number of delegates and visitors, it also will go down in the minutes of the organization as one of the most distinctive. This is the third time that the convention has been held in Santa Ana. The first time was in 1901 and the second in 1911.

Prominent Leaders Here

Santa Ana, in entertaining the convention, has not only been given an opportunity to demonstrate her hospitality and shower her guests with courtesies and attentions, but is further honored in the presence here of prominent men and women who have been leaders in church activities and citizenship training.

The convention will be called to order by President Glen D. Wight, of Corona. Addresses of welcome will be made by Attorney Clyde C. Downing, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, representing the city of Santa Ana, and the Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, speaking for the churches and young people of the city.

It is estimated that before the convention is over, more than 3000 will have participated in the proceedings. While the greater number of delegates and visitors are young people, there is a generous sprinkling of men and women who have grown up in the movement.

Housing reservations as well as the official convention register show that the balance of strength lies with the southern part of the state, although northern sections are represented by good-sized delegations. A motor caravan, proceeding from San Francisco and Oakland, following the Coast route, brought hundreds of convention visitors from the bay region and cities along the route of travel. Others arrived by trains from Sacramento, Stockton and San Joaquin valley points, transferring at Los Angeles to Pacific Electric cars. The state officers arrived early this morning and were quartered at St. Ann's Inn, where they were welcomed by the reception committee, headed by Herbert E. Rankin, general chairman of the convention committee.

Use Four Churches

The real business of the convention will begin tomorrow with study periods and general sessions in four churches, the First Baptist, the Presbyterian, M. E. South and First Christian. The Baptist church will be used throughout the convention for adults and college folk; the Presbyterian for high

SLAYERS OF PRISON WARDEN MUST HANG

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—Three men, convicted of killing Warden Peter Klein of the state penitentiary at Joliet must hang, the Illinois supreme court ruled today.

Six men were convicted of the murder and all were sentenced to hang last February. They appealed.

Since that time the men have staged successive breaks from the Will county jail at Joliet and one was killed and two have eludsd capture. Three others have bee nrecaptured and are in jail at Joliet now.

The supreme court ruled the three men must hang July 15. The three still in prison are Chares Duschowski, Walter Staleski and Romberto Torres.

ABANDON HOPE FOR ACTOR'S RECOVERY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—John Drew, veteran American actor, continued "very weak" today. Attending physicians have virtually abandoned hope of his recovery. Drew was stricken with arthritis several weeks ago.

Miss Mackaye Is Legal Tilt Victor

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Dorothy Mackaye won her first victory here today in the battle to free herself of covering up details of her husband's death when Superior Judge Charles Burnell dismissed the first count in the indictment that of being an accessory after the fact.

The motion, made by Attorney Jerry Geisler and bitterly opposed by Deputy District Attorneys Kemp and Murray, was granted, after a long wrangle, by Judge Burnell with the statement that he "intended to use some common sense in the matter."

The motion was granted on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence to convict Miss Mackaye, whom the prosecution charges sought to conceal circumstances surrounding the death of Ray Raymond because of her love for Paul Kelly.

Proposed Friendly Treaty Cabled U. S.

PARIS, June 22.—It was understood that the American embassy was cabling to the state department today the proposed text of a Franco-American anti-war agreement that the foreign office communicated to the embassy yesterday. It would marke the real opening for negotiations for the success of which French diplomats express hope—largely, they say, because of the stimulus Col. Charles Lindbergh's great Atlantic flight has given to Frnco-American friendship.

The agreement was reached by Dempsey, Sharkey and Arthur Driscoll, Dempsey's attorney.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The capital city is all of a-twitter over rumors that Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter has contracted a case of presidential rabies.

The local local of the Political Wiseacres union, at its bi-weekly meeting, voted almost unanimously that there were grounds for such a rumor and the rumor was promptly promulgated with a union label.

Hardly any other contsruction, it is generally agreed, can be placed upon Senator McWhorter's ringing declaration of war against calf's foot jelly.

Senator McWhorter came out flat-footedly. He denounced calf's-fot jelly in such scathing terms that he stamped himself as one of the most advanced drys in public life.

When the nation first heard of Senator McWhorter's opposition to calf's foot jelly, the question was at once asked why Senator McWhorter didn't direct his ammunition against pickled pigs feet. Many substantial persons expressed the opinion that pickled pig's feet should be abolished first and that calf's foot jelly could wait. Senator McWhorter, however, soon enlightened them in the following public statement:

"After copious research and consultatio nwith the best authorities, I believe it is now fitting to declare myself upon one of the gravest issues that confronts our times.

"What is it that wiggles today like a great octopus luring our children to their destruction? What insidious institution guides them out upon the primrose path which leads first to the speakeasy, then to the gutter and then to the grave?

"What wolf in sheep's clothing leers at them under the guise of harmless delicacy and beckons them toward the debauch of Backus?

"You will be astounded, my good people, when I tell you that I refer to none other than calf's foot jelly — the great menace which now confronts not only our youth but many of our silly growups who believe that they can play with fire and still not be singed or worse.

"I take this opportunity to make solemn vow, by every principle which I hold dear, to let not the grass grow under my feet until this smelly jelly is all shipped back to Moscow, where it belongs."

McWhorter, pressed further about his calf's-foot jelly campaign, announced that he would attempt to rally the school children of the country behind him.

"I have made up a little couplet —a sort of a pledge—for them to recie," he explained. "It goes like this:

"'No calf's-foot jelly
"'Goes in my stomach'."

"But, Senaor McWhorter," spoke up your correspondent, hopefully, "that doesn't rhyme."

"Buy Newcom's Big N Mash."

ORDER INQUEST IN DROWNING DEATHS

BURBANK, June 22.—An inquest is scheduled to be held here today into the drowning of Will Berrig, 15, and Francis Snyder, 11, the aftermath of an apple fight on Toluca lake, in which others escaped death.

Betty Lohman, 14, is the heroine of the episore, having saved Will Gill, from the fate of two of his companions. Robert Snyder and Frank Parks were the other participants in the "naval battle" who escaped death.

Members of the party in two boats had taken aboard a load of apples from a three overhanding the lake. It was suggested that they stage a battle and in the fight one of the boats was tipped over, the other being overturned when occupants of the first boat sought to save themselves by climbing into it.

Berrig, whose parents are visiting here from Oklahoma, and Francis Snyder were unable to swim. The girl managed to reach short with young Gill and the others saved themselves.

New Delay Seen In Chaplin Case

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Lita Grey Chaplin's answer to Charlie Chaplin's cross-complaint for divorce, which was scheduled to be filed by tomorrow, may not be completed, Edwin T. McMurray, attorney for the girl-wife, intimated today.

In the event that the answer, which has been under preparation for several weeks, is not completed, another extension of time will be asked, McMurray said.

Reports that negotiations were under way to bring about a settlement of the case out of court were branded by McMurray as false.

No Encouragement For Span Proposal

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Naval heads today gave no encouragement to an official San Francisco delegation asking withdrawal of the navy's objections to a bridge across San Francisco bay, north of Hunter's point. It was partly at the navy's suggestion that the war department barred a bridge north of that point and today's development was regarded as a severe blow to San Francisco's hopes.

The men fled after overpowering two guards, according to meager reports here. All telephone wires to the prison farm were cut.

Thirty-five prisoners escaped, but eight of them were recaptured shortly after.

It is believed the guards were uninjured. Local authorities could give no details of the affair.

It is believed Ed Crowder, serving 40 years for a day-light bank robbery, was the ringleader of the affair. Crowder is among the missing and is credited with plotting two breaks previously.

The break last night was apparently a well organized affair. Saws smuggled into the farm, were found abandoned near the scene.

Several guards were overpowered by the prisoners in their break. They were left trussed up, but uninjured. The men made their way through windows of the sleeping quarters on the farm. A guard was waylaid and captured. The men then fled to the river bottoms, where they have lost themselves along the Trinity's banks.

4 Are Sought In Alleged Gun Plot

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Former general of the Mexican army and three members of his staff were being sought today by federal agents here in connection with an asserted $3,000,000 gun-running plot, uncovered when a munition caravan was seized north of Santa Barbara Saturday.

The four suspects, it was learned from authentic sources, were located in a house in this city, but made their escape, following the capture of thousands of rounds of ammunition and machine guns and the arrest of four men, including a sea captain.

The former general is alleged to have purchased the munitions from John B. Mannerstan, of the Pacific Arms company, of San Francisco, federal agents charging that the arms were to have been shipped to the Mexican state of Sinaloa on the coast of Mexico.

Flyer Will Meet Department Heads

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Charles Lindbergh's proposed Washington visit is designed to give the army, navy and commerce department air chiefs the advantage of his views on European aviation and to assist him, if he desires, in making plans for his future. This developed here today following word from St. Louis that he proposed to fly to the capital.

VANGUARD OF ENDEAVORERS ARRIVE HERE

The vanguard of the host of delegates and visitors expected to come here from all parts of the state for the fortieth annual convention of the California Christian Endeavor Union, began to arrive early today. They were in evidence at the hotels, where proprietors were well satisfied with advance reservations, and in the streets where windshield stickers indicate that a large number had come in their automobiles.

The Pacific Electric and the Motor Transit stages reported an appreciable increase in the inbound travel, but expected the rush to set in Friday, Saturday and Sunday. If necessary, it was explained, extra equipment will be added on all transportation lines.

Following are the registrations at St. Ann's Inn, headquarters hotel of the convention

State delegation: Edna Calhoun, Enez Center, Mrs. Chester Rudy, Ruth Rowlands, Reis Drehl, Mabel Culter, Altie Kembal, Madeline Ripley, A. H. A WORD OF COMFORT

When you can see better you will quickly become stronger. You stumble and blunder now because the way seems so dark, and uncertainty regarding your next step "gets on your nerves." Do not expect to understand all at once.. Indeed, you must not count upon knowing on this earth why sorrow and grief have come to any and all of us. But if you walk quietly forward, determined to do your best, you will learn what God can do for you and your path will become clear.

LONG BEACH—Plans and specifications for the Long Beach assembly plant of the Ford Motor company have arrived in Long Beach. They were brought here by B. W. Burroughs, assistant manager of the Los Angeles plant with the formal call for bids which will be opened July 15 at noon at the Detroit offices. Mr. Burroughs delivered one set of plans and specifications to C. T. McGrew & Sons, who wil bid on a portion of the big plant, the cost of which it is estimated will run close to $5,000,000. Contracts are expected to be let before August 1, with completion to be guaranteed within ten months from date of contract. The plans and specifications are drawn by Albert Kahn, Inc., architects of Detroit, and the bids will be opened in the office of B R. Brown, chief field engineer for the Ford Motor company. Mr. Burroughs told City Manager Charles S. Henderson and Assistant Manager G. L. Buck that approximately 100 sets of these plans and specifications will be distributed to prospective bidders over the country.

EL CENTRO—Ater a week of inspection in Imperial valley tomato and squash fields, W. H. Gourley, representing the state board of health, and B. S. Winslow of the federal bureau of chemistry, issued a statement in which they declared that consumers of these valley products need have no fear of arsenic poisoning. Gourley and Winslow came here as a part of an investigation to determine the source of several cases of arsenic poisoning reported in Los Angeles. Officials suspected that the poison may come from vegetable gardens where it was used to kill cut worms. The inspectors stated that so far as they could learn, no arsenic has been used in the gardens in Imperial valley this year, and that there was no evidence of it on the products being shipped out.

SAN BERNARDINO—Organization of the county fire fighting forces will be completed this week with the installation of the lookout on the summit of Little Mountain, Forester R. M. Tuttle announced yesterday. Last year, the first in which the lookout was established, the Little Mountain lookout station amply proved its value in the detection of fires, according to Forester Tuttle. Dozens of fires within the boundaries of San Bernardino county were halted by the prompt wor kof the lookout, and in addition, several blazes in Riverside county were perceived from Little Mountain. Patrolmen have ben established at the Santa Ana and Cucamonga canyons as a part of the county forestry department's co-operation with the federal forest service in the most rigid fire prevention program ever launched here.

OWENSMOUTH — The Owensmouth Builders' association, headed by A. H. Tanguay, has been awarded the contract for the rebuilding of the mammoth Faulkner egg-processing plant in the Van Nuys district. The work will be under the supervision of Thomas Bateman. The plant was destroyed by fire about three weeks ago. It was one of the largest of its kind in the Los Angeles district, having 3600 square feet of space with a capacity of handling thousands of cases of eggs at a time. Its construction will have an important influence on the egg market of San Fernando valley poultrymen. Most of the large amount of eggs processed at the plant have been shipped in carload lots to markets in the East and Middle West.

$600 IN FINES PAID BY GUN CLUBS TUESDAY

The prosecution of the gun clubs for alleged waste of water from artesian wells on their premises in Orange county was officially closed, yesterday, when $600 in fines were paid to Justice Kenneth E. Morrison.

The Blue Wing Shooting club and the West Shore Gun club, whose cases provided successful tests of the law against waste of water, each paid a fine of $300 which had been assessed against them in justice court following their convictions by juries last year.

Between the trials and convictions and the payment of the fine was waged a fight by the gun clubs to upset the verdicts on appeal to superior court. The appeals were heard by Superior Judge Homer G. Ames early this year. Judge Ames filed his opinion a few weeks ago, sustaining the justice court convictions.

Attorney L. A. West of Santa Ana, who represented the gun clubs, deposited $600 with Justice Morrison yesterday.

TO PRINT BOOKS ON INTERNATIONAL LAW

BERLIN, June 22.—Five large volumes dealing with questoins of international law during and after the war are about to be published by the third research subcommittee of the Reichstag.

The subjects treated include the violation of Greek neutrality, the devastations of northern France, during the German retreats of 1917 and 1918, gas warfare, the U-boat campaign, and th edeportation of civilian laborers from Belgium to Germany, and from Alsace-Lorraine to France.

The violation of Belgian neutrality is, however, not discussed on the ground that such a discussion demands the exposition of the political events connected with the outbreak of the war. The first subcommittee is still at work on this exposition, and the third subcommittee will not proceed to consider the Belgian neutrality question until the first committee's decisions are published.

Verona's Citizens Frown On Flapper

MILAN, June 22.—Fair Verona aspires to pass to posterity as Verona the Puritan. After a crusade against blasphemy she is now starting a campagin against immodest female fashions. The members of the committee—practically the same as that for the blasphemy crusade—are the Prefect, the Podesta, the Archbishop, the secretary of the local Fascio, artists and writers. Al lthese gentlemen of Verona, like Sampson in Romeo and Juliet, after having "fought with the men," "will be cruel with the maids." They will, that is, show no mercy for short skirts, sleeveless dresses, and so on.

Longevity Is On Increase, Claim

BERLIN, June 22.—By 1965 Germany will have double the number of old men and wome nabove 65 years of age that it has today, according to the German census bureau.

Today there are about three and a half million persons in Germany whose age is above 65. The census dopesters have it that this number will reach almost seven millions by 1965, and eight and a quarter millions by 1975.

Rudeness Is Cure For Social Ills, Novelist Claims

LONDON, June 22.—Rudeness is the cure for a lot of the world's social ills, in the view of Wyndham Lewis, the novelist.

Society would immediately assume much more definite and interesting patterns, he believes, if people were to become more frank.

"If you find a person distasteful to you, be rude to him whenever you meet him and do not refer to him as 'my friend so-and-so,' " Lewis suggests. "Other people will then begin to refer to you both at the 'enemies so-and-so.' "

Lewis thinks the word "enemy" has been confined too largely to military operations and favors restoring its use frankly to the "sapping and mining operations which take place in drawing rooms as well as elsewhere."

Yorkshire Scion Does Penance In Feudal Ceremony

LONDON, June 22.—A quaint survival of the vanished feudal system was staged at Whitby, Yorkshire, on the eve of Ascension day, when the scion of the Alatson family of Fyling Dale, summoned by a horn blown by a representative of Lord Whitby of the Abbey Manor, planted penitential hedge stakes at the waterside.

The penitential ceremony dates back to Norman times when three wild young barons while hunting killed a hermit in whose cell a fox had taken sanctuary. They were forced to do penance themselves and their heirs after them forever.

Parisian Waiters Must Be Linguists

PARIS, June 22.—The would-be waiter in a certain tourist-frequented cafe must now be able to "offer" two foreign languages in order to "matriculate" into his job.

A recent convocation of candidates for the highly tipped positions resulted in the elimination of two-thirds, because they knew no English, German or Spanish.

The cafe in question insists that its waiters understand and speak a fair amount of English, to begin with. For the second required tongue, they may elect either the Teutonic or the Iberian.

"Pretty soon the cafe proprietors will be demanding bachelors' degrees for their uniformed help," is the indignant comment of one newspaper. "To be sure, waiters nowadays earn considerably more than professors."

success. It is merely that selection made under such difficulties is liable to pick inherently abler men.

THE Russians hint that if America will not recognize Russia, it will get the trade which Britain has lost.

It will doubtless get it anyway. We already had more Russian trade than Germany and Britain combined. though they had extended recognition and we had not. Whatever is now diverted from the British, by the retaliatory boycott, will almost automatically go to America, since we have much the same things to sell, at about the same prices.

There are strong reasons, why when it becomes otherwise possible, the recognition of the Russian government by America will be an advantage to both countries. It would be one of the strongest forces to de-bolshevize Russia. When the Bolsheviks fail to secure the capital now which they need from America, they can hide behind a political excuse to explain their failure. Remove that excuse, and they would have to bargain with the capitalists, for capital, on terms which would get it. They would then learn something by experience to upset all their theories.

But, of all times, the present is the worst, to consider political recognition. We might very well cooperate with the rest of the world in dealing constructively with Russia. To make a recognition agreement now would be on the contrary, to be used by Russia destructively against the rest of the world. That is exactly the last game we should play.

Novelists make Monte Carlo a favorite scene for murders and mysteries, but as a matter of fact the couts there have had to deal with only one murder case in 20 years.

YOUNG BANDIT FOUND GUILTY IN TRAIN CASE

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., June 22.—Hugh D'Autremont, 23-year-old youth, who was accused of assisting his brothers in the dynamiting of a train in which four men were killed, today faced the prospect of spending the rest of his life in prison. The jury in the trial of the youth bandit last night found him guilty of first degree murder after deliberating one hour and 24 minutes, but recommended life imprisonment as the punishment.

The verdict was reached while Roy and Ray D'Autremont, elder twin brothers of Hugh, were being arraigned on charges of participating in the holdup and dynamiting of the Southern Pacific "Gold Special" in Siskiyou tunnel, Oct. 11, 1923.

The three brothers were indicted jointly on charges of killing four men and on federal charges of attempted train robbery.

Hugh was captured in Manila early this year. He was serving in the U. S. army.

Ray and Roy were arrested in Steubenville, O., a few days ago, and were returned yesterday to Jackson county, near the scene of their alleged crime.

The two brother had just finished pleading not guilty, speaking in firm voices, when the verdict against their young brother—"the kid"—was announced.

The composure which has been the subject of much comment during the murder trial did not desert Hugh. He glanced down at his neatly pressed trousers and then looked squarely at the jury. He did not betray emotion of any sort.

Paul D'Autremont, Eugene, Ore., barber, and Mrs. Belle D'Autremont, Lakewood, N. M., were at Hugh's side when the verdict was read. Mrs. D'Autremont lowered her head and tears came into her eyes. The father stared straight ahead at the wall.

Under this verdict the judge must pass a sentence of life imprisonment. Judge C. M. Thomas did not fix the date for passing sentence, but until that time Hugh will be held in jail here.

Although no announcement has been made, it was presumed that a motion will be made for a retrial.

An affidavit of prejudice against Circuit Judge C. M. Thomas, objecting to his presiding over the murder trial of Ray and Roy D'Autremont, was filed by defense attorneys here today.

Judge Thomas officiated at the trial of Hugh, the younger D'Autremont who was convicted of first degree murder on charges of aiding his elder twin brothers in the dynamiting of a train and killing four men in Siskiyou Tunnel, October 11, 1923.

Under Oregon law there is no choice in the matter. A new judge must be called.

BAND PLAYS AT WEDDING

A brass band played the wedding march and 1000 people looked on when Capt. W. A. Tyler, 99, and Mrs. Martha Jellison, 70, were wed at the Illinois Soldiers' home, at Quincy. Captain Tyler was with Major Anderson at Fort Sumter.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF OLD TIMERS TO BE SUNDAY

"Old Timers" from far and near are preparing for their annual picnic, scheduled for next Sunday in the Orange county park.

Notices sent to former residents of the county who are numbered among the "old timers" have traveled as far north as Sacramento and east into Arizona, it was learned from District Attorney Z. B. West jr., who is secretary of the organization. Approximately 200 such notices were sent outside the county, West said.

A section of the park will be reserved for the picnic, by order of the county board of supervisors, it is said, and Sheriff Sam Jernigan is preparing to have patrols on hand to enforce the board's order.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

GEORGE T. CAMERON OF THE SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, SAYS:

THAT did you ever stop to think that when the days come when you shall measure your achievement in this world that the kindly helping hand to others, that the good deeds done will be the reward for your life's work? All that you have of worldly gain you must leave behind that others might enjoy it.

Give this some thought in your daily toil, and as power and wealth accumulate, deal softly with those less fortunate, help those who need help as others would have helped you did you need it.

GIVE TO THEM SOME OF THAT WHICH IS YOURS EACH DAY, STEPPING CONTENTEDLY INTO OLD AGE WITH LIFE'S WORK WELL DONE.

June Bride Extended Welcome to Family Of Bridegroom

Extending a gracious welcome to the bride of their son and brother, Jack Fisher, Mrs. J. A. Fisher and Miss Lydia Fisher of 203 South Main street, yesterday entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon at which Mrs. Jack Fisher (Frances Baker) was honor guest.

Immediate relatives were bidden to greet the charming young woman, and bid her welcome to the family circle as the bride of the soldier hero whom they all adore. The wedding of Mr. Fisher and Miss Baker was an event of June 8, the young people leaving at once for a honeymoon in San Diego.

At yesterday's party in the bride's honor, luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, with the guests seated at two beautifully appointed tables in the dining-room. Flowers in pink and yellow tints adorned each table and the color scheme thus established, was apparent in nut cups and other pretty appointments.

Place cards were written for the hostesses, Mrs. J. A. Fisher and Miss Lydia Fisher, and their honoree, Mrs. Jack Fisher, the latter's mother and sister, Mrs. E. S. Baker and Mrs. Howard Turner, Mrs. Chester H. Dye of Alhambra, and her adorable baby daughter, Barbara Jeanne, Mrs. Frank Heemstra of Buena Park, Mrs. John C. Kuyper of Orange, Mrs. John Heemstra, Mrs. Minnie Corson, Mrs. Charles Heemstra, Mrs. L. F. Davis, Mrs. Ben Heemstra, Miss Lydia Heemstra, Miss Margaret Heemstra and Miss Elizabeth Heemstra of this city.

The lively conversation of the afternoon hours, was interrupted to the surprise of the junior Mrs. Fisher who suddenly found herself generously showered with all manner of lovely gifts presented her by her new relatives for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will occupy the family home of the Bakers at 719 Spurgeon street, for the summer months, while the other members of the bride's family go to their cottage at Laguna Beach.

MUSIC RECITAL

Mildred Marchant

Tustin high school auditorium was the scene of an interesting musical event last night, when Miss Mildred Marchant presented a group of pupils in piano and artistic whistling, aided by Miss Lorena Croddy and Miss Laura Joiner, vocalists.

The greater part of the program was given over to piano numbers in which two piano solos and duet work were presented by the young people who included Ruth Coad, Edgar Pankey, Samuel Marchant, Gertrude Pollard, Wilma Hatch, Muriel Lambert, Lucile Hatch, Harold Mathews and Alta Fisher, piano, and Eloise Bradley and Irene Catland, whistling.

Miss Coad and Miss Marchant presented a two-piano number, "Sonatina in C" by Clementi; "March of the Turks" by Wilson was a piano duet played by Wilma Hatch and Muriel Lambert while Alta Fisher and Miss Marchant gave two piano duos, "Andante" by Chaminade and "Allegro Brilliante" by Low.

"Barcarolle" from "Tales of Hoffman" by Offenbach was sung by the Misses Croddy and Joiner for their first number, and later on the program, they sang "Oh, No John," a quaint folk-song, to which their clever costumes and acting added greatly.

In the whistling numbers, Miss Irene Catland offered "At Dawn" by Nevin and "Schon Rosmarin" by Kreisler, both beautifully done, and ten-year-old Eloise Bradley was like a cherry redbird, in her frilled little frock of American beauty, as she sweetly whistled "To the Stars" by Gronow and "Pale Moon" by Logan.

Miss Wilma Hatch's interpretation of a group of three numbers, "Scherzo" by Armond, "Valse Gracieuse" by Loeschorn, and "Happy Childhood" by Schytte, was especially interesting to the audience, for Miss Marchant awarded her the piano certificate from the Los Angeles Conservatory (with which Miss Marchant is affiliated.) She also presented her a conservatory banner for having achieved an average grade of 95 per cent.

Miss Alta Fisher is another of the group, of pupils who holds this certificate and several others are working for it. Miss Fisher's renderings of "Impromptu in C Sharp Minor" by Rheinhold and Chopin's "Military Polonaise" were especially brilliant.

Queena Crane Kling

Presenting two of her talented young pupils, Madeline Morilla and Clifford Haskell, Queena Crane Kling last night greeted many friends and music lovers at the Foster-Barker Music company where the recital was held.

The two young piano students were assisted by Lucille Ireland and Marion Nau, violinists. Programs distributed among the guests, gave the list of compositions to be played. The room was made very attractive with many baskets of gladioli and other summer flowers.

The program opened with a duet, "Among Friends" by Spaulding, played by Miss Madeline and Clifford, and later in the evening the two, with Mrs. Kling offered the trio "Marche des Aviateurs" by Pierre Le Pre.

Miss Madeline's numbers included "Scarf Dance" by Chaminade, "To the Rising Sun" by Torgussen, "Gypsy Rondo" by Haydn, and "Valse Caprice" by Newlands.

Clifford played "Apple Blossoms," Opous 230, by Dehmler, "Whispering Palms" by Lieurance, "Menuetto" by Schubert and "Charge of the Uhlans" by Bohm.

Violin numbers played were "Ave Marie" by Bach-Gounod, Lucille Ireland, and "Concerto" by Mozart, played by Marion Nau.

MISS EUNICE JONES WEDDED IN LOVELY GARDEN SETTING

In a lovely garden where flowers bloomed and birds sang, Miss Rose Eunice Jones of this city and the Rev. Howard Strickland of Ventura spoke their wedding vows Sunday afternoon, surrounded by their relatives and closer friends, who gathered at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. A. Jones, 1401 Bush street. The ceremony was just at that loveliest time of the day when the declining sun sends long shadows across the grass, and music added the final touch of romance and beauty to the hour.

As the guests assembled, they were shown to the big arbor at one side of the garden. They gazed upon a scene in which nature had been aided by art, until the green and golden background of orange trees had the added panoply of stately ferns nodding in tall pedestals.

Musical Program

Near a screen of the ferns, Miss Ruth Oakes played her big golden harp, its soft notes sounding in "At Dawning." She followed this with the accompaniment for James Nuckoll's solo, "Because" and after a brief prayer by the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial church, South, played the beautiful setting to Sidney Lanier's poem, "The Life Road" which James E. Hughes sang as a solo. "The Life Road" amounts to a tradition in the Jones family, and is always sung at the wedding of a member.

It was the strains of Lohengrin, wafted from the harp, that the bridal party entered the garden. The officiating clergymen, Dr. Charles D. Bulla, presiding elder of the Los Angeles district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and the Rev. Mr. Rhodes of the local church, stepped from where they stood among the guests, and took their places at the improvised altear of ferns. There they were joined by Mr. Strickland and his best man, T. W. Grant of Redlands, brother-in-law of the bride, who entered from the north side of the garden.

Bride's Attendants

From the opposite side, through an arched gateway in the lattice, entered the bride and her bevy of attendants, led by two pretty bridesmaids, the Misses Shirley Ann Obarr and Priscilla Ann Jones, charming litle nieces of the bride, wearing frilly white organdy over silken slips, pink for one and green for the other. Each carried a quaint colonial cluster of flowers.

Mrs. Howard Pattee of Pasadena, formerly Miss Ruth Schroeder, as matron of honor, came next, clad in pale green organdy in basque effect with panniers of white organdy hand-painted in rose design. A band of pale green encircled her head, and she carried pink Columbia roses and orchid sweet peas.

Miss Vena Jones attended her sister as honor maid, and wore pink organdy also in basque effect with puffed sleeves and myriads of ruffles on the voluminous skirt. Her flowers were the same as those carried by the matron of honor. Her head band was of pink the color of her frock.

Little four-year-old Mary-Willeigh Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hunter, was the dainty flower maiden, wearing a lacy frock of pale pink, and scattering rose petals from a small basket twined with pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

Miss Jones entered the garden o nthe arm of her brother, George L. Jones, by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown was of soft satin-back crepe, and she too followed the quaint styles set by the attendants, with a close-fitting bodice and very full, scalloped skirt appliqued in flowers with gold thread. She wore heavily looped seed pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The long veil which fell from a wreath of orange blossoms and was caught at intervals with small clusters of the flowers, was that first worn by her sister, Mary Addie Jones, when she became Mrs. T. W. Grant.

During the impressive double ring ceremony, Miss Oakes played a selection of bridal airs.

After the final vows had been taken and The Rev. Mr. Strickland and his bride had received the good wishes of their friends, wedding refreshments were served by a little group of close friends, Miss Rebecca Oglesby, Miss Eleanor Widney of Glendale, Mrs. James E. Hughes, and Miss Mildred Spicer.

Mr. and Mrs. Strickland soon left for a motor honeymoon most of which will be spent in the mountains. For traveling, the bride chose a smart costume of frock and short coat in monkey-cloth with hat, shoes, gloves and handbag to harmonize.

They will make their home in Ventura where Mr. Strickland is pastor of St. John's Methodist Episcopal church. He had his theological training at the Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, and entered the Arizona ministry of Methodism in 1921. He was later transferred to California and last year was stationed at Merced, coming to Ventura this year. He built the Methodist church at Miami, Ariz. He is a World war veteran and was with the army of occupation in France and is a medalist from the two battles in the San Mihiel sector. Prior to the war, he traveled extensively in England, Germany, Italy, Russia, Egypt, India and Africa.

His bride is popular in a large circle of friends here where she spent her childhood and girlhood, graduating from the Santa Ana high school and later attending University of California at Los Angeles and also at Berkeley. She has taught for several years in the Santa Ana school system and has been the valued principal of the Edison school. She has also been active in church work, giving of her time and attention to affairs in Spurgeon Memorial church.

Handkerchief Shower Planned to Honor June Bride

Miss Ada Markel whose wedding to Emil Wetzel was to be solemnized today, was complimented at a charming pre-nuptial party given Monday evening by Miss Frances Hillman of 823 North Birch street.

Miss Hillman chose bridge as the entertainment of the evening, and when scores were tallied at the close of the games, Miss Helen McCann was high ard received a dainty Colonial doll pin cushion. A silk handkerchief w s consolation gift for Miss Beatrice Reilly.

The card tables were then utilized for serving refreshments, each table made attractive with linens and owers.

The showery nature of the evening developed when a gay Japanese parasol was presented to Miss Markel. When she opened it, a multitude of dainty handkerchiefs rained down upon her unsuspecting head.

Asked by Miss Hillman to enjoy the affair, were the honoree, Mis Marke., and the Misses Beatrice Reilly, Berenice Gohres, Mildred Donovan, Charlotte Fine, Cleora Fine, Agnes Lieberman, Helen Young, Margaret Young, Gertrude Hamann of Orange, Helen McCann, Catharine Markel, Virginia Vaughn, Blanche Hillman, Mrs. J. Ogden Markel (Helena Lieberman) of Ventura and Mrs. Barney Brock.

House-Guests Are Made Incentive for Gay Bridge Tea

Miss Berthena Selway entertained at the Ebell clubhouse Saturday with a beautifully appointed bridge-tea given in honor of her house-guests, Miss Florence Bouton of Waukegan, Illinois, and Miss Jeannette Hollister of Willamette, Ill., and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Francis H. Selway, formerly Miss Dorothy Holmes, whose marriage to Mr. Selway, brother of the hostess, took place May 28.

A color scheme in pastel tints was carried out with masses of lovely gladioli in the rooms, where the fourteen tables for bridge were arranged. Attractive prizes were given for high score, the first to Miss Emily Holmes, the second to Miss Viola Penman, and consolation to Miss Frances Kinney. The honor guests received gifts of exquisite lace-trimmed georgette handkerchiefs.

At tea time the gladioli colors were duplicated in table decorations, large nut baskets each of different tint centering the tables, and harmony was further shown in candles and other refreshments. The hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. H. J. Selway, Mrs. E. D. White and the Misses Katherine Sexton and Jeannette Warhurst.

Eighty invitations to the enjoyable affair were sent, and among the guests were many friends and college classmates of the hostess from all over Southern California.

Recent Bride Honored By Four Hostesses At Gift Shower

All in cherry yellow tones, were the many flowers used to adorn the home of Mrs. Charles Meier at Seventeenth street and Grand avenue, when Mrs. Meier with the Misses Eva Hey, Gertrude Thee and Amanda Thee recently presented a delightful party complimenting Mrs. Lloyd Shields, who until her May wedding was Miss Mary Lutz.

Thirty-five friends gathered for the evening devoted their time to such appropriate pursuits as writing their favorite recipes for the bride, offering her wholesale advice, and fashioning an artistic bride's book. Music too added its charm with Mrs. Albert Rohrs as the musician.

Appetizing refreshments were served in two courses, in which the yellow note of the decorations was again sounded. The outstanding event of the evening however, was the shower of desirable gifts in wide variety, which fell to the lot of Mrs. Shields.

County Shriners Plan Picnic and Dancing At County Park

Tomorrow will bring the long-anticipated outing of the Orange County Shrine club at the county park, when wearers of the red fezzes with the crescents a-top, will gather with their families for a gala occasion.

Plans made by the entertainment committee, embrace a program of sports beginning at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with prizes for those who win in the various events; dinner at 6:15 o'clock when the well-filled baskets of the merrymakers will be augmented by ice cream, punch and coffee with sugar and cream, furnished by the club; and dancing in the evening.

Of course the children will have their own program of wild races on the slides and merry-go-round of the playground, and will be prominent "among those present" at the picnic tables.

The picnic is the big June social event of the Shrine club, and follows a program of theater parties and suppers in Anaheim, Fullerton and Santa Ana, and a pavilion party at the Balboa pavilion, which was a feature of last month.

J. O. Pyle, president of the county club, has the assistance of an entertainment committee of which Charles J. Cogan is chairman, and whose 35 members are drawn from each community of the county. Santa Ana members include in addition to the chairman, Nobles Charles S. Kelley, James A. Tarpley, William J. Dean, Thomas H. Smith, Lloyd Roach, Arthur E. Bowman, Charles D. Brown, John Cloyes and Elon R. Roehm.

Informal Dance at S. A. Country Club

Everyone who attended the big spring formal at Santa Ana Country club a short time ago, will be delighted to know that the Tom Murray orchestra of Hollywood, which delighted the crowd that night, will play at the informal June dance to be held in the clubhouse Friday night of this week.

The genial Tom Murray himself will be present, and those who met him at the earlier function, give enthusiastic assurance that his presence is synonymous with a good time. He will direct feature dances and offer impersonations and all the delightful, nonsensical, diverting things of which he is so capable.

Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock, but many members are making dinner reservations for that night, and will enjoy a leisurely dinner before taking part in the evening's entertainment, Since refreshments will be a feature of the evening, F. T. McGilvray, club manager, has requested that those who plan to dance, make their reservations for that also.

OVER TWO MILLION SOLD — HALF A MILLION IN 1925-26

ROAD PROJECTS AUTHORIZED BY SUPERVISORS

Three road improvement projects, two in the Los Alamitos-Seal Beach section and one at Placentia, were authorized late yesterday by the county supervisors, who will open bids on the $102,000 program involved on July 12.

Resurfacing of Westminster boulevard between Los Alamitos boulevard and the city of Seal Beach, to be linked with a job of widening Los Alamitos boulevard from Westminster to the county line near Los Alamitos, is the biggest contract proposed. The estimated cost of the work is $73,000. With the same contract will be awarded another related improvement, that of widening the paved section of Ocean avenue, from Los Alamitos boulevard to the county line, at Coyote creek, a distance of 1.15 miles. The estimated cost of that work is $8000.

Ocean avenue and Los Alamitos boulevards will be widened four feet with Portland cement concrete, six inches thick. The improvement on Westminster boulevard covers a distance of about a mile, over which the concrete will be laid five inches thick and 20 feet wide. This section of highway was a part of the original highway system of the county, built under a county bond issue.

USE OF WORMS BY PRESIDENT IS PROTESTED

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 22.—Formal protest against use of worms by Mr. Coolidge and members of the presidential party in fishing for trout was made at the summer White House today by Edward G. Taylor, who claimed to represent the Izaak Walton league, National Conservation association.

"Use of worms is slaughter," Taylor, who is also a Chicago newspaperman, said. "The idea of our league is to promote sportsmanship and the president should use barbless hooks and flies so that all the fish he does not use can be thrown back into the stream."

Taylor was unable to see the president and presented the protest to the president's secretary, Everett Saunders.

Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the house, who recently toured the Philippines and Hawaiian islands, will arrive tonight to be a guest of the president, it was announced at the executive offices. Tilson is coming by automobile with Representative and Mrs. Winters, Republican, Wyoming.

Searchers for proof that America is still a democracy should come to Rapid City.

They will find the A. and F. restaurant right across the street from the cigar store that has a wooden Indian out in front of it.

Entering at the lunch hour, they can see perhaps the secretary to the president of the United States sitting on the lunch counter stool, eating with satisfaction a chop or a steak, with a cowboy beside him equally at ease.

Men who have the entree to every pink tea and diplomatic dinner in Washington will be found rubbing elbows with the farmers and the cattle men, and no questions asked.

E. T. Clark, personal secretary to the president; James C. White, secretary of the Republican National committee; Colonel Winship, personal military aide of President Coolidge, and Maj. James F. Coupal, the president's personal physician, for instance, have made the A. and F. their eating place.

n "Fairland" dance hall, up over the milk depot, others of more or less scoial prominence from Washington dance with the mayor's daughter, alongside waitresses dancing with soldiers from the encampment nearby.

Even some of the heavy bonds of social distinction which guard a president have been dropped by Mr. Coolidge, there being considerably less formality about all his activities than was usual at the White House in Washington.

For instance today he permitted his housekeeper to come in to the Rapid City bank in a White House car.

Court Notes

Asks Divorce

Wilful neglect and failure to provide is charged by Mrs. Martha L. Lindquist in a divorce suit just filed in superior court against O. B. Lindquist. They were married in Grand Forks, North Dakota, in 122 and separated last May 1. Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus represent the plaintiff.

To Quiet Title

Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Morrow, Santa Ana, have filed suit in superior court against A. E. Clary and others to quiet title to three lots at Arch Beach. The Morrows filed a similar action, involving 16 lots, against the Evening Herald Publishing company and other defendants.

Bonds Sold

The bid of the First National bank of Anaheim, which included a premium of $1328, was accepted by the county supervisors late yesterday for the $34,000 bond issue recently voted by Buena Park school district.

Five bids were received, the other premiums offered being: Bayle Brothers, $12; Pierce-Fair company, $1047; Alvin H. Frank company, $1002.80; U. S. National bank, $976.

Federal Officers Arrest One Here

Federal prohibition officers last night arrested E. O. Spitzer, 42, residing near Westminster, and are holding him in the county jail on a charge of violation of the national prohibition act.

Officers McKague and Holland made the arrest. Officers at the county jail here said that Spitzer was alleged to have had a small still in his possession.

RACED OFFICER 7 MONTHS AGO: GETS 10 DAYS

Last October, Elihu Clark, 18, 4224 South Budlong avenue, Los Angeles, raced with a motor cop on the Irvine boulevard. Today he is in the county jail "doin' time" for his crime.

Clark was arrested in Los Angeles, at his home, last night, by F. G. Yoder, state traffic officer, and today before Judge Kenneth Morrison was charged with speeding 58 miles an hour and failure to appear. Pleading guilty to both charges, Judge Morrison sentenced him to jail for five days on each charge.

Clark is alleged to have been racing with Walter Meyer, state officer, along the Irvine boulevard at the time of his original arrest.

A search for the missing motorist who "forgot" to appear on the charge had been made by officers here for the past seven months, it was said.

PEAR GROWERS TO POOL THEIR FRUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—The California Pear Growers' association will form a pool and fix prices of pears to be asked of canneries this year, it was decided at a meeting of the association yesterday.

Directors were to fix the prices late yesterday, but it was generally believed that the procies for Number 1 grade will average about $50 a ton. The price opened last year at $40 and in 1925 was $80.

The crop is slightly under normal and the canned stock has been moved so an increase over last year will be demanded, according to the growers.

It was estimated that 160,000 tons of Bartlett pears will be canned in the state this year, which is about 75 per cent of California's entire pear crop.

BAY CITY FLYERS PREPARE FOR HOP

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Announcement was made yesterday by Edmund J. Moffett, flight backer, that Pilot Ernest J. Smith and Capt. C. H. Carter, his navigator, will be ready to hop off for Honolulu early next week.

A corps of expert mechanics is working night and day rebuilding the big Travelair six-passenger monoplane and installing a J 5 Wright whirlwind motor.

Every effort to speed up the flight is being made, according to Moffett, because they want to be the first to span the Pacific. If another plane makes the flight first their projected attempt will be abandoned, he said.

U. B. ENDEAVOR DELEGATES AT CONCLAVE HERE

Delegates attending the state convention of the United Brethren Christian Endeavor societies were holding their sessions today, apart from the big state conference. By coincidence, the two conventions are being held in Santa Ana the same week.

The sessions of the United Brethren convention opened yesterday and were to be adjourned tonight. The delegates will be in the city to attend the state-wide undenominational sessions for the rest of the week. About 75 delegates from sections of the state are here for the United Brethren convention, it was learned from the Rev. Logan Harter, pastor of the Santa Ana United Brethren church where the headquarters are located.

At the meetings yesterday the delegates were welcomed to Santa Ana. The opening sessions were presided over by Fred Tietjen, vice president of the state society.

An open forum on the subject, "The Best Thing Our Society Has Done This Year," was conducted yesterday afternoon.

The Rev. T. W. Ringland, conference superintendent, gave an inspirational address on the topic, "Accepting Christ," at the afternoon sessions. Athletic diversion was provided during the evening. The night session was devoted to pageants and music with the principal speech being given by Fred Tietjen.

Today, the sessions were presided over by the Rev. Everett Johnson, branch president. The inspirational address this morning was given by Howard L. Brown, state field secretary. He spoke on "Fidelity to Christ." Discussions and business meeting completed the morning session.

This afternoon the closing sessions of the conference were in progress. A round table discussion on all phases of Christian Endeavor work with the view of improving its influence was to be held. The concluding event of the convention was to be an automobile caravan to Orange County park with a picnic supper at 5:30 o'clock. The return to Santa Ana was to be made in time to attend the opening session of the state C. E. conference this evening.

Officers Called To Hermon Home

Sheriff's officers last night were called to the home of J. K. Hermon, Santa Ana banker, who resides on Lemon Heights, to search for burglars, reported seen in the house. After an hour's search the officers returned without finding the thieves. They termed the call a "false alarm."

The Hermons are in New York at present. The call came from J. C. Hill, an employe of Hermon, who reported that he saw lights in the closed home. Officers found several lights burning, but an investigation proved that nothing was taken and that the house had not been entered, they said.

Officers Flower, Knight and Howard answered the call.

SHERIFF OPENS DRIVE AGAINST FRUIT THIEVES

Sheriff's officers today launched a drive against a ring of fruit thieves reported in operation in and near La Habra, following reports that wholesale fruit thefts had been committed during the past three weeks.

J. A. Chenning, manager of the La Habra Citrus association, told officers yesterday that three truck loads of oranges had been stolen from the La Habra district during the past few days.

The Rose Hodson ranch on East Central avenue, La Habra, and the Otis ranch, near La Habra, were recently robbed, Chenning reported.

According to an investigation already made, the mode of operation is for three men on a truck to drive past the orange grove to be robbed. One man hops off the truck and sizes up the field and determines whether he is being watched, while the other two drive down the road and turn around. When they return, if the first man reports the field "ready," the truck is driven into the grove and the three men rob the trees.

The picking is done at random and only a small number of oranges are taken from each tree. Officers said that the groves that had been robbed lost from 50 to 75 boxes of oranges each.

Several clues are being run down at present by sheriff's officers, according to F. W. Howard, deputy sheriff working on the case.

ARIEL DESIGNS PRINTED FROM LINOLEUM CUTS

Art designs in the Santa Ana high school Ariel were printed from linoleum blocks cut by the members of the art staff, according to Miss Abby Chapman, art advisor. The work is declared to be quite unique, illustrating the theme of the Shakespearean play, "The Tempest" and especially the little sprite, Ariel, one of the characters.

The annual was printed in the Santa Ana high school print shop.

When the art staff, of which Miss Lucille Lowell is editor, resorted to cutting the art designs out of linoleum blocks, they were harking back to the earliest printing methods when Gutenberg, the first printer cut letters from blocks of wood, it was pointed out. The linoleum block has been found better than wood or the old methods might still be in force.

Intricate designs of remarkable technique have been carved in the linoleum blocks by the students. Full page inserts for each section of the book were made in this manner.

WOMEN FACING TERM IN JAIL FOR SPEEDING

Two women face jail terms in the county bastile on speeding charges, when they come into Justice Kenneth Morrison's court Friday morning to answer to tickets given them on the road, records in the office of the Orange county state traffic office revealed today.

Mrs. Sally Schachner, 2910 West Eighth street, Los Angeles, was arrested on June 19, on the Irvine boulevard, charged with speeding 60 miles an hour, reckless driving and cutting in on another machine. She was arrested by Ole Buer, state traffic officer.

Mrs. Glen E. Spriggs, 228 West Robinson street, San Diego, is scheduled to appear to answer to a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour on the Irvine boulevard. She was arrested by Walter Meyer, state traffic officer.

Justice Kenneth Morrison usually gives out jail sentences to persons convicted of speeding 50 miles an hour or faster.

"MODEL HOME" TO BE OPENED THIS EVENING

Twenty-one Santa Ana business houses who are enthusiastic exhibitors in the model home demonstration which opens at 2370 Riverside Drive, tonight, have installed the last bit of household equipment and put the finishing touches to the handsome six-room residence which is to be opened as an example of the most desirable in average American homes of the modern age.

When the doors of the model home are opened at 7 p. m., it is expected that an even thousand people, a goodly part of whom are interested in home building and home furnishing, will pass through the dwelling.

The home itself is complete in its furnishings from the living room to the back porch and on to the garage where Essex and Hudson automobiles will be displayed by the Clark Motor Sales company.

One of the newest exhibitors is the Wurlitzer Music Company, Santa Ana's newest music house, which is installing one of the newest type grand pianos and a phonograph.

Through the courtesy of Hill and Son an electrically operated Kelvinator of the latest type, in keeping with the price of the home and its furnishings, has been installed.

Entertaining visiting guests with music and programs will be the Radiola "30" radio set displayed by W. B. Ashford of the Radio Den.

Tonight marks the initial opening of the model home. It will be open to the public every afternoon and evening for eight days.

While Harry Ball, Santa Ana realtor, has the exclusive listing on the model home property, it is owned by Honer, Herzig and Farney.

Of green stucco, in a setting of orange groves, walnut trees and shrubbery, the Model Home embraces six large rooms, the kitchen and bath roomy and large, hardwood floors throughout the rest of the house, many large windows and walls exquisitely finished.

Bedrooms, of which there are three, are large and airy with commodious closets. The garage is conveniently located within a dozen steps from the side entrance to the home.

Furnishings and equipment in the model home are of the highest type available—luxurious, though economical overstuffed furniture—and other features in keeping with the uniformly high character of the dwelling.

Visit the model home tonight—or any night or afternoon until Thursday of next week. You will be interested in the singular beauty and convenience throughout the home.

Garage, Storeroom Destroyed By Fire

Fire, thought to have started from an electric spark in a gasoline tank, completely destroyed the California Petroleum corporation's garage and storeroom at Huntington Beach at 5:30 a. m., today.

Seven automobiles and a truck were destroyed in the fire, together with a large number of tires and automobile accessories, it was said.

Workmen for the company had just started work today when they discovered the flames, which spread so quickly that the fire was out of control before any effort could be made to extinguish it.

The garage and storeroom were located at the intersection of Yorktown and Delaware streets.

SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOLS OPEN IN 8 CHURCHES

Vacation church schools in eight Santa Ana churches opened Monday with an enrollment of 550, according to the Rev. Logan Harter, pastor of the United Brethren church, who is the president of the city council of religion.

An objective of 1000 attendance is being sought.

Bible study is given children of the age of 9 to 12 years in the memorization of scripture and church hymns. Bible stories are told the classes. The class teachers are selected from the older church workers.

This year more churches of the city are co-operating in the vacation schools than in any previous year it was declared by the Rev. Harter.

Some of the churches are holding the classes for two weeks and others for longer periods up to four weeks. The churches in which the Bible study is being held are the First Baptist, the First Christian, the Lutheran, the First Presbyterian, the United Presbyterian, the First Methodist, the Richland Avenue Methodist and the United Brethren.

The record enrollment for the first day was made by the United Brethren church with a total of 124 students.

At the First Presbyterian church and the First Methodist church kindergarten schools for the younger tots are being conducted in addition to the regular vacation church schools.

DISABLED VETS TO MEET HERE TUESDAY

Members of Orange county Post, No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will stage their regular meeting next Tuesday at the American Legion home on Birch street, it was announced today.

Dinner will be served by the American Legion auxiliary to be followed by a program of high class entertainment, it was said.

All disabled and wounded veterans are asked to be present.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER TALKS ON TAX

J. P. Baumgartner Says No Effort on Part of Voter To Defeat Gas Tax Plan

"There is really not much news," said J. P. Baumgartner, state highway commissioner, "in this talk about starting referendum petitions against the additional 1c gasoline tax. There have been threats and rumors of such action for some time, but so far as the highway commission has been able to ascertain there is no disposition whatever on the part of the voters generally to attempt to hold up or defeat the 1c gasoline tax for new highway construction.

"Apparently," continued Mr. Baumgartner, "even those who are fathering and financing the referendum petition which, it is said, is about to be launched, are not opposed to the additional 1c gasoline tax so much as they are to the new method of securing some little pay for the use of the highways by the commercial trucking interests." And even from this angle of the matter, the highway commissioner expressed surprise and some measure of incredulity, because, he said, so far as the highway commission had come in contact with the truck men they had, with very few exceptions, expressed approval of the new method of licensing the commercial trucks.

"Under the old law," Mr. Baumgartner explained, "commercial truck companies were supposed to pay a certain percentage of their gross revenues, but it was found practically impossible, according to the motor vehicle department, to collect the percentage due the state under the law. Of course, some of the truckmen paid it and paid it honestly, but many of them did not, and some of them kept no books and didn't know themselves what they ought to pay—the whole system fell down."

Under the new law the truckmen will pay their licenses, graduated according to tonnage and other conditions, when they get their license plates, and thus the revenue will be uniform, easily and certainly collectable, "and the fees," said Mr. Baumgartner, "will be very light indeed on the truckmen in proportion to the volume of the business they do.

"I do not believe," concluded the commissioner, "that the disgruntled truckmen who are playing this game of revenge and retaliation will get anywhere with it. However, it will depend a good deal upon how much money they are able to spend, for there are a great many unthinking, penny-wise-pound-foolish people who can be induced to sign the petition.

"It would be a calamity if the 1c gas tax should be held up, for the money it will produce is badly needed for new road construction, and if it is held up new road construction will be held up—and I know that nine taxpayers out of ten throughout the entire state don't want that to happen.

"Incidentally," said Mr. Baumgartner, "I thoroughly believe in the principle of the referendum, but freely admit that it has its weak points. If the 1c gasoline tax is held up that will be an example of the penalties we often have to pay for certain political privileges."

BANNERS WAVE WELCOMES TO C. E. DELEGATES

City Decorated in Honor Of Thousands Coming Here for Convention

Approximately 3000 flags and banners have been hung on Main street and on Fourth street in the business center in recognition of the state convention of Christian Endeavorers to be held here during the remainder of the week.

Several huge banners hung across the main thoroughfares leading into the city extend a welcome to the delegates. Signs in the principal business houses of the city bid the visitors welcome and extend the courtesy of the various department staffs to them.

The blue and gold colors, adopted by the Christian Endeavorers as the colors for the organization throughout the world predominate in the decorating scheme in the stores and on the streets. Profuse decorations of ribbons and flowers of blue and gold are included in the artistic scheme of the various hotel lobbies where the delegates will register and make their headquarters.

The lobby of the Y.M.C.A., the general headquarters, where the headquarters for information, post office, checking rooms, and Christian Endeavor supplies will be maintained, is a veritable garden of flowers, and blue and gold decorations.

Similar effects have been installed in the Presbyterian church, the headquarters for the Intermediate group, and in the Christian church, headquarters for the Junior group.

That Santa Ana welcomes the convention wholeheartedly is believed amply demonstrated by the lavish use of welcome signs throughout the business houses of the city. Even the Orange county jail is bestooned with the blue and gold of the organization and a sign bidding the delegates welcome.

The sign at the jail is not intended to frighten the delegates it was explained by officers on duty, but merely to let them know that they will be granted every courtesy and protection within the power of the officers.

Restaurants and cafes in the city are indicating their appreciation of the arrival of the delegates by the employment of extra help to care for the enlarged clientele. That 5000 extra meals per day will be served during the convention was the conservative estimate made by one prominent restaurant proprietor. Extra stores are being imported to care for the throng.

The effect of 3000 residents coming to the city, if only for five days, will be felt by almost every business house in the city, it was believed. Clothing stores, drug stores, laundries, confectioneries, and other retailers of the city recognize the importance of the influx and in many cases are fixing special rates for the period during which the convention will be in session.

BIBLE INSTITUTE SENDS BOOK HERE

Anyone interested in the activities of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles may find their latest annual at the city library.

Recently the institute celebrated its twentieth anniversary. It has graduated in that period about 1400 students, many of whom are in the foreign fields. Students have attended from 46 states, 23 foreign countries and 43 denominations. The institute is interdenominational and co-operates with all evangelical churches everywhere. It owns its own radio, KTBI, which has been heard as far as South Africa.

Just now the Bible Institute is conducting a summer school, lasting three weeks, with such lecturers as Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, Dr. John McNeill, Dr. John M. MacInnis, Dr. Chas. Hurlburt, Dr. Ralph Atkinson and Dr. Arthur I. Brown. A large number are in daily attendance at the sessions at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. and a cordial invitation is extended to all neighboring cities.

KELLY FUNERAL IS HELD ON TUESDAY

Mrs. Alpha Kelly, of Alpha, Iowa, and Mrs. Will Maguire and daughter, Miss Mae, of Seattle, Wash., sister and niece of Mrs. H. E. Kelly, arrived here yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Kelly, who was killed in an automobile accident on the Ridge Route Thursday morning. Funeral services were held yesterday at the Winbigler Mission Funeral home.

The relatives will remain here for a visit of several weeks with Mrs. Kelly.

Friends who came from a distance to attend the funeral were Mrs. Mary McDonald, Miss Georgia McDonald, Will McDonald, and Mrs. Hugh Galeese, Hollywood; Miss Mary Zimmer, Bakersfield, and Mrs. D. J. Powers, Pasadena.

No Trace Found Of Missing Girl

No trace has been found of Mildred Pierson, 16, of Riverside, who has been missing since Saturday, when she rented a bathing suit at the Balboa bath house. Chief of Police Winn expressed the belief that the girl was drowned and said that searchers are scanning the water in the vicinity of Newport Beach for the body.

The girl's mother, Mrs. P. C. Pierson, is prostrated. She identified the clothes found in the bath house as those of her daughter.

LONG AIR HOP MAY TAKE OFF AT MEET HERE

Southern California people attending the International Aviation Peace Jubilee, to be held July 2, 3 and 4 at the Martin airport, will have an opportunity to inspect at close range the giant plane scheduled to make the first attempt at a non-stop flight to Honolulu, Roger Adams, air marshal for the aeronautical classic announced today.

Adams said he had received a telegram from William Melloske, president of the Lincoln Oil company, of Flint, Mich., in which Melloske said he would send the plane on a non-stop trip to Santa Ana preliminary to the attempted hop to the "Paridise of the Pacific."

The plane will be on exhibition at the field, Melloske telegraphed, and will probably take off for Honolulu about August 15. Adams said he understood Los Angeles aviation enthusiasts were arranging to offer a prize of more than $25,000 for the non-stop flight and that there was a possibility that the long ocean hop would begin from Santa Ana.

It was understood at the headquarters of the aviation jubilee that a 19-year-old school teacher of Flint, Mich., would be a passenger with the pilot, Auggie Peddlar, of Long Beach.

If the Honolulu flight starts from Santa Ana this city will be the center of interest for the whole world, Adams declared.

Seventy-five planes have been entered and Henry W. Fieldhouse, chairman of the publicity committee, said that probably twice that number would be on the field when the meet begins. Over 1200 auto stickers, providing for packing space over the three days of the meet, have been sold, it was said.

ERTHOS HI Y CLUB ENDS ACTIVE YEAR

The Erthos Hi Y club closed its year's club activities with a banquet at Ketner's cafe last evening. Songs and clever stories filled the time between courses. After being entertained with several duets by Herbert and Hubert Prior, the toastmaster, Ralph White, called on Delmar Brown who urged the support of the passive members of the club in next year's activities.

Dr. Charles F. Seitter and James Hughes, pastor and assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, guests of the club, encouraged the members in keeping their ideals high and not being afraid to assume responsibilities. Both speakers complimented the club on the way it conducted the recent evening service at the First Methodist church and pointed out that one strengthened his character by trying to help the other fellow.

Hubert Prior, first president of the club, expressed his appreciation of the work of its leader, W. J. Stauffer, for his efforts in starting and fostering the organization in its early growth. President Herbert Prior pledged the support of every passive member of the club in carrying out of a satisfactory program next year.

STOCKHOLDERS SUE BAE-MAR COMPANY

Horace J. Howard, a stockholder in the Bae-Mar Land company, owner of ranch property in San Diego county, today filed suit in superior court against the company and its directors, demanding a receivership and an accounting.

He also asked that the directors: G. M. Simpson, C. C. Randall, John G. Earle, E. H. Metcalf and O. P. Rust, be restrained from disposing of any assets of the corporation.

Howard, represented by Attorney W. F. Menton of Santa Ana, charges that the company is insolvent or in immediate danger of becoming so through bad management on the part of the directors, who have refused him an accounting, he states.

SANTA ANA IS NOT TO SHARE IN COUNTY GAS TAX DIVISION

Supervisors Vote 3 to 2 To Divide Road Funds Among Four Districts

VOTE IS OUTCOME OF OLD ARGUMENT

Compromise Proposal May Be Brought Up at Next Week's Regular Session

Santa Ana and the first supervisorial district were shut out of a share in the county gas tax funds when the board of supervisors, late yesterday, voted 3 to 2 to divide this source of road money into four equal portions, one for each remaining district, the second, third, fourth and fifth.

Supervisor S. H. Finley, Santa Ana, of the first district, and Supervisor Willard Smith, Orange, of the fourth district, resisted the action, but were outvoted by Supervisors J. G. Mitchell, of the second district, George Jeffrey, of the fifth district, and Chairman William Schumacher, of the third district.

The vote came after Finley, supported by Smith, had made a vain fight for the right to say where the first district's share of the money should be spent, even though it would not be spent in Santa Ana but in the districts of the other supervisors. This right was refused by the majority.

The outcome of the controversy over division of the gas tax, which has been waged between the members of the board for several months, may be changed, however, as the result of a compromise suggested by Chairman Schumacher yesterday. Schumacher proposed that a portion of the gas tax—probably 20 per cent—be alloted to the cities of the county, the plan being to distribute that 20 per cent between the various cities on a basis of automobile registration.

Supervisors Finley and Smith agreed that the suggestion was fair. They tried to have it adopted at once, but the motion to divide the money "four ways" had already been placed before the meeting and Schumacher declined to halt the vote. He stated that if the compromise proposal was agreed upon, the plan of dividing the money between four districts could be withdrawn.

It was expected that an effort to have Schumacher's proposal substituted for the plan adopted yesterday would be made next Tuesday, hope being expressed that the chairman's suggestion would permanently iron out the factional strife over road money that has disturbed the harmony of the board during the last few weeks.

Schumacher made his proposal after Finley and Smith had protested and argued against what they appeared to consider a "grab" of the first district's share of the funds.

"There are just two fair ways of dividing this money," declared the chairman. "Either spend it all on county roads and do not give any city anything, or else set apart a portion of the money for the cities and distribute that portion equitably among the cities, according to automobile registration or some other fair basis.

"That will place Santa Ana in a better position than it has ever been. It will probably give Santa Ana more money than the five cities in my district combined—but no matter. I have been accused and misrepresented by the newspapers

SANTA ANA IS NOT TO SHARE TAX DIVISION

as trying to discriminate against Santa Ana, but that is not true. All I want is fair play. I do not want to discriminate against Santa Ana—nor the other cities."

Schumacher refused to admit that the plan of dividing the money "four ways" would not be fair. He argued that the first district, comprised entirely by the city of Santa Ana, had no county roads and therefore would not be entitled to share in the gas tax funds if they were spent entirely on county roads. But Finley attacked this attitude.

"I am not claiming the right to spend my district's share in Santa Ana. But I do claim that the people of Santa Ana, who pay a third of the entire gas tax of the county, should have the right to say where their share of the money shall be spent in the other districts," said Finley.

Schumacher refused to concede this right. "It doesn't matter where the money is spent in the other districts, it can't help helping Santa Ana," he argued.

Finley and Smith both disagreed. "When I spend my share of the money I am going to spend it to benefit the fourth district and the fourth district alone," said Smith. "If Santa Ana should get some benefit from it, I shall be pleased, but it will be an accident. I'll not be looking out for Santa Ana when I plan my expenditures, I assure you."

"Nevertheless you can't help benefiting Santa Ana, because every road in the county is used by Santa Ana people and by people going to Santa Ana," retorted Schumacher.

Finley argued that a good many remote roads in the other districts had no relation whatever to Santa Ana, and that Santa Ana money spent on those roads would be wasted so far as Santa Ana was concerned. He insisted, anyway, that the principle of the thing was oppressive when the people of Santa Ana could not designate where their money should be spent, even though not spent in the city.

The debate arose when Supervisor Mitchell suggested that a project for widening Ocean avenue, west of Los Alamitos boulevard, in his district, be financed from the county good roads fund. Other members of the board contended that the money should come from Mitchell's share of the gas tax. The debate led into a discussion of the gas tax funds and their division, which touched old sores, and soon flared into the old controversy. It was settled when Mitchell moved that the money be divided into four portions, omitting the first district from consideration. Supervisor Jeffrey seconded the motion. In the intervening argument Chairman Schumacher made his proposal to allot a portion of the money to the cities, but the original motion was carried through to a vote.

MISS WILLS PLAYS DESPITE ILLNESS

WIMBLEDON, England, June 22.—Miss Helen Wills, playing against advice and suffering from a chill, beat Mrs. S. C. Lumlee-Ellis, 6-3, 6-2, in the second round of the Wimbledon tennis tournament today.

Officials unsuccessfully tried to persuade her not to play.

Court Notes

In police court yesterday on charges of speeding, the following motorists were given fines: Rose Le Roy, $15; D. Lazare, $10; M. R. Dungan, $10; A. E. Boyd, Alhambra, $10.

Four "overtime parkers" were given $2 fines in police court here yesterday. They were: I. J. Owens, M. J. Block, Santa Ana Book Store and D. Muro.

Charged with parking between 2 a. m., and 5 a. m., on downtown streets, Alton Duckett, was fined $2 in police court yesterday. L. L. Carson was given a $2 fine on a charge of parking his machine in an alley and R. H. Shields was fined $2 for parking within 50 feet of the police station, in violation of a city ordinance.

Police were today asked to search for Faustino Galvan, 22, a laborer, residing at 2120 West Fifth street, who is reported missing. The man did not come home last night from work, police were told. He is described as being five feet, eleven inches in height and weighs 140 pounds.

An automobile owned by Faye E. White, Orange, was reported stolen from an Orange street, last night. Officers here were given a description of the missing automobile.

Police last night made a search for a covered truck reported to be on its way to Santa Ana from Fullerton, carrying a roulette wheel and liquor. The truck was not found.

GRAND JURY TO RESUME PROBE IN BOOZE CASE

More coals will be heaped on the fire known as the "million dollar Orange county liquor scandal," when the federal grand jury meets again Friday to probe further into the details of a rum running ring which is asserted to have landed millions of dollars worth of rum on the Orange county coast during the past several years and who operated, it was said, under "protection," according to federal officers who made a statement in Los Angeles last night.

A purported voluntary "confession" on the part of an Orange county official whose name heretofore has not been mentioned in connection with the scandal, and which confession is said to implicate nine persons, will be one of the new lights exposed on the ring, it was said.

The "official" is said to be a well known Santa Ana man, whose name is being withheld, and who is understood to have made the confession when informed that some of his associates were planning to testify voluntarily before the grand jury.

Federal officers claim, they are asserted to have said, that with the confession, they have sufficient evidence to procure at least nine more indictments in the scandal. They also intimated that the grand jury would not be finished with its investigation into the scandal Friday and that several days would be necessary to complete the investigation.

"In view of the circumstances and the overwhelming mass of evidence which he knows we are acquiring, this man, whose activities, have to date, been kept in the background, will henceforth be a government witness. Through his statements we expect to 'mop up' one group of conspirators whose dealings have run into millions," a government agent is said to have stated.

Claude Williams, former federal prisoner here, who was arrested several days ago in connection with the scandal, is also expected to be a voluntary grand jury witness, it was stated.

Reports in Los Angeles last night to the effect that federal officers had declared that part or all of the investigation would be turned over to Orange county authorities for action, were denied here today by Z. B. West jr., district attorney, who said that he had not been informed as to any such action. He said that the rumor was persistent, having cropped out at several different times, since the scandal started, but that he had heard nothing official regarding Orange county handling the cases in court.

SUIT IS BROUGHT AGAINST SHERIFF

Arthur R. Marsom, as guardian of Earl J. Marsom, alleged incompetent, today filed suit in superior court against Sheriff Sam Jernigan, to restrain the sheriff from selling livestock and implements on the Marsom ranch at Brea, known as Hual de Alto Vista Rancho.

The sheriff's sale, according to the complaint, is ordered to satisfy a court judgment against Arthur Marsom. The property endangered belongs to Earl J. Marsom and Arthur has no interest in it, he asserts, though it was attached because of the court judgment against him. The judgment was secured against Arthur Marsom by A. S. Dunn in July, 1926.

A long list of saddle horses, teams, cattle, wagons, cultivators and other equipment is said to have been attached at the ranch on East Dedora street, near Brea.

TEMPLE THEATER

Mystery veiled the actual filming of "The Bat," current attraction at the Temple theater. The actors and actresses were required to take an oath not to reveal any details of the production. No visitors were allowed on the sets. And during the filming of certain sequences nobody but the director, cameramen and participating actors were present.

"Some Pun'kins," a Charles Ray production, comes to the Temple theater tomorrow for three days. It is an original screen story and will bring back to the screen this popular star in his familiar characterization of the country "straw-hat-and-boots" boy.

YOST THEATER

Betty Compson, as the heroine of "The Ladybird," the picture opening at the Yost theater tonight, encounters the conventional villain, in the person of Sheldon Lewis, who endeavors to follow the conventional motion picture procedure. He discovers, however, much to his amazement that he has begged a red-hot antagonist who is perfectly capable of caring for herself in either a battle of wits or a rough-and-tumble fight. Without being the least bit masculine, Betty administers a beating to the villain which makes him call for mercy. Help arrives in Malcolm McGregor, the hero, and a squadron of police, and this help, strange to say, is more needed by Mr. Villain than the lady.

WEST COAST-WALKER

"Rookies," the farce comedy scream that has been shaking Orange county with laughter for the past three days at the West Coast-Walker theater, is being held over for one day additional showing. Manager C. E. Walker announced that "Rookies" has gone over bigger than any comedy of the season and in order to accommodate the crowds that have been turned away it was necessary to make arrangements to run this supercomedy in conjunction with the regular feature bill, "White Flannels."

"Rookies" is a satire on military life, with Karl Dane as the hard-boiled sergeant, and George K. Arthur as the hopeless recruit in a summer training camp. Marceline Day is the girl friend as the story goes and is naturally the cause of strife between the droll heroes.

"White Flannels" is a picture of many thrills. There is a rousing football game on the college field, when the boy sweeps all before him. There is the appalling coal mining disaster; one of the most spectacular scenes ever filmed. And there is the rough and ready fun of the hill people, the flashy jazziness of the college youth, and through all runs the beauty and pathos of a mother's love. Louise Dresser, Jason Robards and Virginia Browne Faire are the featured players.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

University track meets have been glorified in pictures, football games have reached the screen, and the collegians' baseball games have not been neglected. Now, comes the rowing race with its colorful background, thrilling struggle, and the human conflict behind it.

A race forms the underlying theme of "Rolled Stockings," now showing at the Yost Broadway theater.

Leading up to the big climax are all the elements which go to form the drama and lure of university life—a young athlete who sees in the four-year period a chance to glorify his prowess; a sophomore who "kids" his way through the curriculum with plenty of diversion in the form of pretty girls, cards and motoring; a college beauty, and a jazzy blonde who likes to have the undergraduates take her on parties.

CONSTRUCTION GAINS AND FIRE LOSSES DROP

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Fire losses, though increasing in United States from year to year, are actually growing less if the amount of new building is considered, according to a statement issued by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

In 1925 the fire loss was substantially eight million dollars heavier than the year before, while the value of new buildings erected was close to seven billion dollars.

While figures are not yet available for 1926 preliminary estimates indicate that the fire losses probably increased slightly over 1925, while building was materially heavier.

"So great is the value of all buildings now in use that the annual depreciation in value due to obsolescence alone is many times greater than loss from fire," the association's survey disclosed. "Poor construction has become a greater waster of wealth than fire damage."

Over 23 billion dollars worth of new building construction took place in the years 1922 to 1925, and with the 1926 figures the amount goes close to 30 billion dollars.

"The furnishing of these new homes, garages, offices, theaters, schools and factories, and the added stores of merchandise, automobiles, radios, electrical equipment and other items which add to the joy of living is estimated to have been 20 billion dollars more," an official of the lumber association declared.

"In the same period fire losses increased less than 43 million dollars, or about $1 per thousand of estimated increase in burnable wealth.

"This is a decided change as compared to the year 1922, in which estimates by the United States federal trade commission put the national wealth, exclusive of land, at 231 billion dollars. The reported fire loss in that year was 403 million dollars, or approximately $1.75 to each thousand of burnable wealth."

With one exception the trend of fire losses has slowed up steadily for several years, according to the association. In 1926 the increase over 1919 amounted to 102 million dollars, or 40 per cent. This is attributed by engineers largely to the inflation of property values in that year and not to a marked increase in the number of fires or the total amount of goods or buildings destroyed.

An increase of 30 million dollars was shown in 1921, or 8 per cent over 1920, but 1922 losses exceeded those of 1921 by only 17 million dollars or 4.3 per cent. In 1923, the exceptional year noted, the increase was 5.7 per cent, but in 1924 this had dropped again to 2.6 per cent, while 1925 was only 3 million dollars or 1.8 per cent greater than 1924.

"Considering the great number of new buildings, the estimate that the net annual income of the national exceeds 90 million dollars, considering the increased use of gasoline, electricity, cigarets and other prolific causes of fire, this steadily decreasing trend is very encouraging and indicates that the near future may show actual as well as relative declines," the lumber association declared.

S. A. PUBLISHER IS HONORED BY ECONOMIC BODY

Compliment and honor came to Santa Ana today in the selection of J. P. Baumgartner, editor of the Register, as a member of the executive council of the National Economic league, with headquarters in Boston.

A letter received by Mr. Baumgartner from J. W. Beatson, secretary and treasurer of the league, advises the editor that he has been elected by the latest preferential ballot to represent, with others, the State of California, and Mr. Baumgartner has wired his acceptance.

The others chosen by this preferential ballot are Gov. C. C. Young, M. C. Sloss, Max Thelen, Will C. Wood, Robert G. Sproule, Stuart O'Melveny, John W. Shenk, Alden Anderson, Morgan A. Gunst, Charles DeY. Elkus, A. Heber Winder and Mrs. Francis A. Blackburn, all of whom have accepted.

The national executive council consists of Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state; Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; John Hays Hammond, mining engineer; James Rowland Angell, president Yale university; Roger W. Babson, statistician; David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus Leland Stanford Jr. university; Edward A. Filene, merchant; Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel corporation; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university; A. Lawrence Lowell, president Harvard university; J. W. Beatson, secretary and treasurer National Economic league.

The aim of the National Economic league is to provide a means for giving expression to the informed and disinterested opinion of the country regarding economic, social, and political problems, with a view to creating a public opinion that will be a vital and controlling force in our government.

The service which the council is called upon to perform is to select the issues for consideration, to nominate members for special committees, and to vote on the questions and reports submitted by these committees. This work, it is believed, can be done satisfactorily through the mail. Members are not called upon to perform any detail duties and there are no financial obligations.

Former General Held To Answer

Amilio Rodriguez, former general under President Carranza in Mexico, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, yesterday was held to answer to the superior court at the conclusion of his examining trial before Justice of the Peace, Kenneth Morrison.

Rodriguez, who lost his left arm in a Mexican battle years ago, sat quietly in court during the proceedings against him. He is accused of attacking his wife, Paula, with a club. The club was brought in as evidence. Rodriguez was alleged to have committed the crime on June 13.

Pending action by the superior court, Rodriguez is in the county jail. He could not make bail of $5000 set in his case.

GERMAN STATE SEEN ASSURED AS REPUBLIC

BERLIN, June 22—"There are no more monarchists left in Germany," the generalization made on the floor of the Reichstag by Ludwig Haas, Democrat Deputy, grossly exaggerates. But it sums up roughly enough the feeling in political circles here that the question of monarchy or republic in this country has been given a definite final answer in favor of the latter form of government by an overwhelming vote of 323 deputies against 41 by which the defense of the republic law, including the famous "Kaiser paragraph," was renewed for two more years.

Kaiser Must Keep Out

This paragraph empowers the cabinet to keep Wilhelm II from Germany. The momentous aspect of division on this law was that the Nationalists, self-appointed guardians of the monarchical idea in Germany, to whom five years ago when the law was first passed as a special measure after the murders of Erzberger and Rathenau no language was violent enough to express their indignation and scorn of it, now accept it.

Though the Nationalists' speakers will doubtless continue to profess loyal allegiance to the former Kaiser and the monarchy at public meetings, they will bend their energies henceforth toward diverting the course of Germany's foreign domestic policy along markedly conservative lines. While Germany in years to come doubtless will have its own boulangers and its Dreyfuss cases, bringing their recrudescence monarchist froth and fervor, the prevailing impression among political observers here is that the monarchical idea has reecived its coup de grace in the house of its friends and that the republican institutions of this country have been stabilized to a degree that a few years ago would have been deemed impossible in so short a time.

Even in radical circles here the belief is winning ground that the Socialists and Democrats are shouting at a man of straw in making their principal target the monarchistic aspirations of the right parties.

Continued co-operation in the cabinet and the Reichstag may in time lead to a union of the conservative industrialists in the People's party with the Conservatives Junkers into a powerful Conservative party accepting the republic as inevitable in the Nationalist party.

One may also hazard the conjecture that ere long the old Conservative Nationalistic party—which is already fretting under the concessions party leaders have made to the exigencies of Parliamentary team work, will break away and join hands with the Fascist party, forming a little group of monarchists faithful to the ex-Kaiser in Doorn and corresponding to the Royalist Action Francaise group in France.

CITRUS SCHOOL TO ATTRACT RANCHERS

Many Orange county citrus growers are laying plans to attend the two-day institute and pest control school at the Citrus union high school, in the Glendora-Azusa district, it was announced here today by Dr. J. R. Schofield, chairman of the farm bureau citrus growers department. The high school is reached from Orange county by auto through Puente, north to Azusa and thence east on the Foothill boulevard towards Glendora a short distance. The subjects to be discussed will be of great interest to Orange county citrus growers, it is reported by Schofield.

Subjects to be discussed are citrus orchard cultivation; irrigation; cost of producing oranges; effect of boron on citrus trees; control of red scale by means of spraying followed by fumigation; the black scale situation in Los Angeles county; red spider control; citrus pest control in Orange county; effect of oil sprays on keeping qualities of oranges, and the present status of the white fly eradication program.

These subjects will be discussed by specialists and experts, who have been studying the specific problems of the citrus growers. A detailed program may be secured from the farm advisor's office in the Hall of Records.

Plot To Smuggle Russians To U. S. From Cuba Found

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Every available man has been called into action by the immigration department to combat an alleged plot to smuggle thousands of Russian aliens into this country from Cuba.

The "far-reaching conspiracy" was revealed by Assistant United States District Attorney Franklin J. Graham, who asserted that there were between 35,000 and 40,000 Russians, mostly Jews, in Cuba, waiting an opportunity to slip into the United States on freight steamers or in any way they could reach the Florida line.

Mr. Graham made his disclosures in prosecuting Newton Josephs, steward of the British tramp steamer General Lewkin, who pleaded guilty to a charge of smuggling three Russian Jews from Cuba.

EXAMINING TRIALS TO BE HELD JUNE 23

The examining trials of four Stanton Mexicans, charged with highway robbery, scheduled to have been held in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday, were continued until June 23, when the complaining witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Laca, Los Angeles, failed to appear in court.

The four men, Joe Torres, Nicholas Medina, Ruben Duarte and Joe Lopez are accused of staging a "wild west" holdup near Anaheim on the night of June 13, robbing Mr. and Mrs. Laca of approximately $60 in cash and jewelry.

A fifth man arrested, Concepcion Vieyra has been freed of the charge, Justice Morrison said. No complaint was filed against him.

TAFT MAKES CITY GIFT OF MILLIONS

CINCINNATI, June 22.—Charles P. Taft, publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, and Mrs. Taft, have given their valuable art collection, their residence and one million dollars to the people of Cincinnati.

Announcement of the gift, was made at a meeting of the Cincinnati Institute of Fine Arts, said it was given for the advancement of "the artistic and musical education and enjoyment of the people of Cincinnati."

The gifts are contingent upon the raising of an additional 2 and one-half million dollars for the purposes of the Institute of Fine Arts by Dec. 31, 1928.

While the one-million-dollar gift which is to be used exclusively as a permanent endowment fund of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, is to be placed in trust for the use of the institute not later than October 1, 1927, the art collection and property are not to come under the control of the institute until Mr. and Mrs. Taft die.

Although no estimates can be placed on the value of the gifts, they are certain to run well into the millions. The art collection is said to be one of the finest private collections in the world.

Parliament Home To Be Renovated

LONDON, June 22.—More than 15 million dollars will be spent in rejuvenating the house of parliament if the plan of all crafts of the building trades presented to the government here recently is adopted.

A reputation representing the building trades recently called upon Lord Peel, first commissioner of public works, and presented the plan which calls for refacing the entire fabric of the parliament building. Under the plan the stonework, now seriously decaying, would be entirely restored.

JERUSALEM, June 22.—In the presence of a large gathering of notables, including American officials, Lord Plumer recently performed the ceremony of naming the giant new liner of the imperial airways the "City of Jerusalem." The ceremony took place at the Kalendia airdrome, 10 kilometers north of Jerusalem.

1 WOMAN IN 112 HAS RADIO VOICE

CHICAGO, June 22.—One out of every 112 women has it.

"It," in this case, is not the intangible quality known as "sex appeal." "It" is a speaking voice that registers well over the microphone.

The figures come from WBBM as the result of tests covering a two-year period. During that time Nate Caldwell, chief announcer, has discovered only one feminine speaking voice which he considers excellent for broadcasting. One hundred and twelve female voices were tested before the "perfect voice" was found.

The owner of the voice is Natalie Giddings. She was a professional entertainer until college work turned her ambitions to the field of journalism.

After her graduation from college a year ago she became a member of the publicity staff of WBBM. As an experiment she was given the voice test, which proved that the voice that had made feasible her early dramatic training and experience is just as appealing when heard over the air.

"The tonal quality and inflection of her voice is unusual," says Lester D. Mather, musical of WBBM. "It is unlike that of any other woman I have heard over the air. It has none of the harsh, affected or childishly unpleasant qualities so often heard in the female voice when it is given air reproduction."

PINCHED
Nerves Are Causing Your Trouble!

Your body at one time functioned normally, and if given the chance will do so again. Pinched nerves are the cause of most human ailments, and by removing this pressure we are able to restore permanent relief from your sickness or disease. Why does your foot fall asleep when you cross your legs? Simply because you are producing pressure upon the great sciatic nerve, thus cutting off the nerve force to that extremity. A spinal nerve pressure acts much in the same way. It is difficult to walk when your feet are numb, likewise the organs or parts of your body will not function properly when they do not receive the proper amount of nerve energy.

ORDINANCE NO. 817

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA, REGULATING TRAVEL AND TRAFFIC UPON THE PUBLIC STREETS; ESTABLISHING A CENTRAL TRAFFIC DISTRICT; AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR THE BREACH OF ANY OF THE RULES OR REGULATIONS REGARDING TRAFFIC IN THIS ORDINANCE PROVIDED, AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana do ordain as follows:

ARTICLE I. DEFINITION.

Section 1. Whenever in this Ordinance the following terms are used, they shall be deemed and construed to have the meaning ascribed to them in this section:

STREET: Any place commonly used for the purpose of public travel, excepting alley ways.

ROADWAY: That portion of a street between the regularly established curb lines.

INTERSECTIONS: The area embraced within the prolongation of the property lines of two or more streets which join at an angle, whether or not one such street crosses another.

CROSS WALK: That portion of the roadway included within the prolongation of sidewalk lines at street intersections, and such other places as may be designated by boundary lines upon the surface of the roadway.

SAFETY ZONE: That portion of a roadway reserved for the exclusive use of pedestrians.

LOADING ZONE: That portion adjacent to a curb reserved for the exclusive use of vehicles actually engaged in the loading or unloading of passengers or materials.

VEHICLE: Any device other than a street car, upon or by which any person or material may be transported upon a street.

STREET CAR: Any device traveling exclusively upon rails.

PEDESTRIAN: Any person afoot.

OPERATOR: Any person who is in actual physical control of a vehicle or a street car.

CENTRAL TRAFFIC DISTRICT: All streets included within that portion of the City of Santa Ana hereinafter specified shall be in Central Traffic District A, or Central Traffic District B, as hereinafter stated, to-wit:

CENTRAL TRAFFIC DISTRICT A:

Fourth Street from the East line of Ross Street to the East line of Mortimer Street.

CENTRAL TRAFFIC DISTRICT B.

Ross Street from the North line of First Street to the South line of Sixth Street.

BUSINESS DISTRICT: Any block within which fifty per cent (50%) or more of the frontage is used for retail or wholesale business purposes; and, when so established by the Street Superintendent any block immediately adjacent to any such block.

PARK: To stand a vehicle for a period of time greater than is reasonably necessary for the actual loading or unloading of persons or material.

TRAFFIC: The lawful and orderly use of the streets for purposes of travel by pedestrians, vehicles, and street cars, both singly and together.

ARTICLE II. AUTHORITY OF POLICE.

Section II. Obedience to Police.

Officers of the police department shall, by voice, hand or other signal, direct all traffic, and it shall be unlawful for any persons to refuse or fail to comply with any lawful order, signal or other lawful direction of a police officer, and further provided, it shall be unlawful for any person other than an officer of the Police Department, or a person deputized by the Chief of Police to direct, or to attempt to direct, the traffic by voice, hand or other signal.

Section III. Signs.

The Street Superintendent shall have the exclusive power and duty to place and maintain signs for the designation of the provisions of this ordinance, and no provision of this ordinance for which signs are authorized and required shall be enforceable against an alleged violator if, at the time of the alleged violation, the signs were missing, effaced, mutilated or defaced so that an ordinary observant person would not be appraised of or aware of the existence of such provisions.

Section IV. Obedience to Traffic Signs.

It shall be unlawful for any person to disobey the instructions of any mechanical traffic, signal, lettered traffic sign, or paint marks placed upon the surface of the roadway in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, or any barrier or sign erected by any of the public departments or public utilities of the City of Santa Ana, provided the form of such barrier has been approved by the Street Superintendent.

Section V. Traffic Signal Legend.

The following signals for the direction of traffic are hereby authorized:

RED: When shown in any mechanical traffic signal, except in flashing signals, requires that traffic shall stop and remain standing.

GREEN: When shown in any mechanical traffic signal, requires that traffic shall move and remain in motion, except stopped for the purpose of avoiding an accident, and in case of other emergency, or when stopped at the command of a police officer.

BELLS: The ringing of a bell in connection with any mechanical traffic signal shall indicate preparation for a change in the direction of traffic movement. When such bell is sounded, no traffic shall enter an intersection until a green or "go" signal is given.

Section VI. It shall be unlawful for any unauthorized person to erect or display any device upon or in view of any street, which device is an imitation of an official traffic sign, or which directs or purports to direct the actions of operators of vehicles or the movement of traffic, or to wilfully deface, injure, move, or interfere with any sign placed in compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

ARTICLE III. PEDESTRIANS.

Section VII. The Use of Sidewalks, Cross-Walks and Safety Zones.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to drive into a safety zone, or to drive into any sidewalk or cross-walk area, except at a regular established driveway or roadway.

SECTION VIII. PEDESTRIAN RIGHT OF WAY IN CROSS-WALK.

In any cross-walk where traffic is not being directed by a police officer or by a traffic signal, pedestrians shall have the right of way over vehicles; provided, that any pedestrian desiring the right of way shall give warning of his intention to cross by raising the hand, palm out toward approaching traffic. It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to drive into such cross-walk until such pedestrian shall have passed in front of such vehicle.

Section IX. SCHOOL CROSSINGS.

The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to mark and maintain with yellow paint or metal plates cross-walks approximately fifteen feet in width at intersections in the vicinity of public schools where in the opinion of said Street Superintendent crossing the roadway by school children is dangerous. Said Street Superintendent is further authorized to mark and maintain with a distinguishing color or metal plates upon the pavement or by signs erected along the curb in a conspicuous manner, the word "School," one hundred (100) feet distant from each cross-walk established as above provided, and it shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle or street car to drive into a cross-walk where there is displayed a sign with the words "School," when there is in said cross-walk upon the side of the roadway upon which said vehicle is coming any vehicle engaged or attempting to cross the street.

Section X. USE OF ROADWAYS.

It shall be unlawful for any person to stand or walk in the roadway other than in a safety zone or in a cross-walk if such action interferes with the lawful movement of traffic; provided, that no pedestrian shall cross a roadway other than by a route at right angles to the curb, or by the shortest route to the opposite curb.

Section XI. STREET SUPERINTENDENT AUTHORIZED TO ESTABLISH CROSS-WALKS.

The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to establish and maintain, by paint marks upon the surface of the roadway, or metal plates at the side of said road cross-walks approximately equal in width to the adjacent sidewalks at all intersections in the Central Traffic District and in all business districts, and in addition may establish cross-walks fifteen (15) feet in width as near the middle as is practicable, of any block in said Central Traffic District, exceeding four hundred (400) feet lin length.

SECTION XII. PEDESTRIANS TO OBEY SIGNALS.

At intersections where traffic is directed by police officer or by traffic signal, it shall be unlawful for any pedestrian to cross the roadway other than with released traffic.

SECTION XIII. PEDESTRIANS SOLICITING ON SIDEWALKS.

In the Central Traffic District, or in any business districts, it shall be unlawful for any pedestrian to stop or stand on the sidewalk, except as near as is physically possible to the building line or to the curb line.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION XIV. TURNING.

It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions hereinafter in this section set forth.

(1) In turning to the left, vehicles shall keep to the right of the intersection markers and the center of the intersections or of markers placed upon the intersection boundary lines to be crossed by said vehicle in turning to the left; provided, however, that in the absence of any such intersection or boundary line marker, the operator of any vehicle shall pass to the center of the intersection before turning.

(2) No vehicle shall be turned to the left at any street intersection or into any alley or driveway, unless said vehicle is at the time, in the line of vehicles nearest the center of the roadway.

(3) Between the hours of seven A. M. and six P. M. of any day no vehicle shall be turned to the left into or out of any alley or driveway in the Central Traffic District or in any business district or upon any intersection where the Street Superintendent shall have posted on the approaching side of the roadway a proper signal so directing.

(4) Between the hours of seven A. M. and six P. M. of any day no vehicle shall be turned at an intersection in the Central Traffic District or in any business district in such manner as to cause the same to proceed in an opposite direction upon the street upon which said vehicle is traveling at the time of entering said intersection.

(5) Right hand turns may be made at any intersection outside the Central Traffic District at any time, regardless of traffic signals, provided, however, that the operator of vehicles shall not turn such vehicle to the right at any intersection or into any alley or driveway unless such vehicle is, at the time of turning, in the line of traffic nearest the curb to the right of said vehicle.

(6) The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to mark intersections in the following manner: A single marker shall be placed at the intersection of medial lines of intersecting streets when said streets intersect at right angles, except those intersections which in the opinion of the Street Superintendent shall be marked by placing a marker on each of the intersecting streets at the intersection of the medial lines of the roadway and a prolongation of the property lines of the intersecting streets. For streets which do not intersect at right angles or which can not be marked in either manner above specified in the opinion of the Street Superintendent he shall mark the same by placing a marker in each of the intersecting streets at the points which in his opinion shall be most practicable and safe to the traveling public.

SECTION XV. ONE WAY ALLEYS.

In any alley connecting two or more streets, in or terminating in the Central Traffic District, it shall be unlawful to drive any vehicle in a Southerly or in an Easterly direction. The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to place and maintain signs designating this provision.

SECTION XVI. DRIVING FROM ALLEYS.

It shall be unlawful for any operator of a vehicle to drive said vehicle out of an alley or driveway unless such vehicle has been brought to a complete stop immediately prior to crossing the sidewalk.

SECTION XVII. SCATTERING LOAD.

It shall be unlawful to operate any vehicle so loaded or constructed that any part of its load is dropped upon the roadway.

SECTION XVIII. BOULEVARD RIGHT OF WAY.

Vehicles traveling in a lawful manner upon the following streets shall have the right of way on that street over vehicles approaching from intersecting streets unless such street shall have boulevard stops placed therein:

Main Street, from the City Limits on the North to the City Limits on the South.

Seventeenth Street, from the City limits on the West to the City limits or boundary on the East.

Washington Avenue from the East line of English Street to the West line of Grand Avenue.

Fruit Street, from the East line of French Street to the West line of Grand Avenue.

Fourth Street from the East line of Artesia Street to the City limits on the East.

First Street from the City limits on the West to the City limits or boundary on the East.

Fairview Avenue from the City limits on the West to the West line of Main Street.

Bristol Street from the City limits on the North to the City limits or boundary line on the South.

Orange Avenue, from the South line of First Street, to the City limits on the South.

Mabury, from the South line of Seventeenth Street to the North line of First Street.

Upon approaching any of the above named streets it shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to fail to bring said vehicle to a complete stop at the limit line which the Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to indicate, by sign or mark at the property line of the above mentioned street, provided, however, that when the intersection is controlled by a police officer or by a traffic signal, no vehicle shall be stopped as above provided when a signal to proceed has been given.

SECTION XIX. FOLLOWING FIRE APPARATUS PROHIBITED.

It shall be unlawful for any vehicle to follow any fire apparatus closer than one block, or to park any vehicle within the block where fire apparatus has stopped in answering a fire alarm.

SECTION XX. STOPPING FOR FIRE OR POLICE CARS.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to continue his vehicle in motion when he shall hear either before or behind him, or coming from any intersecting street, a police car, police ambulance, or fire car, which shall be sounding a siren provided by law for cars of that character.

SECTION XXI. RIGHT OF WAY FOR FUNERAL PROCESSION.

Funeral processions shall have the right of way over all other traffic.

SECTION XXII. MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any bicycle or motorcycle to carry any other person upon the bar, handle or tank of any such vehicle.

SECTION XXIII. CLINGING TO MOVING VEHICLES.

It shall be unlawful for any person traveling upon any bicycle, motorcycle or toy vehicle to cling to or attach himself or his vehicle, to any other moving vehicle or street car on any roadway in the City of Santa Ana.

ARTICLE V. STOPPING, STANDING AND PARKING.

SECTION XXIV. STANDING PROHIBITED IN SPECIFIED PLACES.

Except to avoid conflict with other traffic, or in compliance with the directions of a police officer or traffic signal, it shall be unlawful for the operator of a vehicle to stand said vehicle in the following places:

(1) In any intersection.

(2) In any cross-walk.

(3) At any place in the roadway where the two right wheels of the vehicle are more than one (1) foot distant from the regularly established curb line except on streets where provision has been made for angle parking as specified in Section 29 hereof.

(4) At any place where the standing of a vehicle will obstruct the use of any driveway.

(5) At any curb within fifteen (15) feet of a fire hydrant.

(6) Within twenty (20) feet of a point of the curb immediately opposite the mid-block end of any safety zone.

(7) At any place within fifteen (15) feet of an intersection in the Central Traffic District, or in any business district except at designated bus stops, and that the operator of no vehicle shall stop in the area designated as a bus stop longer than three minutes.

The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to paint and maintain a red line stenciled with white letters "No Standing" upon the top of all curb lengths indicated in Paragraphs 5, 6 and 7 of this section.

SECTION XXV. STANDING FOR LOADING ONLY IN CERTAIN PLACES.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of a vehicle to stop said vehicle for a period of time longer than is necessary for the loading or unloading of passengers or materials, providing that the loading or unloading of passengers shall not consume more than three (3) minutes, nor the loading or unloading of materials more than twenty (20) minutes in the following designated places:

(1) At a curb where the grade of the street exceeds twelve (12%) per cent;

(2) In any loading zone;

(3) At any curb within twenty-five (25) feet of the entrance to any hospital.

(4) At any curb within fifty (50) feet of the entrance to any police station;

The Superintendent of Streets is hereby authorized to determine the exact location of loading zones, provided that not more than one-half (½) of the total curb lengths of any block in the Central Traffic District or in any business district, shall be reserved for loading zone, where, in said block, the distance between the curb line and the center of the roadway, or between the curb line and the outer rail of any street car track is less than fifteen (15) feet, and that not more than one-fourth (¼) of the total length of any curb between intersections in any one block in the Central Traffic District, or in any business district, shall be reserved for a loading zone.

Said Street Superintendent is hereby further authorized to paint and maintain a yellow line stenciled in block letters "Loading" upon the tops of all curbs and places specified in this section, or shall place a marker which shall be not more than one (1) foot in height upon the curb at each end of the limit of loading zone, which said marker shall state in letters clearly legible "Loading" and the number of this Ordinance.

SECTION XXVI. PARKING TIME LIMITED IN CERTAIN PLACES.

Subject to the provisions of Sections twenty-four (24) and twenty-five (25) of this ordinance between the hours of seven A. M. and six P. M. of any day, excepting Sundays and Holidays, it shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to park said vehicle in any part of Central Traffic District A for a period of time longer than two hours, or in any business district other than that covered by the Central Traffic District for a period of time longer than two hours.

The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to erect and maintain signs designating the provisions of this section.

SECTION XXVII. EARLY MORNING PARKING LIMITED.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to park said vehicle for a period of time longer than thirty (30) minutes between the hours of two A. M. and five A. M. of any day.

SECTION XXVIII. MANNER OF PARKING.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to park said vehicle other than parallel with the curb, except where the Street Superintendent has indicated that angle parking is permitted by the placing of white lines upon the surface of the roadway, provided, however, that said Street Superintendent shall in no place provide for angle parking where there is less than fifteen (15) feet between the curb and the nearest rail of any street car track.

SECTION XXIX. PARKING VEHICLES FOR SALE.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to park on any street in the City of Santa Ana any vehicle upon which there is a "For Sale" sign, or to park upon any street any vehicle for the purpose of displaying it for sale, or to park any vehicle upon any street in the Central Traffic District, or in any business district, from which said vehicle merchandise is being sold.

ARTICLE VI. STREET CARS.

SECTION XXX. STREET CARS HAVE RIGHT OF WAY BETWEEN INTERSECTIONS.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle proceeding upon any street or track in front of a street car to fail to remove said vehicle from said track as soon as practical after signal from the operator of said street car, unless prevented by other vehicles or while awaiting traffic signal.

SECTION XXXI. STREET CARS.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any train or trains of cars to operate the same in such a manner as to prevent the use of any street for purposes of travel for a period of time longer than five (5) minutes.

SECTION XXXII. STREET CAR SPEED.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any street car to drive said street car at a rate of speed faster than in this section provided:

(1) Fifteen (15) miles per hour at an obstructed grade crossing when engaged in turning curves that are obstructed, when crossing obstructed, when crossing obstructed highway crossings; when passing schools while persons are entering or leaving the grounds, and in the business districts:

(2) Twenty (20) miles per hour in residence districts.

(3) Thirty-five (35) miles per hour at any place other than those specified in paragraphs 1 and (2) of this Section within the said limits of the City of Santa Ana.

SECTION XXXIII.

It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle upon overtaking any street car to pass said street car when any such street car is within one hundred (100) feet of any street intersection being approached by said vehicle, or to pass any street car that has stopped for the purpose of loading or unloading passengers until such vehicle has been brought to a complete stop at the rear of the nearest entrance of such street car, said vehicle to remain standing until all doors of said street car are closed or until all passengers have boarded or alighted from said car, unless there is in the roadway a marked safety zone, in which case vehicles stopped in compliance with the provisions of this section may proceed with due regard for the safety of pedestrians in the roadway.

The Street Superintendent is hereby authorized to place and maintain by the use of traffic buttons, or painted lines safety zones at all regular street car stops in the City of Santa Ana, wherein his discretion, safety zones are required for the safety of pedestrians.

SECTION XXXIV. BOARDING STREET CARS.

It shall be unlawful for any person to board or alight from a street car or vehicle while such street car or vehicle is in motion.

SECTION XXXV. RIDING ON CAR STEPS.

It shall be unlawful for any person to ride upon the fender or running board of any street car or vehicle.

SECTION XXXVI. EXCEPTIONS.

Nowithstanding any other section of this ordinance the provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to emergency vehicles of the police department or fire department of the City of Santa Ana, nor to any public utility or any other vehicle actually engaged in the performance of emergency duties necessary to be performed by said public departments or by any public utility.

ARTICLE VII. PENALTIES.

SECTION XXXVII.

Any person violating or failing to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance, or any rule or regulation of the Street Superintendent, adopted pursuant thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable for a first offense by a fine of not to exceed Fifty ($50.00) Dollars or by imprisonment in the County Jail of the County of Orange, for a period not exceeding five (5) days; for a second violation within a period of one (1) year, by a fine not to exceed one hundred ($100.00) Dollars, by or imprisonment in the County Jail of the County of Orange, for a period not to exceed ten (10) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; for a third and additional offense committed within one (1) year, by a fine not to exceed Three Hundred $300.00) Dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail of the County or Orange for a period not to exceed three (3) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION XXXVIII. REPEALING ALL PRIOR ORDINANCES.

That all ordinances which conflict with this ordinance be, and the same are hereby repealed provided, however, that any sections repealed shall not prevent the prosection and punishment of any person, firm or corporation for any act done or committed in violation of any ordinance which may be repealed by this ordinance prior to the taking effect of this ordinance, and shall not prevent any prosecution or action pending in any Court for the violation of any ordinance repealed by this ordinance.

The City Clerk is hereby instructed to cause this ordinance to be published three times in the Santa Ana Daily Evening Register, a newspaper printed and published in, and generally circulated in the City of Santa Ana, and hereby designated for the publication of this ordinance.

The Foregoing ordinance is approved this 21st day of June, 1927.

F. L. PURINTON,
President of the Board of Trustees.
ATTEST: E. L. VEGELY.
(SEAL) City Clerk

The above and foregoing ordinance was introduced at an adjourned regular meeting held on the 13th day of June, 1927, and duly passed and adopted at a regular meeting of said Board of Trustees, held on the 21st day of June, 1927, by the following vote:

AYES, Trustees J. L. McBride, W. G. Knox, Stanley E. Goode, F. L. Purinton.

NOES, Trustees, None.

ABSENT, Trustees W. J. Kelly.

E. L. VEGELY,

ORDINANCE NO. 816

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA ADOPTING UNIFORM SPECIFICATIONS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF PORTLAND CEMENT CONCRETE CURBS, GUTTERS AND SIDEWALKS.

Section 1. That the following shall be the specifications for the construction of Portland cement concrete curbs, gutters and sidewalks in the City of Santa Ana unless otherwise specified by resolution or ordinance for a particular street or alley in said City.

PART I.
GRADING CONSTRUCTION

Section 1. Grading Area.

Unless specified by plan or ordinance the portion of the street or alley to be graded shall be as follows:

(a) FOR CURBS AND GUTTERS. When curbs or gutters or both are to be constructed, the area to be occupied by the curb or gutter or both shall be brought to a subgrade, and, unless otherwise specified, the area between the curb line and the sidewalk shall be graded flush with the tops of the curb and sidewalk. Where no sidewalk exists the area between the curb line and the property line shall be graded flush with the top of the curb and with a rise of one-fourth (¼) inch per foot to the property line.

(b) FOR SIDEWALKS. When sidewalks are to be constructed the area to be occupied by the sidewalk shall be brought to a subgrade and, unless otherwise specified, the remaining area between the curb lines and property lines shall be graded flush with the sidewalks and the tops of the curbs, or flush with the surface of the sidewalk when there is no curb.

Section 2. Rough Grading.

Rough grading shall include all filling and removal of excess earth, stone, trees, old pavements, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, driveways and any other structures or objectionable material found within the limits of the improvements to be made. Any of the above mentioned objects or material shall be removed whether or not it is within the limits of the improvements, when so noted on the plans.

Plowing or excavating sound material shall be done to a depth not greater than six (6) inches below the subgrade elevation.

Excavated material not required for fills shall be removed from the street as soon as excavated.

(a) FILLING. The space over which fills are to be made shall first be cleared of all brush, timber, trash or debris. All filling shall be done with good sound earth, sand or gravel, and no oil cake or other lumpy material, or material of a perishable, spongy, or otherwise improper nature shall be used in filling.

Fills shall be made in layers not to exceed four (4) inches in depth before tamping each layer, after being leveled off shall be thoroughly dampened and while moist shall be tamped until hard and unyielding.

(b) MUD AND SOFT MATERIAL. When mud or other soft or spongy material is encountered, it shall be removed and the space filled with gravel or good earth, which shall be placed in layers as hereinbefore set forth for fills, and thoroughly tamped. The contractor will not be required in such cases to excavate mud or other soft or spongy material to a depth greater than two (2) feet below grade.

SECTION 3. SUBGRADE.

After the rough grading has been completed, as specified hereinbefore, the foundation shall be brought to subgrade and tamped or rolled until solid. Where the subgrade is composed of adobe or other swelling soil, the upper two (2) inches shall be removed and replaced with a sand cushion unless otherwise specified. Where the curb line does not conform to existing curbs and gutters, or new curbs are to be built, the existing curbs and gutters shall be removed, unless otherwise specified, and the space filled in with sound earth. All subgrade for sidewalks and gutters shall be determined by a guage extending to the full depth of the concrete, and supported by side strips set to a grade. Subgrading for curb or placing of sand cushion on swelling soil shall be done before curb forms have been set.

SECTION 4. BACKFILLING.

All material removed to facilitate construction shall be replaced to grade.

SECTION 5. SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS TO CHECK GRADING.

The contractor shall notify the Superintendent of Streets when a block or section has been brought to subgrade, whereupon the latter will check the elevation and condition of the same. If the work is found to be in accordance with the specifications and grade given, the Contractor shall proceed as hereinafter specified.

PART II.
MATERIALS

Section 1. Portland Cement.

(a) SPECIFICATIONS AND TESTS. All Portland Cement shall meet the requirements of the Standard Specifications and Tests for Portland Cement, Serial Designation C 9-21, approved March 31, 1922, as "American Standard", by the American Engineering Standards Committee.

(b) PACKAGES, MARKING AND STORAGE. The cement shall be delivered in suitable bags or barrels with the brand and name of the manufacturer plainly marked thereon. A bag of cement shall contain ninety-four (94) pounds net, and will be considered equivalent to one (1) cubic foot. A barrel shall contain three hundred seventy-six (376) pounds net, and will be considered as equivalent to four (4) cubic feet.

The cement shall be stored in such a manner as to permit easy access for proper inspection and identification of each shipment and in a suitable weather-tight building which will protect the cement from dampness.

(c) INSPECTION. Every facility shall be provided the Superintendent of Streets for careful sampling and inspection at either the mill or at the site of the work, as may be specified by him. When a seven (7) day test is required by the Superintendent of Streets at least ten (10) days from the time of sampling shall be allowed for the completion of the test, and at least thirty-one (31) days shall be allowed for the completion of the twenty-eight (28) day test. The cement shall be tested in accordance with the methods hereinafter prescribed. The Twenty-eight (28) day test shall be waived only when specifically ordered.

(d) REJECTION. The cement may be rejected if it fails to meet any of the requirements of these specifications.

Cement shall not be rejected on account of failure to meet the fineness requirements if, upon retest after drying at one hundred (100) degrees Centigrade for one hour, it meets this requirement.

Cement failing to meet the test for soundness in steam may be accepted if it passes a retest using a new sample at any time within twenty-eight (28) days thereafter.

Packages varying more than five (5) percent from the specified weight may be rejected; and if the average weight of packages in any shipment, as shown by weighing fifty (50) packages taken at random, is less than that specified, the entire shipment may be rejected.

Section 2. Sand.

All sand shall be clean, hard, durable, uncoated stone particles free from organic matter and lumps of clay.

(a) CONCRETE SAND. Sand for all cement and concrete work shall contain not more than three (3) per cent, be weight, of mica; not more than four (4) per cent by weight, removable by the elutriation test; not more than six (6) per cent, by weight, shall pass a sieve having one hundred (100) Meshes per linear inch; not less than ninety-five (95) per cent, by weight, shall pass a screen having four (4) meshes per linear inch; at least fifty (50) per cent but not more than eighty-five (85) per cent, by weight, shall be retained on a sieve having (30) meshes per linear inch.

When the sand is mixed with Portland Cement in the proportion of one (1) part of cement to three (3) parts of sand by weight according to the standard methods of making 1:3 mortar briquettes, the resulting briquettes at the ages of both seven (7) and twenty-eight (28) days, when compared with briquettes mixed at the same time in the same proportions and consistently using the same cement, but with Standard Ottawa Testing Sand shall show a tensile strength ratio of one hundred (100) per cent. Sand showing a tensile strength of less than one hundred (100) per cent, but not less than eighty-five (85) per cent, will be accepted for use subject to the use of additional cement.

The additional proportion of cement required shall be determined by laboratory tests and shall be the percentage required to increase the strength ratio to one hundred (100) per cent.

In the absence of the above laboratory tests, and at the option of the Superintendent of Streets only, a field test may be made as follows:

Fill an ordinary glass fruit jar two-thirds (2-3) or three-fourths (¾) full of the sample of sand, then add sufficient water to thoroughly wash the sand by vigorous shaking the shaking to be done for three (3) minutes, and by holding the jar in a vertical position after which it shall be allowed to settle. The indicated sediment appearing on the top of the well defined minute grains of sand shall not measure more than ten (10) per cent of the total after settling for one (1) hour, nor more than five (5) per cent after settling for a period of twenty-four (24) hours.

(c) CUSHION SAND. Sand for cushion under concrete work on adobe and other swelling soils, shall contain not more than ten (10) per cent by weight, of clay and silt and shall all pass a screen having one-half (½) inch round openings.

Section 3. Broken Stone or Gravel.

(a) BROKEN STONE. Broken stone shall be quarried rock, free from loam, clay and organic matter, and shall have a specific gravity of not less than two and sixty-five hundredths (2.65). It shall be uniform in quality and shall contain not more than five (5) per cent, by weight, of pieces having rounded surfaces.

(b) GRAVEL. Gravel shall consist of clean, water-worn pebbles, crushed boulders, or both, and shall be free from organic matter, shale, disintegrated, or soft stone, clay, or other deleterious substance.

(c) CLASSIFICATION. The maximum length of any one particle of gravel or broken stone passing a screen or ring, shall not be greater than fifty (50) per cent in excess of the maximum dimension specified as follows:

Not more than five (5) per cent by weight, of flat, thin, or elongated pieces or particles of stone, will be permitted in any class or size of broken stone or gravel. Pieces or particles of stone whose greatest thickness does not equal or exceed twenty (20) per cent of its greatest length will be considered as flat, thin or elongated.

The gravel, broken stone or both shall consist of sizes ranging from a minimum of not more than five (5) per cent by weight, passing a screen having one-fourth (¼) inch round openings to a maximum size that shall pass a screen having two (2) inch round openings, and shall contain sizes of which not more than ninety-five (95) per cent by weight, will pass a screen having one and one-half (1½) inch round openings and not less than twenty-five (25) per cent or more than sixty (60) per cent, by weight, will pass a screen having three-fourths (¾) inch round openings.

Section 4. Mixing Water.

The water used in mixing all concrete and mortar shall be reasonably free from alkali, silt or other impurities, and in no case shall the amount of solids exceed three (3) grams per litre. Where alkali predominates in the solid matter, the solids shall not exceed one and one-half (1½) grams per litre.

Section 5. Joints and Fillers.

Expansion joints shall be constructed at locations hereinafter specified or when shown or otherwise indicated on the plans.

The filler for the expansion joints shall consist of prepared strips of bitumen, or fibre matrix and bitumen, or similar material of approved quality, and shall be one-half (½) inch in thickness and the width shall be equal to the thickness of the pavement.

The joint filler shall be placed in a vertical position and at right angles to the center line of the walk. On completion of the sidewalk the lower edge of the filler shall be in contact with the subgrade for its entire length. The joint filler shall be supported by a well staked steel or wooden bulkhead or header of sufficient strength to hold the same in a vertical position as well as in a straight line until the concrete has been placed and tamped, after which the bulkhead or header shall be removed and the space carefully filled with additional concrete and thoroughly tamped.

The contractor shall use extreme care in the placing of expansion joint fillers to prevent damaging them during the placing, tamping, and finishing of the concrete.

CONCRETE AND MORTAR

Section 1. Concrete Proportions.

All concrete shall be mixed in the proportions of one (1) bag of Portland cement to not more than two (2) cubic feet of concrete sand, to not more than four (4) cubic feet of either crushed stone or gravel or both, and in no case shall the volume of the fine aggregate be less than one-half (½) the volume of the coarse aggregate.

The voids in the concrete shall be completely filled with mortar. If voids appear this condition shall be remedied by reducing the proportion of coarse aggregate and not by increasing the amount of fine aggregate.

The amount of mixing water used shall be the least quantity that will produce a workable mix.

Section 2. Mixing Concrete.

The concrete shall be mixed either by machine or by hand as hereinafter specified:

(a) MACHINE MIXING. If a machine mixer is used, the Contractor shall mix without spilling, such quantity of aggregates as will be within the capacity of the mixer, and in no case shall the quantity be such as to require the splitting of a sack of cement.

The mixer drum shall have a speed of not less than thirteen (13) revolutions, nor more than twenty (20) revolutions per minute and every batch of concrete shall be mixed in the drum of the mixer not less than sixty (60) seconds before any portion of the batch is discharged. The drum shall not be charged while the mixer is discharging.

(b) HAND MIXING. Where concrete is mixed by hand, one (1) box of rock shall be placed on a tight platform, not less than ten (10) feet wide and twelve (12) feet long. Upon the rock shall be placed one (1) box of sand and upon this shall be placed the requisite number sacks of cement. The inspector shall be given the opportunity to check the number of sacks of cement on each batch before the sacks are opened.

The mass shall then be turned with shovels two (2) times dry and two (2) times wet, not including shoveling into wheelbarrows. The requisite amount of water

Farm Bureau To Change Program

The farm bureau will vary their regular weekly program over KWTC next Friday evening by giving a musical program, introducing the "Kansas Fiddlers" in a repertoire of old fashioned tunes.

KWTC has lately been given a new wave length and is now broadcasting on 352.7 meters.

ORANGE COUNTY FARMERS WILL STUDY EXPENSE

By RAYMOND ELLIS
Assistant Farm Advisor

The agricultural extension service of the University of California has been carrying on cost of production studies for various crops of the state for the past two or three years. From these studies they have gotten some very valuable figures upon which the growers are able to base their future actions. The grower may, by comparing his costs and income with the acreage, see where he can improve his status by changing certain operations. Here in Orange county the citrus and poultrymen are already studying their farm business and apparently are making much headway.

One of our very important crops, which has not been studied yet, is lima beans. Therefore, the farm advisor's office is contemplating carrying on this study, providing a sufficient number of growers is found who wish to cooperate. The system used is as follows; each grower who is cooperating is sent an expense sheet at the beginning of every month, on which sheet he puts all of his expenses for the month, including such items as labor, seed, water, etc. This sheet is returned to the farm advisor at the end of each month, where all sheets are summarized. Each grower is given a number, so that all his figures are confidential, and no mention is ever made of an owner's name in connection with his business.

Besides the expense sheets, mentioned above, an inventory of land and equipment is also taken so that interest on investment, depreciation and other hidden costs may be figured. Also the income is secured, so that in making the final annual summary the grower is able to find not only his cost of production, the cost per pound for every operation carried on, but also the income from the business as well as the net profit over and above all expenses.

As mentioned before, all figures secured are purely confidential and any results which are published are for the whole group and never for any one individual. Lima bean growers who are interested in carying on this study, starting next fall, can get further information at the farm advisor's office, Santa Ana.

CALIFORNIA FARMS ARE ELECTRIFIED

California leads all states in the union by a large margin in the use of electricity by agriculturists, according to statistics recently compiled by the committee on relation of electricity to agriculture. Rural consumers will pay approximately $20,000,000 for electricity during 1927, it is estimated.

These statistics, which are the result of an exhaustive investigation undertaken by the committee, indicate that 51,000 farms in California had electric service in 1925; 40,320 of these farms using electric power in some form, and 9060 using electric heating and cooking equipment. Electricity for household lighting was used by 49,800 farms. The survey indicates that in addition to the 51,000 farms supplied with electricity there were 159,000 rural consumers of electricity.

The report further indicates that California farmers paid $11,010,-694.15 for electric power in 1925 to serve 635,913 horsepower of motors, exclusive of the amount paid for other uses to which electricity is put. No indication of this additional revenue from all rural consumers is given in the committee's report. If included, total revenue for 1925 would approximate $17,000,000. Based on growth during the last two years, the 1927 rural electric revenue will be well in excess of $20,000,000.

The California committee on relation of electricity to agriculture was organized in 1925 to investigate and solve problems in connection with the use of electricity on the farm. The committee is working in co-operation with the College of Agriculture at Davis, and studies undertaken are mainly under the direction of faculty members of that institution. The committee personnel embraces representatives of the College of Agriculture, the railroad commission of the state of California, the farm bureau, the electric power companies and electric equipment manufacturers.

Important work dealing with pumping installations, incubators, brooders, sterilization of dairy equipment, dehydration of farm products, stationary spray equipment and other matters of importance to the farmer, has already been accomplished.

More Strawberries

After a good winter, the strawberry plantations of Canada expect to produce a larger yield than that of last year. The estimated yield for this year is nearly 13,500,000 quarts.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERT VISITS ORANGE COUNTY

Prof. B. H. Crocheron, director of the agricultural extension service of the University of California, paid a brief visit to Orange county Saturday. While here he conferred with the farm advisor staff and the executive committee of the farm bureau.

He was much impressed with the favorable appearance of crops in Orange county at this time. He commented on the possible profits from such crops to the individual grower, and said that very little attention was given to cost accounts by the agricultural industry of California with a business investment of three and a half billion dollars.

"No other business could endure under such conditions," said Crocheron. "Less than 5 per cent of the farmers on the 136,409 farms of California keep any kind of farm accounts, and less than 1 per cent keep accounts that could be used in the reorganization of their business along profitable lines.

"Even where financial records are kept on the farms, they are not in most cases adequate for a study of the relative profitableness of the various enterprises," continued Crocheron. "Those farmers who do keep records of sufficient accuracy to study the reorganization of their business operations are often at a loss to know whether or not the cost of various operations is 'in line' with costs on other farms operated under similar soil and climatic conditions. In a recent study on poultry, it was found that labor costs per hen varied from 28 cents to $1.34 on flocks producing commercial eggs, the average labor costs per hen being 74 cents. The poultryman who had a labor cost of $1.34 could not tell from his own records whether or not such labor cost was too high. He needed a comparative hardstick with which to measure his labor efficiency.

"The same fundamental needs exists in all lines of farming, whether it be crops or livestock. Such measures of efficiency can only be secured through the co-operation of farmers with some agency which can take actual farm records and make an analysis of them. The University of California agricultural extension service offers such an opportunity to California farmers. Through its farm advisors in co-operation with the farm management demonstrator, a system of records has been worked out which enables farmers who are co-operating to make comparisons of the efficiency of various farm practices. There are at present 51 such enterprise efficiency studies under way in 27 counties. Sixteen hundred and sixty-six are co-operating in keeping records on 22 different farm crops."

LIVESTOCK GROUPS DEVELOP INDUSTRY

That the various organizations of breeders and stockmen have been largely responsible for developing the livestock industry in the United States is the view of Secretary of Agriculture Jardine. In commenting on the benefits of well-conducted organizations, in a recent communication to the Arizona Cattle Growers' association, the secretary expressed the following views: "Such organizations provide beneficial contact among their members, resulting in the exchange of experiences, in the formulation of constructive plans, and in various financial benefits. They also enable stock owners, through the officers, to represent the membership in matters of transportation, taxation, and legislation."

In conection with the activities of livestock associations, Secretary Jardine commented also on the mutual effects of stockmen and public officials toward livestock improvement. "The department of agriculture has been active for many years," Mr. Jardine said, "in encouraging the breeding of better livestock especially through the use of purebred sires. Our information shows plainly that improved animals have considerably greater utility value than ordinary livestock, and, in the case of meat animals, the better-bred stock produce superior carcasses."

OUTLOOK FOR CROPS FINE IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—California has exceptionally fine crop prospects, according to the farm report by the Santa Fe railway for June, issued by J. F. Jarrell, agricultural manager of the system, based upon telegraphic reports received from the twelve states traversed by the lines.

"The heavy snow pack in the Sierras is lingering longer than for many years, and this, with the rainfall at frequent intervals in the spring, makes certain the supply of water for irrigation," reads the report. It further is stated that California never before has presented so well balanced a program for soil production as at present.

While it is a little early to speculate about grapes, conditions are said to be favorable. All other fruits, melons, vegetables, grain and hay promise good yields. Dairy and poultry production showed submonths of the year, the report stantial gains during the first four states.

THESE DAIRY CATTLE ONCE CIRCUS FREAKS

PROBLEMS OF THE SOIL

Question: Can you give me information on strawberry cultivation, such as the proper method of watering and fertilizing, how to treat runners and especially what to do about over abundance of foliage which seems to interfere with the production of fruit? I have received much help from your column and wish to take this occasion to express my sincere thanks, also to thank you in advance for your answer to the above.—Mrs. H. J. P.

Answer: In this locality nearly all strawberries are planted in the spring, from February to May. The plants are spaced about a foot or 15 inches apart in the rows and the rows are from two to three feet apart. In home gardens where space is limited the rows can be closer together. The plants may also be placed in double rows on a slight ridge and between the ridges the furrow serves for an irrigation ditch.

If your soil is light and warm you will get earlier fruit than if it is heavy and cold, although the latter soil will probably outyield the former. Sufficient irrigation and fertilization will permit strawberries to be grown on almost any soils, however, except those that are poorly drained or that are charged with alkali.

The amount of water to use and the frequency of irrigation depends upon the type of soil to a large extent. Light soils need more frequent irrigations than heavy ones. The condition of the soil around the berry roots at any given time must be your guide as to necessity for water. It should never dry out so that it will not hold together when pressed tightly in the hand. Any soil, either light or heavy, can be made more retentive of moisture and easier to work if quantities of organic matter are spaded into it from time to time. Straw manures are valuable for this purpose, as they carry both fertilizing elements and organic matter. Bean straw or alfalfa hay will serve the same purpose.

All runners should be removed from bearing plants unless it is desired to secure new plants to replace old ones or to make new beds. Young plants especially should have the runners constantly removed in order to throw the strength of the plant into vine growing and fruiting. It is probable that fewer irrigations and less fertilization will give the plants a smaller vegetative growth and enable them to bear more fruit.

Some growers irrigate by the overhead sprinkling system and others by the furrow method. The former is satisfactory if the ground is thoroughly mulched with some such material as straw. A mulch of this character also serves to keep the berries cleaner and prevents evaporation of moisture.

As indicated above, barnyard fertilizer is quite satisfactory for strawberries. If this is not obtainable, fertilizer from chicken runs can be used, or fish meal. In any event some organic (vegetable) matter ought to be used with the fertilizer. Barnward or chicken fertilizer can be put on the beds during the winter or early spring, as it will not be available for some little time afterwards. After the plants start into growth a little ground bone and blood fertilizer can be used to good advantage. Excessive amounts of fertilizer should not be used, however, or else a heavy foliage growth will be obtained at the expense of the fruit.

Question: For two years I have tried to grow watermelons and have had bad luck each time. I have planted again this year and hope to do better. Even up to the time the vines were quite large and the melons were half grown they would wilt and die. Can I do anything to prevent such an occurrence this year? Any advice you can give will be appreciated. —S. W. P.

Answer: Watermelon wilt cannot be cured when once it attacks a vine. Preventive measures only can be employed. Wilt is a fungus that lives in the soil, enters the small roots and grows up through the water-conducting tissues, effectively plugging them up and causing the plants to die for lack of water. Unfortunately the wilt fungus lives over in the soil from year to year so that it is not safe to plant watermelons in wilt-infested ground for several years thereafter. It is said that in sections subject to wilt 10 or 12 years must elapse before melons can be planted where wilt has been.

Preventive measures to be employed include new soil and a location so situated that water does not flow over old soil on the new. Cultivating and other tools should not be moved from the old infested field directly to the new. Even cattle and horses must not move from the one field to the other. Probably all these precautions need not be observed literally if wilt was not very severe, but in some soils and under some conditions it is the only way to grow wilt free vines.

Question: Last year we suffered considerable loss from pinworm injury to tomatoes. What can we do this year, if anything, to insure freedom from similar trouble? This is a very serious problem with tomato growers and should have some attention.—J. S. B.

Answer: From specimens sent to entomologists by the writer last year it was determined that the so-called pinworm was in reality the eggplant leaf miner. Many growers have held the opinion that the pinworm was only a small stage of the corn earworm, also injurious to tomatoes. This has now been definitely settled, however. Investigations made last year indicate that pinworm injury was much more severe in the older vegetable sections where eggplant has also been grown for a long period. In the newer districts where no eggplant has been grown commercially, pinworm injury was practically, if not entirely absent.

Control measures cannot as yet be definitely advised owing to a lack of information as to the exact life history of the insect in question. The state department of agriculture has been requested to supply this and recommend measures to be used. It is probable that orsenical dusts may be employed, especially calcium arsenate. This would also control the corn earworm, but would have to be used with caution on vines after the fruit has set. The use of arsenicals seem necessary on many food plants at certain stages of their growth, but should never be applied directly to the edible portion of the plant, as on the fruit, after it has attained any size. On apples, for instance, arsenicals must not be used later than four weeks from the last calyx spray. Otherwise the fruit must be carefully and thoroughly wiped before being marketed.

Federal Farm F-A-C-T-S

This has begun as a rather poor year for agriculture, what with floods, storms and drought that have been concentrated in perhaps the greatest series of disaster in the history of this country. The bureau of agricultural economics sums up the situation in this way:

"Spring planting throughout the north has been delayed probably two weeks later than average. The Mississippi flood has inundated more than 3,000,000 acres of crop land in five states. The southeast and a portion of the southwest have suffered from drought. Eastern pastures and western ranges alike have been slow to furnish spring feed, though the abundant moisture promises an ample grass crop for summer."

Lower yields of cane per acre, a smaller return of sugar per ton of cane, and greater supplies of sirup and molasses have reduced the sugar yield from the 1926 cane crop of Louisiana to only 47,000 tons, the lowest yield since 1873.

If there were a sufficient seed supply and assurance of a regular supply of long cotton, the coastal plains districts of the southeast could very well return to profitable production of sea-island cotton, says the Department of Agriculture. The tendency toward higher prices in this staple arouses interest in it.

Cattle, Once Regarded As Circus Freaks, Good Dairy Animals

MIAMI, Fla., June 22.—Barnum's circus cows, freaks when they were introduced in America in 1847, now comprise the greater part of the stock on a million dollar dairy plant near here. They are producing rich milk for babies and are prized as some of the finest cattle in the country.

Once a curiosity, they now number 200 on the White Belt farm of Dr. and Mrs. John Gordon DuPuis, at Lemon City, near here. Gem of Columbia, one of this stock, broke the world's record for her breed at 11 years of age, for milk and butter production, and the following year surpassed even this with a production of 17,258 pounds of milk and 634 pounds of butterfat.

For Sick Children

Dr. DuPuis started his great dairy venture in 1906 with a lone Jersey cow. He wanted to supply his sick children patients with pure milk. Now he supplies a special baby's milk for tiny infants and a standard milk for children, equal to the best from other cows.

His 800 white belt cows roam on a 930 acre farm that exceeds an investment of a million dollars. More than half of the farm value is invested in cattle and equipment. The same farm grows its own forage, nearly 1200 tons a year, mostly Para and Carib grasses. Hundreds of acres of corn are also grown for silage.

A Modern Plant

The farm has its own electric refrigeration plant, its own sterilizing and bottling plants, laundry, commissary and other modern farm machinery. Even a private laboratory is maintained to keep a constant check on the milk. The average daily bacterial count is four times less than the government's requirement for certified milk.

Dr. DuPuis is president of the Dutch Belted Cattle association of America. As such he leads also in having 150 pure-bred Dutch belted cows, said to be the largest herd of the kind in the world.

Despite this great enterprise, which demands a great deal of his interest, Dr. DuPuis still follows his profession. Today, however, he visits his patients by modern auto, but he well remembers when he cut across lots on foot through the palmettos of Florida to make his daily rounds.

COLD STORAGE EGGS AND MEAT INCREASE

Cold storage holdings of meats, eggs and poultry on June 1 this year were larger than on the same date last year, but stocks of creamery butter and American cheese were in smaller volume, according to the June cold storage report issued today by the bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture.

A marked increase in the supply of frozen pork is reported, stocks of this commodity aggregating 211,-496,000 pounds on June 1, against 117,366,000 pounds on June 1 a year ago. Total meat stocks in storage, including frozen beef, frozen pork, frozen lamb and mutton, cured beef, dry salt pork, pickled pork and miscellaneous meats are reported at 899,670,000 pounds against 676,781,000 pounds last year.

Creamery butter supplies are lower than at this time a year ago, being 25,340,000 pounds on June 1, against 30,561,000 pounds last June. Stocks of American cheese are given at 35,780,000 pounds against 39,346,000 pounds last year. Holdings of case eggs are reported at 9,096,000 cases against 7,236,000 cases on June 1, 1926.

Total stocks of frozen poultry, including broilers, fryers, roasters, fowls, turkeys and miscellaneous poultry are reported at 61,488,000 pounds against 42,808,000 pounds last year. There were 227,000 barrels of apples in storage June 1 against 221,000 barrels last June, and 724,000 boxes against 1,104,000 boxes.

Dairy Men Seek Pay For Cattle Found Diseased

POMONA, June 22.—Local dairymen are interested in the movement recently started among dairymen in the southeastern part of Los Angeles county and in San Bernardino county to secure state indemnity on milk cows branded as tubercular and on those killed after state inspection.

The present system of branding and killing cows listed as tubercular, without compensating the owners, is considered by many dairymen as unjust and as too heavy a strain on the dairy industry.

Committees are being formed to circulate petitions bearing on the matter in this and other dairy districts of the state, so that these may be presented to the legislature at its next session.

WIRE BRACING ADVOCATED FOR WALNUT TREES

Good trees mean dollars in the pocketbook and broken trees are a distinct liability. In many instances in the county weak deciduous and walnut trees are showing up, according to H. E. Wahlberg, farm advisor. This is always the case about this time of the year, he states. Such trees should have been wire brased during the winter but it is never too late. Summer wire bracing is easier in that the wood is soft and screw eyes can be set in with ease but it is more difficult because limbs are down and may need lifting before the wires are fastened. Also, foliage interferes with clear vision.

Props require lots of money, are distinctly temporary and must be put in position every year. A wire brace, once properly installed, is good for many years and costs but very little more in the first place. In later years a great saving is made, as no labor is required.

The loss of one tree in a 60 foot planting of walnuts means approximately 8 per cent of the earning capacity of the acre gone. The loss of one deciduous tree means two or 3 per cent of the earning capacity gone. It takes years to grow a big tree. A little neglect in wire bracing will break it down in one season.

The University of California published a circular on the subject, "Wire Bracing of Fruit Trees." Strengths of materials, kinds of screw eyes and other supplies and systems of bracing are described. Copies of this circular may be obtained by writing the office of the farm advisor in the hall of records, Santa Ana.

PUBLISH FORESTRY BOOK FOR TEACHERS

The increasing importance of the study of the forest and forest products in both secondary and grade schools is recognized by the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture, in the publication of a new forestry handbook for teachers.

The new bulletin, "The Forest. A Handbook for Teachers' 'is designed to help teachers choose the right material for lessons in forest study and present it with a varied appeal to the interest of children of different ages and grades. The booklet was prepared by D. Priscilla Edgerton, now state supervisor of forestry education of Mississippi, who has had large experience as a teacher and as an educational specialist of the forest service.

Forestry material adapted to the primary grades and detailed outlines for forest study in each term of the fifth to ninth grades are given in the handbook. The outlines present appropriate subject matter, illustrative material, study questions, practical exercises, suggestions for supplementary reading, and correlations with such subjects as language, geography, history, general science, agriculture and civics.

Chinese Bodies Are Sent Home

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 22.—The bones of 600 Chinese who have been dead seven years or more, will be exhumed at Mountainview cemetery here and shipped to their last resting place in China. Permission to exhume the bodies has been granted by Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer.

The city stands to gain $7200 in the transaction as the graves may be resold at $12 each. Health authorities reported that the exhumations will solve temporarily the problem of cemetery space for Chinese, that portion of the cemetery now allotted to them being filled up.

Farmers Trap Worms

The labor and bait present problems which are chiefly responsible for abandoning the fly traps. Therefore a small group of ranchmen organized for the joint employment of a man to care for their traps. Each member got his own traps and set them up.

The experience of the fly-trapping organization established the fact that fly trapping can be considered an effectual means of controlling the screw worm; that an organized effort can help in getting the traps cared for; that one man can care for than that 200 traps, and that the cost of labor and bait need not be prohibitive.

SPRAY DITCHES TO KILL WEEDS NEAR TALBERT

New Method of Eliminating Growths Being Tried Out by Drainage District

By C. F. CRAWFORD
Farm Editor The Register

An elaborate program of weed control, which is expected to be of great benefit to pepper growers in Orange county, was started today by the Talbert Drainage district. The Bolsa Drainage district has signed a contract by which it will also carry out the program, and other drainage districts are expected to follow suit.

The weed control program started today in Talbert consists of a spraying process. The banks of all drainage ditches in the area are sprayed with a special machine and a special chemical. The chemical destroys all vegetation along the ditches.

There are approximately 25 miles of ditch to be sprayed in the Talbert area and approximately the same amount of ditch in the Bolsa district. The spray machine, which was started today for the first time in Orange county can cover from one to two miles of ditch per day.

The ditch spraying is expected to prove of untold value to Orange county pepper growers. Pepper weevil, which have during the past two years practically destroyed the pepper crop, are said to hide in the weeds along the banks of the ditches, coming from their lairs in the spring and attacking the pepper plants. The chemical process in eliminating the weeds will also eradicate many thousands of pepper weevils, it is expected.

The program launched in the Talbert district is the first in the county. Directors of the district were prevailed upon to adopt the spray system some time ago after witnessing a demonstration on the effectiveness of the spray system. The start in Talbert today was made on the district ditch about a half mile west and a half mile south of Talbert.

It is estimated that approximately 20 days will be necesasry to complete the spraying in the Talbert district. Following the completion of the work in the Talbert area the spraying machine will be moved to the Bolsa district and about 25 miles of ditch will be sprayed there.

The spraying method is much easier and cheaper as well as more effective than hand work, it is reported by C. W. Miller, representative of the spray company, who is in charge of the work.

"The spray will not completely eradicate weeds," Miller declared, "but it will do much to halt them. Growing weeds are killed, roots are destroyed and weeds will not appear on the sprayed ground for several months."

The cost of spraying is reported to be about $100 per mile. The spraying process in the Talbert and Bolsa districts will cost approximately $5000.

According to Miller, negotiations are now under way with a number of other drainage districts in the southern part of Orange county to spray other ditches. The eradication of weeds by spraying is to be followed in a few weeks by the burning of the dead material, which will prevent the clogging up of the ditches. This is expected to save the district considerable expense in cleaning ditches each year.

Agriculture Man To Visit Hawaii

Dr. O. E. Baker, bureau of agricultural economics economist, will participate in the meetings of the Institute of Pacific Relations at Honolulu the latter half of July, the United States Department of Agriculture announced today.

The conference, which will be attended by leading business men, economists, and college professors from Japan, China, Australia and other parts of the British empire, and the United States, will consider economic and political problems of Pacific countries.

One group of conferees will give especial attention to the agricultural resources of the various countries with relation to increasing population. Doctor Baker will contribute information on agricultural resources in the United States in relation to population, and information along the same line regarding conditions in China.

SLIGHTLY USED NASH SEDANS

We have a few nearly new Nash Sedans that are from a service standpoint just as dependable as new cars. These Nashs have had good care in the hands of their original owners who traded them in on new and larger cars. They have all been completely reconditioned in our own service department and have the appearance of being new.

Today's Offerings

Buy now while you have the opportunity of securing a nearly new Nash 2 door or 4 door sedan at a tremendous discount.

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, June 22.—Describing the market, the Wall Street Journal's financial review today said:

Conflicting forces in the market waged a hot fight in today's session. Prices moved with bewildering irregularity, dut to heavy selling in many sections of the list, coincident with aggressive buying in others.

Fears regarding Ford competition was made the basis of a determined drive on the motor shares.

Oils were another group which displayed heaviness. Leading oil men have never been optimistic over the outcome of the plan to curtail production.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, June 22.—Wheat offerings were rather heavy at the start on the Chicago Board of Trade today and prices eased off moderately.

Commission houses representing northwest accounts, picked up some wheat on the dip and prices firmed. The cash market was steady and unchanged.

Corn was firm after a little dip early but later sold off, local support not being sufficient to take up the offerings.

Oats did very little and showed no price change of consequence.

Provisions were dull but a little firmer on commission house buying.

ANAHEIM DEFEATS SANTA ANA, 4 TO 3

Billy Evans Says

While the life of a major league umpire is often far from an enviable one, there are apparently several tougher jobs in baseball. George Moriarty, who first starred as a big league player, became one of the best umpires in baseball and is now manager of the Detroit Tigers, is well fitted to discuss the toughest job in baseball.

Incidentally, I am positive that George wouldn't pick umpiring as the hardest of the three, player, manager and umpire, all of which he has tasted.

"Two hours is usually the limit for an umpire's woe unless the game goes into extra innings, but the manager worries all 24 hours, and he can't go to sleep, which is often the case," explains Moriarty in drawing a comparison between the two positions.

The failure of the Detroit Tigers to get away to a flying start has immediately put the burdens of managing a big league club up on Moriarty for a quick solution.

In the American league this year, we find two decided contrasts from a managerial standpoint in George Moriarty and Ray Schalk. Taking over the Detroit Tigers, a team that had always threatened under Cobb but invariably faltered in the stretch, Moriarty was conceded to have the makings of quite a ball club.

Some of the experts went so far as to pick the Detroit Tigers to win the pennant, which required a most optimistic temperament. Less optimistic scribes expressed the belief that the team would prove to be the dark horse of the race, which after all, can mean anything.

On one thing all critics agreed after sizing up the possibilities of the Detroit, the team could hit, regardless of any other faults it might have.

During the first two months of this year's play, the Tigers have failed to do the very thing every one agreed they could, whale the ball out of the old baseball.

Instead of getting away to a good start, the club has seldom been better than .500 and most of the time has been in seventh place.

Ray Schalk, who, like Moriarty, is making his debut as a big league manager, has met with just the opposite conditions.

None of the experts who toured the spring training camps, even mentioned the White Sox as a possible pennant contender. When Johnny Mostil was lost, the club was counted out by many.

Instead of being an also ran, Chicago, favored by fine pitching, which Schalk has handled with excellent judgment, plus timely batting and the breaks, has been the surprise of the race.

Since managerial ability is judged by the games won column, Ray Schalk is being hailed as a great manager, while judgment is being reserved on George Moriarty.

I know both Schalk and Moriarty to be two of the smartest players I have ever come into contact with. Each knows the game thoroughly. It is one thing to know it, however, and quite another to get results.

SHARKEY ROARS DEFIANCE AS JACK DEMPSEY KEEPS HIM IN RICKARD'S OFFICE WAITING

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, June 22.—Two signatures on a dummy contract for the convenience of movie photographers, a permit from the boxing commission to scale prices at the Yankee stadium from $3 to $27.50 and a series of hand shakes were all that remained today between Tex Rickard and a million dollar fight.

The principals will be Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight champion, and Jack Sharkey, the bashful Boston heavyweight.

Dempsey was due here today and unless Sharkey rebels, all the principals will meet for an official announcement that thematch has been signed for July 21.

Sharkey kicked over the traces yesterday when Dempsey failed to appear, thus keeping Sharkey sweltering in New York when he wanted to be elsewhere.

Jack Sharkey

Rickard explained that Dempsey stopped in Wilmington, Del., to see his mother-in-law. Sharkey roared. Then he stormed out of Rickard's palatial offices.

Rickard half way admitted that he hasn't reached a definite agrement with Dempsey but added "it won't take much time."

It was indicated that Dempsey was satisfied with the purse offered for the Sharkey fight but was not satisfied with what Rickard offered him for a return match against Gene Tunney if he wins from Sharkey.

"There'll be time to talk about that when he gets by Sharkey," Rickard said.

Sharkey said today he was going to train in Stillman's gymnasium in the center of New York.

PROTEST LOOMS IN GAME LOST BY S. A. STARS

A protest of the Orange County Night league baseball game lost, 4 to 3, by Santa Ana to Anaheim loomed today as officials of the local All-Stars had before them evidence of an absolute misinterpretation of the playing rules last night.

Manager John Wilcox and Captain Bill Cole refused to comment on the possibility of taking the matter before league authorities and asking for a decision but it was known that such a move was being contemplated.

The play in question came up in Anaheim's half of the eighth inning and figured directly in a run that was scored by the league-leading Colonists.

With runners on first and third bases, with the bases full and one man out, P. Schrott hit a line drive at Horace Snow, Santa Ana second baseman. As Snow was about to field the ball he was knocked over by Ashleigh, the baserunner on first base, who was moving up on the play. Ashleigh was declared automatically out for interference but the runner on third, Oswald, was allowed to score and the runner on second, Merrill was allowed to take third from where he tallied later.

Section 7 of Rule 55 states clearly that on such a situation the runner shall be declared out and that no baserunners may advance but must return to the bags which they occupied before the play.

HUNTINGTON BEACH IN SURPRISE WIN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 22—Huntington Beach surprised Fullerton in an Orange County Night Baseball league set-to here last night, the Oilers nosing out "Shorty" Smith's entry, 5 to 4, in a ding dong battle. Millard held the visitors to six hits and fanned 11. "Doc" McClelland allowed only seven bingles. The score:

Fullerton	4	6	2
Huntington Beach	5	7	3

FAVORITES WIN IN WOMEN'S TOURNEY

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 22—The ponies were stepping high, wide and handsome yesterday in the first round of match play over the Buffalo Country club course at the annual invitation tournament. Perfect weather prevailed and with the nerve wracking qualifying round behind them, all the champions relaxed into easy playing form and the favorites came through, winning their matches by wide margins.

Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago city champion, and low medalist eliminated Fritzi Stefel, 4 and 3. Miss Louise Fordyce had a harder time defeating Miss Bernice Wall, the match going to the seventeenth hole. Miss Fordyce won because she played her irons better than Miss Wall.

Canzoneri Still Chicago Favorite

CHICAGO, June 22.—Those gentlemen who prefer blonde boxers to brunettes are outnumbered 7 to 5 in picking the winner of the Bud Taylor-Tony Canzoneri bantamweight championship bout here tomorrow night.

The black haired New York Italian challenger was a betting favorite over Taylor today and it seems probable that he will be a 6 to 5 favorite when he crawls into the ring in Cubs' park.

Fidel La Barba Wins On Points

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 22 — Fidel La Barba, world's flyweight champion, won easily from Mike Brodie of Peoria, here last night. La Barba had a big margin in each of the 10 rounds. Joe Woods, Los Angeles light heavyweight, stopped Tom Pivac, St. Louis, in the ninth round of a scheduled 10 round semi-final.

You'd Be SURPRISED!

BY BILLY EVANS

In the history of major league baseball, only two players have ever made four home runs in one game.

Back in 1894, Bobby Lowe of the Boston club registered four circuit drives, two of them coming in one inning. Two years Ed Delehanty, the Babe Ruth of his day, equaled Lowe's great feat.

For over 30 years, baseball's greatest sluggers have been shooting at the mark. On 19 occasions various stars have made three home runs, but all fell short of the four.

Mn Monday, June 13, of this year, I saw Ben Paschal of the New York Yankees miss sharing fame with Lowe and Delehanty by a matter of inches. Making the happening all the more remarkable, is the fact that Paschal was substituting for Bob Meusel.

On his third appearance he reached out and hit a fast one on a line to right. It failed to clear the wire netting in front of the bleachers by perhaps six inches. He made two bases on it.

In his final appearance, he repeated his drive to right field and once again a mere matter of inches only kept the ball from clearing the barrier. This time he made three bases on the drive.

Paschal's record for the day was a double, triple and two home runs. Only a few inches had kept him from four home runs, thereby equaling a record that has stood for over 30 years.

Baby Gans Stops O'Brien In First

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Baby Joe Gans, negro lightweight, today loomed as the outstanding threat in that division by virtue of a knockout scored over Tommy O'Brien after two minutes and seven seconds battling in the first round at the Olympic last night.

472-MILE RACE TO OREGON WON BY MAD BULL

GRANTS PASS, Ore., June 22.—Stumbling into town, footsore and weary, but, nevertheless, in good physical condition, Mad Bull, champion Indian runner, early today captured the 472 mile marathon from San Francisco to this city.

The fleet-footed member of the Karook tribe completed the long journey over the Redwood highway at 12:18 a. m.

Although greeted as a conquering hero by the thousands of persons who lined the streets, the hardy Indian was too tired to pay much attention to the wild cheers of the throngs as he swung down the principal business street of Grants Pass.

Flying Cloud, also a Karook of Oregon, who had trailed his brother tribesman since early in the race, finished second. He was nine miles behind Mad Bull.

S. A. GIRL TENNIS STAR IN BIG TEST

Miss Josephine Crookshank, talented Santa Ana tennis player, today faced her most serious opposition to date in the Southern California women's singles championships when she went against Miss Gladys Patz, University of California at Los Angeles star, at the Los Angeles Tennis club.

Miss Crookshank advanced into the second round successfully yesterday by eliminating Miss Robinson in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1. Miss Patz provided the season's biggest sensation when she scored a straight-set triumph over Miss Louise McFarland, national junior champion, 6-4, 6-3.

POLY MENTOR BELIEVES NEW GRID RULES APT TO CONFUSE OFFICIALS AS WELL AS FANS

After carefully studying and watching the progress of the new football rules as they complicated the pastime during spring practice at Santa Ana high school, Coach "Tex" Oiver, Poly's moleskin mentor, has two definite and interesting hunches anent the changes. Oliver is now on his way to Corvallis, Ore., where he will attend the coaching school to be operated at Oregon Agricultural college by Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame football wizard.

Both his conclusions hinge on the new lateral pass rulings.

The first of Oliver's contentions is that weak elevens will be humiliated more next fall than in other years and the second is that officials will find their work considerably more complicated.

Oliver's first hunch came from watching his own teams use the lateral pass during their spring rehearsal of new football regulations. Without exception the play was of the type which will characterize the sport next fall, both lateral and backward passes being utilized by the makeshift elevens.

"When teams are playing strong opposition they will be careful and will seldom use the lateral pass," Oliver said. "When they are meeting weaker outfits they will throw their way to many touchdowns via the lateral pass."

Oliver was officiating in a practice game this spring when the play came up that caused his second conclusion.

A back, while running, fumbled. The back claimed he was preparing to pass. Oliver ruled otherwise, although he felt convinced the player was honest in his claim.

"But what are the officials going to do about it next fall?" Oliver asked. "How are they going to tell when a pass is intended and when a fumble is a fumble?

"That will make their work more complicated. A rule like that is not much of an asset to the game. It will confuse the spectators as well as the players and the officials."

Other alterations in the rules, however, are looked on with more favor by the Santa Ana tutor. Oliver is particularly a booster for the regulations which requires the removal of the goal-posts to back of the end zones, an action that will decrease the threat of the drop-kicker and also will necessitate more accuracy in converting goals after touchdowns. This plan also will encourage running plays in the effort to acquire the extra point after touchdown.

CITY SCHEDULE ABOUNDS WITH GOOD CONTESTS

For the first time since early May, Lincoln park was totally "dark" yesterday, no games being played in either the Santa Ana Twilight or Night leagues.

The United Presbyterian Hill-Climbers, undefeated leaders of the Twilight circuit, added a sixth win to their list without so much as turning a hand when the Frances Willard Playgrounders failed to put in an appearance and the Platt Silvertown-Chandler Furniture company ruckus in the Night loop was postponed because of the Santa Ana-Anaheim County league classic.

The Post Office and the City Hall teams were scheduled to tie-up in the Twilight ranks today. The Hill-Climbers meet the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps tomorrow.

One of the finest matches of the season is looked for tonight when the unbeaten Santa Ana Lumbermen go against the formidable Tiernan Typewriter company in a City league date. Harold Jensen toiled on the ridge last night so "Specs" Snow may attend to the deceiving for the Lumbermen whereas Tom Hitt will do the chores for the Kids.

The Night league schedule abounds with interesting assignments for the next two weeks. The Lumber company and the Blauer Grocers will clash in their much argued playoff and the Platt Silvertowns have a postponed date with the Chandlers. The Silvertowns also must face the Lumbermen and the Blauers. The Blauers yet must meet the Chandlers and the Chandler-Tiernan tiff the first week of July also should be a stirring fray.

Santa Ana also will be the locale in coming weeks for many Friday night encounters in the high-powered Orange County legaue. John Wilcox's All-Stars spent most of their nights abroad during the first halp of the season and will play five of their next seven contests at Lincoln park, a condition that should help the faltering aggregation in its bids for the Southern California title.

JENSEN BLOWS UP AFTER FINE START ON SLAB

Wilcox, Relief Hurler, Is Ineffective and Locals Throw Away Victory

Last sad obsequies were said today over Santa Ana's chances for the championship of the Orange County Night Baseball league and they were getting ready to send Anaheim into the Southern California playoffs as representatives of this district following the 4 to 3 setback suffered by the local All-Stars on the Colonists' field last night.

These preparations, while a bit premature perhaps, seem logical in view of circumstantial evidence which indicates strongly that no team in this league is going to beat Anaheim unless it is Santa Ana and Santa Ana gets only one more shot at the Colonists which isn't enough. Only a major reversal of form will prevent Anaheim from capturing the rag.

The victory was doubly costly to the local squad in that Luther Babcock, veteran catcher, suffered a broken finger during Anaheim's ninth inning rally and was forced to leave the game. He probably will be out of the game for several weeks.

John Wilcox's assemblage had their old ball game won until the last two innings when Harold Jensen, Santa Ana's willowy moundsman, skyrocketed suddenly, lost all semblance of control and wild-pitched himself right out of the tussle. "Eeny" Wilcox, usually as sauve in the "clutches" as old Grover Cleveland Alexander, took charge of a grave situation in the ninth, got himself into deeper water at the outset and never was able to extricate himself. Indeed, the usually reliable Wilcox was just as wild as Jensen.

Pitched Good Ball

He was wild but just wild enough to be effective and none of his passes proved costly early in the evening. The only safety wormed off him was a cheap single off the end of Walker's bat that fell safe in right field in the fifth.

Santa Ana got two runs in the second, Nelson and John Lutz beating out successive bunts and advancing a notch when Babcock grounded to first base. Jensen also grounded to first and Nelson scored and then Lutz tallied when Ashleigh kicked Hill's drive.

Hill brought in the locals' third run in the fifth. He drew a pass and came all the way home from first when Horace Snow's hard line drive got away from P. Schrott and went for a double.

Anaheim got two of these back in the eighth. Oswald, first up, got a walk an dwas wild pitched to second. Moody, batting for Rockwell, popped out. Oswald reached third on a wild pitch while Jensen was passing Merrill and the bases were loaded when Ashleigh also received four wide ones. P. Schrott grounded to Snow and Ashleigh was called out for interference when he crashed into Snow while the Santa Anan was fielding the ball. Oswald scored during the mixup and Merrill dashed in when Jensen cut loose with a wild pitch before he fanned B. Bushman.

Sad Santa Ana News

Starting in where he left off, Jensen walked L. Schrott to open the ninth and then gave way to Wilcox who was greeted by A. Bushman with a sharp single through the box. Walker forced Schrott at third, Scott unassisted, but a wild pitch put Bushman on third and Walker on second and another wild heave let Bushman scamper home with the tying tally and Walker advanced to third. Oswald finally got a walk. Moody hit a sizzling single to center and Walker trotted in with the score that meant his own ball game.

Santa Ana got a tough break in the first of the eighth when Wayne Nelson cracked a terrific home run to deep right. The ball obviously fell in fair territory by several feet and Allender, the base umpire, who was as near to the spot where the rotund fell as any-

CARDINAL STAR OUT OF GAME FOR YEAR

ST. LOUIS, June 22 — Tommy Thevenow, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, probably will be out of baseball for the remainder of the season as the result of a compound fracture of his ankle which he suffered in the second game of a double-header with the Chicago Cubs here yesterday. Thevenow, hero of the 1926 world series, is rated as one of the best shortpatchers in the game.

The Cardinals tumbled the Cubs into third place in the National league standing by winning both games. The first one was a 13 inning thriller, which went to the Cards, 6 to 5. The second was a nine inning slaughter, 12 to 3.

SKETCHES BY BESSEY
SYNOPSIS BY BRAUCHER

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

THE ANYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK

REG. U. S. PAT OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

When Scouty saw just where he was, it frightened him a bit because he wasn't used to riding 'round in bird's beaks. Not at all. The pelican soared through the air. Then Scouty got another scare. He saw the ground was far below and feared that he would fall.

To see him was a funny sight. He fit right in the bill all right. Of course you know that Pelicans have bills of monstrous size. Well, just imagine Scouty's thought when in this big bill he was caught. He figured he'd be swallowed like some bumble bees or flies.

But Mister Pelican was kind. He sailed along and didn't mind that he was taking Scouty on a queer trip through the air. They sailed along till almost night, till Scouty figured, "I'm all right. I guess I'll take a little nay." And he closed his eyes.

When he woke up, he shortly found that they were right down near the ground. The bird moved on quite rapidly and skirted through the trees. He'd fly real fast, and then real slow, and Scouty wondered where they'd go. By this time fright had left him and he took the ride with ease.

Then voices rose up from below. "Why, who is calling? Bet I know," said Scouty, and he took one peek, and found that he was right. The Tinymites were on the beach and Scouty plainly heard them screech, "You'd better come on down here now, before the dark of night."

The bird then dropped to beat the band and shortly landed on the sand. It walked up to the Tinymites who gazed at it. And then, it opened up its beak real wide and Scouty promptly stepped outside. And as he greeted all the bunch, he said, "I'm home again."

BEAUTY CHATS

EYE EXERCISES

You can exercise your eyes

It seems odd, but it is possible to exercise the eyes. Here are some ways suggested in all books about facial beauty. The first one is to roll the eyeballs with the lids either open or closed, whichever way is easiest for you. If you can't do it with your eyes closed, take four imaginary objects in a room, the ceiling, the left-hand wall, the floor, an object on the right-hand wall, and turn the eyes to these, the eyelids as I say being open. You can probably do it more effectively if the eyes are open and you actually look at the objects, though just at first the exercise may make you dizzy.

Here are other exercises. Open the eyes as wide as possible and shut them a dozen times. Look up to the ceiling immediately above your head and down to the floor at your feet a dozen times, keeping your head stiff, so that in order to see the ceiling and the floor the eyeballs must move and not the head. Do the same thing looking as far to the right as possible, then as far to the left, always keeping the head still. Repeat this, looking upwards at one corner of the room, downwards diagonally opposite, repeat again, choosing the opposite corner of the room to look up at, consequently the other opposite corner of the room to look down at.

This sounds most complicated. What it means is that if you stand with your back to the mantlepiece in the north wall facing south, you look upwards at the southwest corner, downward at the northwest. When you've finished these exercises keep the eyes closed for a few moments.

To relieve puffiness, tap the region all round the eyes very gently with the fingertips. To relieve tiredness, use alternate compresses of hot and cold water. Wash the eyes occasionally with weak salt water.

L. L. T.—Since your hair continues to fall out after using these oily remedies for a year, you must know they are not what your scalp needs. The best way would be to consult a good scalp specialist so as not to waste any more time, but if that is not possible, send for the pilocarpine hair tonic formula. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the mailing.

Betty—Use soft towels to wipe the oil out of your hair just as if you were drying it after washing. Massage your brows and brush them into shape to make them grow.

ALTERATIONS

And countless little jimcracks for the nooks,
And who am I to grumble at the items on the bills
For it's plain as plain can be, you can read it in her face
A woman isn't happy 'less she's fixing up the place.

Oh, the house is looking lovely, but there's still a lot to do,
And she's always talking things she wants to buy,
And now and then I wonder if she ever will get through Shall I ever see contentment in her eye?
Will there ever come a time when there's nothing more to do?
Will there ever dawn a morning when she wants for nothing new?

Lord, I pray it won't be finished! May this house of ours remain
In constant need of changes and repairs,
May it keep on growing lovely, by the magic of her brain,
May it keep on needing newer rugs and chairs.
For I passed a house this morning that will alter nevermore
The woman's task was ended! There was crepe upon the door!

MENUS for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY

Casserole of Lamb

One pound shoulder of lamb, 1-3 cup chopped onion, 1 cup lamb broth or water, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 cups string beans, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 cup rice.

Cut lamb in two-inch pieces and brown quickly on all sides in a hot oiled frying pan. Put in casserole. Add onions, tomatoes and broth or water. Cover and cook in a moderate oven for one hour. Parboil rice in one cup boiling water until water is absorbed. Add with beans to lamb in casserole. Mix well and cook forty minutes longer. Serve from casserole. The salt and pepper should be added with the rice and beans. To prepare beans, remove strings, stems and tails. Cut through center lengthwise and then diagonally across in inch lengths.

Will Mothers Dare To Trundle Babes In Public

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

This land of ours is queer! What is prefectly good form in one place, may be looked on with such horror a hundred miles away, that one knows not where she's "at," regarding the amenities, if she is compelled to occasionally change location. Madam Grundy has a different set of rules for each section.

For instance in one community it may be quite "comme il fait" to wheel your own baby when you go out, while in another community the woman who trundles her own infant to the park takes her social life in her hands, so to speak, and ends by losing it occasionally.

In so many places this matter of baby wheeling and looking after one's own children has become such a monster of social dictation, and such a factor in determining who's who, that I am going to venture a protest against the system.

There are many women living in helpless protest in such communities, women who would give almost anything to escape the tyranny of the custom that I am going to advise them here and now as a body to take courage and go forth as they may choose, babies in tow, without considering too much the consequences of being seen with their own offspring.

It would soon become fashionable, (terrible word) if women of enough social influence would do it. It is about the silliest custom I can think of, for a mother to be ashamed to be seen publicly with her baby, or her young children, unless there is a nurse along with cap and trailing streamers, of in less ostentatious but unmistakable uniform.

If a woman needs and wants a nurse—I am far from criticizing. I often wished I could have one for my children. But I know this—had I had one, she would never have taken my place, in the house or out. My babies were my babies and I didn't care who thought what about anything I chose to do for them.

At the beginning of the present century tennis rackets weighing as much as 16 ounces were in use, but nowadays 14 ounces is the weight favored by champion players.

ETHEL Then and Now

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

If you would succeed in business, women, keep your mind on your work the way men do. Now everybody laugh loudly and long! This recipe for success comes from a so-called successful woman herself. She elaborates—"Keep your mind on your work the way men do. The average business man is not one who chases around. He does not go to the matinee twice a week. He does not leave his work early, nor come late. He spends every minute in his office in working for his business success."

Girls, control yourselves! The idea of laughing like that! But the lady certainly has it coming to her! This remarks smacks much to all "us girls" of one who is trying to get in good with her boss! For if there's one thing working women have noticed in this working world it's how the male of the species manages to get there without keeping his nose to the grindstone one-tenth as much as women on a similar job. There are jobs and jobs, and there are offices and offices, but, generally speaking, no business woman needs to be warned to "work hard as men do."

BARE ARMS

Mystery is woman's greatest charm, says Pola Negri in her first interview since her marriage. That's why, she says, gowns should be intriguing rather than too revealing. Net or lace-covered arms are infinitely more alluring than bare arms, she says. Which is the thought that smites one constantly when seeing the knock-knees revealed in all their stark reality by too-short skirts and too-rolled stockings. But subtleties are grasped by the mass of humans with only the greatest of difficulty. Give 'em time!

HOME, SWEET HOME

The American home is at its best today, says Mrs. Alice Winter, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Hear that, you prattlers about the destruction of the American home. Mrs. Winter continues: "The American family is at its best today because of woman's new freedom. In the past woman was kept in the background. She was the possession of man, subject to his authority, and bound to obey. Today she is free spiritually, intellectually and politically, and she brings the advantages of her new development into the home."

HOSS SENSE

Which sounds about as sensible to me as anything said in some time. All this tumult and shouting about the decay of the home always leaves me a little cold. I can't see why families are specially endangered because the various members of that family have more interests than in the day when they all sat around the base burner at night and squabbled because they got so tired of seeing each other so exclusively.

DOG COLLARS

Help has arrived for our shaven necks, which have ever been the one argument against bobbed hair, so far as I am concerned. Help has arrived in the way of jeweled dog collars, made to fit tightly about the shaven area. The really chic woman will wear an emerald collar with her green gowns, ruby-strewn collar with her red gowns, sapphire and turquoise-studded ones with her blue outfits. If you are one of those unfortunates who can't even boast a white sapphire collar, you'll wear plain velvet and net. That's my speed!

The national intercollegiate tennis championships will be held on the courts of the Merion Cricket club, at Haverford, Pa., the week of June 27.

TWO FIREMEN ARE EMPLOYED IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, June 22—An investigation is under way by the water and light committee of the city council to determine the advisability of installing gas engines to generate electricity for street lighting and for the operation of the water pumps. This announcement was made last night at the regular meeting of the city trustees by Trustee O. M. Thompson, chairman of the committee. A great saving would be made by the city if such a change was made, the committee believed, although more thorough investigation will be made before any definite recommendations are made.

Two men will be added to the fire department as a result of the action taken by the trustees last night. At the last meeting a communication was read from the state fire department inspector in which he stated that the Fullerton department lacked drivers. The situation has been in the past that only one driver was on duty. With the action taken last night and with the recommendation made by Trustee Thompson, Fire Chief Davis will go on full time duty as a driver and as head of all departmental activities with a monthly salary of $200. It was also decided that the fire chief should appoint another man to be on full time for the department.

Metal standards for ornamental lights will soon be installed in sections of Fullerton as a result of the action taken by the board in regard to petitions which were read last night for additional installation of ornamental lights. The petitions were from property owners in the Golden Hill district. The trustees authorized the engineer C. M. Thorpe, to prepare plans and specifications. Several blocks of ornamental lights will be installed.

J. C. Wright, bridge engineer of Los Angeles, was present with drawings for the proposed bridge arcoss the barrthea on North Malden avenue. This location is the third of a group of locations where new bridges may soon be constructed. The other locations are on North Richman avenue and at the Brea-La Habra intersection on North Spadra.

The Malden avenue bridge will cost approximately $10,500, according to Wright. The three bridges will cost around $34,000.

JAPAN VALUES FRIENDSHIP OF U. S. GIRL FINDS

YORBA LINDA, June 22.—Japan understands America better than America understands Japan and the Japanese people, in their admiration for the best in American civilization, are quick to overlook any apparent discourtesy shown them by the western nation.

This is the impression gained by Miss Tomiko Dobashi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dobashi of Citrus avenue, Yorba Linda, and this year's honor graduate at the Fullerton union high school, on a three months' "friendship" tour of Japan from which she just returned.

Miss Dobashi made the trip to Japan with five other American-born Japanese high school students from various parts of California, the party being chaperoned by Mrs. Paul P. Waterhouse of Pasadena, wife of an extension secretary of the Congregational church.

Designed to promote a better international feeling between this country and Japan, the tour was sponsored by the Japanese-American, a Los Angeles newspaper. The party made extended visits in Tokio, Osaka, Kyto, Kobe and practically every other city of any size in Japan. While in Osaka, they were given the opportunity of broadcasting their messages of good will over radio.

In Tokio the students dined and talked with Premier Kakatsuki, Viscount Shiousawa, Prince Tokugawa and Viscount Goto, the leading men of Japan, whom they found to be extremely democratic.

Little evidence of the disastrous earthquake of three and a half years ago was seen in Tokio. Thoroughly modern American style business buildings have replaced those shaken down during the catastrophe, Miss Dobashi reports.

"Friendship dolls," sent to Japan some years ago by the children of American churches, were talked about wherever the California students traveled and, no doubt, have done much towards cementing Japanese-American friendship, Miss Dobashi said.

One of the more depressing conditions found in Japan by the students was the prevalence of child labor. School examinations in as low as the seventh grade are extremely rigid, only the superior students being able to satisfy the requirements of continuing their education. The result is that the larger majority of children become discouraged and seek places in the commercial world at an early age.

Children 16 and 16 years of age, working in the stores and factories, were frequently seen, she said.

"Owing to the fact that we were constantly the guests of the nobility, rulers, schools or newspapers, most of our time was spent with those in the upper strata of society and it was difficult for us to avoid coming away with a one-sided view of Japanese life," Miss Dobashi said.

"During 10 days of our stay, however, we were permitted to go and come as we liked and to visit any relatives or family friends who might wish to entertain us. During this time we studied more closely the conditions of average Japanese life.

"We came away with the conviction that America is a much better place to live in. Japan is too densely populated for the freedom and independence found in America, to develop."

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, June 22.—A party of friends and relatives gave Hugh La Rue a very pleasant surprise Father's day. At noon a dinner was served. The afternoon was spent in games. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Click and son, Martin, and Mrs. George Stockton, of Alhambra; Mrs. Clarice Ederington and son, Bob, of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph La Rue, of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. Mervin La Rue, of Anaheim, and Henry Higgins, of Cypress.

Robert C. Wardlow, employe of Penhall brothers, has purchased a house and lot in the Cypress Home Garden tract from Mrs. Maud Johnston, of Los Angeles. Mr. Wardlow intends to move with his family to the new home immediately.

A. Ebison was found guilty of allowing a large artesian well to flood property for some distance from the well. Besides a court order to close the well Mr. Ebison was assessed a light fine.

The frame work of the new D. A. Davis six room bungalow located on the corner of Bishop avenue and Watson street is up. The new Davis home will be featured by a large cellar, one of a very few in this section.

Carl Keefer, who for the past year has been located at Maracaibo, Venezuela, is home on a three months' leave of absence from one of the large oil companies operating in South America. Mr. Keefer is a brother to Mrs. Oren Wilson, of North Walker street.

San Clemente Organizes Civic Body

SAN CLEMENTE, June 22.—A chamber of commerce is being organized. Temporary officers are J. Harmon Caskey, editor and manager of El Heraldo, president, and W. J. Barry, manager of the Heinecke Lumber company, secretary.

Temporary officers will canvass the town and obtain the signatures. Within a short time a permanent chamber will be perfected.

CLEAR SITE FOR FULLERTON HALL

FULLERTON, June 22.—Wrecking of the old buildings on East Commonmealth avenue near Spadra road, which now occupy the site of Fullerton's new Odd Fellows hall, which will house the local post office, was started today, under supervision of O. S. Compton. Compton plans to have about six men engaged in the demolition work, which will claim about three weeks.

Immediately afterward work will start on the hall, which is to be completed by autumn.

CORONA DEL MAR

CORONA DEL MAR, June 22—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller and several members of their famiy of Sierra Madre came for the week-end and remained for several days of this week. Their son, Tom Miller, was injured about a month ago when endeavoring to move a large cake of ice. He was in the hospital twice since the accident. He is planning to come to the Miller cottage here for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baldwin and daughter, Lorena, of Pomona, came Monday of this week and will remain for an indefinite length of time. Miss Lorena will attend summer chool in Santa Ana while they are here.

Madame Gertrude Ehrlich, well known musician of Los Angeles, was a week-end visitor with Mrs. H. Cordoza Sloan at High Bluff.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dickey, of Pasadena, spent several days last week in her cottage here. This is her last visit before leaving for Honolulu.

Dr. A. R. Davis and Mrs. Davis, of Los Angeles, were week-end visitors in the Scharle cottage. Mrs. A. M. Scharle, of Claremont, is expected soon to spend the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Stanley, of Whittier, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas and family, of Los Angeles, and the C. E. Laharts, of Los Angeles, were among the week-and visitors to his locality.

Mrs. William Simmons, of the Arch Beach tavern, and daughter, Marguerite, were callers at the Deraga home one day of last week.

Miss Helen Freytag and her niece, Miss Sylvia Freytag, of Pasadnea, came Saturday to attend the meeting of the Water Front syndicate at the Balboa Palisades club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Allen, of San Dimas, are staying with the J. H. Baldwin family while Mr. Allen is building the latter's new house. Mrs. Allen is the sister of Mrs. Baldwin.

The Patrick Farrells, of San Dimas, spent the week-end in their beach home on the ocean front.

S. G. Weaver, whose home is in Iowa, but who spends most of his winters in California, has been staying for several weeks in the cottage of Robert Monteith. Mr. Weaver leaves next week for Chicago, but has bought a lot in this section and is planning to return here for the winter.

Visitors to the E. B. Van Deren home over the week-end were Mr. Van Deren's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ketcherside, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Owen, of Los Angeles, spent the past week-end with their nephew, J. J. Mustard, and niece, Mrs. W. H.Kendall.

Albert Tramonti and wife, of Los Angeles, visited Mr. Tramonti's parents here over the week-end.

Antar Deraga went to Los Angeles Tuesday of this week to attend a banquet of safety engineers.

Carl Skanz, of Los Angeles, was among the week-end visitors to this locality.

A beautiful silken banner, with a design which may eventually become the emblem of the newly organized Newport Harbor chapter of the National Aeronautic association, has just been embroidered by Mrs. Antar Deraga. The emblem, designed by Antar Deraga consists of a wind vane, flanked by two airplane wings. The wings are done in solid embroidery, and represents much work and skill. Smaller emblems of the same design on heavy cardboard were carried in the parade celebrating the harbor opening on Sunday, and the silken banner was also carried for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Igoe, of Fontana, spent the week-end in the Diggs cottage, which they have rented for the season. Mrs. Igoe is a suster of J. J. Mustard and Mrs. W. H. Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bay Webster, of Ventura, were Monday visitors to this locality, coming here from Santa Ana, where Mrs. Webster has been spending some time with her mother, Mrs. John Allen. The Websters, who owne property on Balboa island, came to view the work on the jetties and are planning to return to the island as soon as conditions relative to the harbor entrance warrant their doing so. They left Tuesday for San Pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wadsworth, of Pasadena, spent the week-end at the Balboa Palisades club.

Mrs. C. W. Lamberton, of Costa Mesa, was a visitor to this locality Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mac Gilvray and sons, Donald and Alex, and Miss Elizabeth McGilvray, of Los Angeles, spent the week-end here.

Some of the big league scouts claim that the quality of college baseball this year was higher than ever before.

The Diamond Challenge Sculls, a race for amateur single scullers, has been a feature o fthe Royal Henley regatta since 1344.

DEAN OF LAW SCHOOL WILL TALK AT MESA

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Rollin L. McNitt, dean of the law school of Southwestern university, Los Angeles, has been selected to speak before the members of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and Costa Mesa Chamber of Con.merce Friday evening at the joint dinner session in the Costa Mesa Woman's club, according to George Macleod, secretary of the local organization.

McNitt will talk upon the subject of "The Value of Educational Institutions to a Community." His talk will be particularly timely, according to Macleod, as the dinner is in the nature of a booster gathering for the promotion of a new high school for the harbor district.

All proceeds over $1 charged for the meal will be turned over to a fund for the suit in the courts to determine the legality of the action, it was explained. It is estimated that approximately $1250 will be necessary and that nearly $500 will be realized from the dinner.

Swordfish Seen Off Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Fishermen who look forward annually to the arrival of swordfish were tuning up their equipment today as word was being passed by local observers of the arrival of the huge species of the finny tribe.

Although no swordfish have as yet been brought in, several experts already are angling for them. Other migratory fish in large proportions are said to be arriving along the coast line between Seal Beach and San Juan Capistrano.

In the contest conducted weekly by the business men of the city for the largest edible fish caught off Newport pier, W. B. Bomar, Dallas, Texas, has entered an 8 1-4 pound halibut for this week's prize. The prize last week was awarded to C. S. Russell, of Fullerton, whose halibut weighed 13 pounds.

FINES TOTAL $325

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Fines collected in Recorder W. A. Leonard's court during the first three days of this week totaled $325, according to the records. The largest fine was levied on L. J. Gray, of Los Angeles, who was arrested for possession of intoxicating liquor. He paid $200.

Six others, arrested for drunkenness, paid $25 each, as follows: Chris Anderson, of Dana Point; John Juchelli, of Los Angeles; J. D. Graves, of Los Angeles; Al Johnson, of Placentia, and C. W. Gray, of Los Angeles.

Big Teams Help

Many of the few Illinois farmers who beat the weatherman in their spring work did so with big teams, says E. T. Robbins of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. These hitches reduced wasteful side draft and enabled the horses and mules to do more work in a day.

New Tobacco Fields

The British Columbia coast is being tested for tobacco culture this year. Seed has been imported and is being grown on two half-acre experimental plots at Saanich. One is irrigated and the other worked without irrigation to discover the better method.

Give Limestone Time

For a satisfactory stand of sweet clover on soils too sour for it, limestone should be applied at least six months before the clover crop is to be seeded. It requires that much time to sweet the soil.

Newport C. Of C. President Weds In S. A. Church

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Frank Smith, president of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and member of the firm of Smith Brothers' Marine Hardware company, arrived home yesterday with his bride, the former Miss Esther Champion, of Los Angeles, after having slipped away and surprised his family and his friends by being married Sunday in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were united by the Rev F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church. They motored to Riverside where they remained until yesterday morning. Smith arrived home in time to preside at the weekly luncheon meeting of the directors.

MERCHANTS TO DISCUSS CHEST

ORANGE, June 22—The regular monthly meeting of the Orange Merchants Service bureau is to be held at the Sunshine cafe tonight, it was announced today by William G. Hagen, secretary.

Following the 6:30 o'clock banquet, the meeting will adjourn to the chamber of commerce office, where the business session will be held.

Heading the list of topics slated to come up for discussion, will be the proposal, voiced at the last meeting, to form a miniature community chest among the members of the association to help support worth while charitable movements.

A report on the chest project is to be presented by H. J. Snow, who was appointed chairman of a committee to consider the proposal.

Girl Breaks Arm In Fall From Boat

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Marjorie Greeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Greeley, of Balboa island, suffered a broken arm Sunday, when she fell from the deck of the "Murial," beached vessel in the bay entrance.

The girl was celebrating her twelfth birthday with a beach party and was playing a game on the hulk, when she lost her balance and fell over the side. She landed on the sand.

S. A. Men Build Newport Station

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, June 22.—Burnett Shrouder, who has been quite ill with pneumonia, is reported to be improving.

Marjorie and Verlan Stevens have left with Bavter Fulwider for a week's stay with relatives at Lone Pine.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Main and family are spending this week with the former's parents at Brawley.

Prof. E. M. Berry and family plan to leave the last of the week for a vacation trip to Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Pickering are spending their vacation at Sequoia and Yosemite.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Camp attended the Oregon state picnic at Brookside park Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schuepbach left Monday for several months' stay with relatives in Highland, Ill.

Mrs. Nannie Williams, of Tonca City, Okla., arrived Sunday and will spend several weeks with her niece, Mrs. B. F. Harp, of the Elite Dry cleaners.

G. M. Webber, of Perris, is looking after property interests in La Habra and will remain for some time. Mr. Webber is recovering from a severe case of poisoning since coming to La Habra, caused from eating tomatoes that had stood for some time in the tin can, after being opened.

BEACH C. OF C. CONSIDERS NEW HOTEL PROJECT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Details of hotel financing and construction were given members of the Newport Beach Harbor Chamber of Commerce yesterday by a representative of a chain hotel concern.

The company will not undertake any but community owned and promoted hotels, the speaker said. Its representatives conduct surveys at the request of the chamber of commerce to determine whether the city should build a hotel, where the proposed structure should be erected, and how large it should be, the speaker said.

Whether the chamber will undertake to back the hotel project or whether it will drop all thought of such backing and bend its efforts toward boosting the expansion plans of the Southern Seas club will be decided by the hotel committee and recommended to the organization at its next meeting, it was announced. The committee is to meet next Tuesday night for final decision.

The directors also considered at the meeting the matter of placing banners on the cars of rock coming from Riverside through Los Angeles to Newport Beach for the jetty. That the banners would serve to carry an announcement of the work of the city is doing to many people along the route of the trains and thus advertise the city was the reason advanced by K. I. Fulton for the adoption of the plan.

Dr. F. C. Ferry was named to replace Harry Welch on the community co-operation committee appointed at a recent meeting of the Newport, Costa Mesa and Santa Ana chamber directors. Welch gave as his reason for declining the appointment the fact that he is not a director of the chamber and that he believed it proper that only directors of the chamber serve on the committee.

S. A. Pastor Talks At Boosters' Meet

BUENA PARK, June 22—Monday the Fullerton Kiwanis club met with the Buena Park Booster club for a 12 o'clock luncheon. The program was in charge of L. E. Plummer, program chairman of the Fullerton club. The Rev. Charles Sitter, of Santa Ana, was the principal speaker. Jess Hardy gave a short report of the Kiwanis convention, which he attended at Memphis, Tenn.

Scenes For Serial Taken At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, June 22.—Nineteen members of the Harold Lloyd company are stopping at the Southern Seas club for a few days while two reels of a serial featuring Ed Horton and Duane Thompson are being taken on the bay. The company arrived Saturday evening and will return to Hollywood about Friday, it was said.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Hope is rich and glorious, and faithfully it should be cultivated. Let its inspiring influence grow in the heart; it will give strength and courage."

ONWARD, CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS!

"Like a mighty army, marching as to war—"

Thus may we liken the descent of 3000 Christian Endeavorers on Santa Ana. They come from all parts of the state of California for their fortieth annual state convention.

They come as warriors and they come as friends. Warriors against evil and sin but as friends to the city of Santa Ana and to all mankind.

Santa Ana welcomes these visitors. We are proud to have them with us. A mutual benefit will be derived from their stay within our portals. We will learn much from them. We will see 3000 Christian workers conducting a convention the like of which Santa Ana never before has known. We will meet them on the streets, in our hotels and in our homes, and we will be glad to extend to them the right hand of fellowship.

The delegates to the convention will get a new conception of Santa Ana and they will carry back home with them only good reports and we will receive a fortune in advertising that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

But that is merely the material aspect of the convention. Let us hope and believe—and determine that it shall be so—that we, as a community, may respond to and reciprocate, in some measure, the spiritual uplift and impulse these thousands of Christian soldiers will leave in the wake of their march through Santa Ana and Orange county.

The Santa Ana executive committee that has made arrangements for the handling of the convention is to be congratulated on the thoroughness with which it went about its work and attained its objective.

It is no easy task for a city the size of Santa Ana to have a crowd of 3000, house them and feed them. This the executive committee has agreed to do. The people have turned over their homes to the visitors. The hotels have made concessions. Even the nearby towns have come forward with their hospitality and offered rooms in which to house the overflow, if there is any.

Quick to meet an emergency, the executive committee has constructed an amphitheater where all delegates may be seated at one time. The vacant lot north of the Y. M. C. A., has been made available and seats and a stage erected. This was done after it was discovered that the number of delegates was so large that no theater or auditorium in the city could seat them.

To the executive committee, we again offer our congratulations and once more bid welcome to our distinguished visitors, knowing that their coming will leave us a better and a happier city.

UP TO THE SHOW FOLKS

"Unfair and ruinous" is the description given by many friends of the "legitimate" drama when speaking of the competition offered it by motion pictures.

But is it so unfair? How many people outside of the big cities ever have a chance to see the best actors and the best plays presented in America? And if they go to the big cities for their drama, how do they fare?

A writer who knows the situation tells of the visitor in New York who tries to buy theater tickets at his hotel. He gets them—for twice as much as the advertised price, which was high enough, goodness knows. At the theater he is beset by hat-check and program-selling individuals to whom he parts with some more money. He and his wife get to their seats by 8:29, just a minute before the advertised time for the curtain to rise, receive their free programs and then wait. The curtain goes up nearer 8:47 or 9:00 than half-past eight. The next night the visitors seek a movie palace where the prices are as advertised and where the show starts on time.

Outside of New York the movie has still other advantages. It brings its best as well as its mediocre stuff to all localities alike. The outstanding artists of the screen—and it must be admitted that there are a number—are to be seen in the small-town movie house.

If the legitimate theater cannot afford to produce good plays with good actors in the smaller cities, let them not grudge the movie patrons their pleasure, and let them not grudge the movies their success.

"TO BERLIN"—THEN AND NOW

When Chamberlin and Levine dipped low over Dortmund to ask their way, they called out "To Berlin! To Berlin!" Their cry was heard and gladly answered by people who pointed the direction to the German capital.

Within a few hours newspapers all over the civilized world were telling the story and repeating the words, "To Berlin!"

German planes were out watching for the American flyers and hoping to guide them to the great Tempelhofer landing field. All through that night the French government kept an air lane lighted from the coast to Paris to help the flyers keep their path to Berlin.

Ten short years ago, how different the situation! At that time the cry "to Berlin" would have meant hatred and the desire for conquest. Germany was "the enemy" then, and Berlin was the hated goal of allied armies. A plane circling above the city would have dropped destructive bombs and probably been shot down in the process.

There is cause for great thankfulness that such was not the case the other day when those two Americans landed on German soil, expected and cordially welcomed friends.

HIGHWAY PARASITES

The highways these summer days all over the land are full of hoboes of the new type, starting out blithely for anywhere or nowhere and trusting to the generosity of motorists to carry them along. The old sign of the road was the extended hand; the new sign is the jerking thumb.

Pay no attention to them, urges the American Automobile Association. By giving such people rides, the motorist is encouraging idleness and promoting the increase of vagrancy, and even contributing his mite to the delinquency of young people who ought to be at home.

It is hard for most drivers to ignore an appeal for a ride, especially on a rural highway, when they have room in the car. But it is not always safe, as a hold-up proves; and more than that, it is usually bad public policy. The worthy, poor-but-honest seeker of a ride that he cannot afford to pay for, eager to get home or to get to a paying job in a distant city, is in a small minority. The big majority are parasites, whose own good would be best served by passing them by.

About $300,000,000 gold has been taken out of the Black Hills region in the vicinity of the President's summer home. And now they say there's political gold in "them hills."

More Good Roads Soon

Riverside Enterprise

California, at one time second to no state in the Union in highway construction, of late years has failed to keep pace with leading eastern states. Although the principal highways have been improved, most of the entrances from the East and North are yet unpaved. The motorist coming from the Northwest or from states to the East meets highways at the California border that are none too pleasing.

But with a $21,000,000 new highway fund virtually assured during the biennium beginning July 1 through passage of the Breed bill increasing the gas tax, it looks as though California's delayed road construction program will at last get under way.

According to State Highway Engineer R. M. Morton another two years should see construction far advanced on the 580 miles of important trunk and secondary thoroughfares that are projected.

The inceased gasoline tax will net the state something more than $15,000,000. In addition to this there will be available $6,000,000 in federal road money. The money will be appropriated in May and November. Although this year's funds will come too late to permit of any big jobs getting under way, it is likely that the spring and summer will see great activity.

Figures prepared by the state engineer place the probable average cost of the new roads at $35,000 per mile. This will vary from $10,000 per mile in the desert to $60,000 per mile in the mountains of Humboldt and other northern counties.

The rebuilding work of the Highway Commission will be continued from money received as its share of the original two cent gasoline tax and from motor vehicle fees.

Although California motorists may not all welcome the fee they must pay on each gallon of gasoline, they will hail with delight the beginning of construction. In will be possible in a few years to travel from border to border of the state without once going off a paved road. That will be worth all the extra pennies handed over when fuel is purchased. The new roads will add enormously to the attraction of California as a touring center; and the extensive construction program will show the country that California is still in the forefront of progressive states.

It Seems Longer, Too

Redlands Facts

Fifteen times as many days are apportioned to schooling the average child today as were given to his education in 1800.

At the dawn of the nineteenth century the average number of days an American child went to school was eighty-two. By 1890 it had increased to 770 days and it is now 1200 days.

Educators expect that within a comparatively short span of years, as the holding power of the school increases, the number will have risen to 2000 days. High schools, colleges, universities, and especially home study courses, which permit workers to study after working hours with the object of increasing their earning capacities, are fast bringing up the hours spent at study by the country's young men and women.

Their wages will increase proportionately with the number of hours spent in study. Two thousand hours of study will bring the working man close to twice the wage that he receives today.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last of four articles telling what science has discovered from studying the childhood of theworld's greatest men and women.

GENIUS—BORN OR MADE?

"Youths who achieve eminence are characterized not only by high intellectual traits, but also by persistence of motive and effort, confidence in their abilities, and great strength or force of character."

This conclusion of the psychologists of Stanford University, who studied the characters of 300 eminent men and women of history to determine the factors that make for success, is most significant. The superior young men pursued high ideals, developed significant interests, and created new expressions of scientific and philosophical thought before they reached the age of manhood.

Among the examples cited to prove this contention is the fact that Milton had written an ode pronounced by an eminent critic as perhaps the most beautiful in the English language, before he was twenty-one years old. Hume had defined his views before he was twenty-five. Peel was chief secretary for Ireland before he was 24, Raphael had painted the Granduca Madonna at 21, Beethoven was appointed chamber musician to the king at 18, Newton had developed his views of light and colors before he was 20. Bacon wrote a philosophical work before he was 20, Montesquieu had sketched his "Spirit of Laws" at a similar age, and the Englishman, Jenner, even before 20, had thought out the processes that led to his discovery of vaccination for smallpox, a boon that freed mankind from one of the greatest scourges that impeded the progress of civilization.

The genius appears usually in a superior family, in which he has superior possibilities for education and other inspirational factors in his environment. In childhood he is likely to display superior intelligence, superior talents and superior traits of character.

While many an eminent man may not meet these qualifications, the appearance in childhood of a combination of the highest degree of general ability, special talent, seriousness of purpose, and indomitable persistance may be greeted as indicating a capacity for adult achievement of high rank. The wise parent will do everything possible to give such a child even more opportunity. The gifted youth of today is the leader of the future. Heredity sets some limits, but within these limits adequate training may raise a boy to the greatest possible stature.

In concluding, the psychologists quote the poet Horace, who, some thousands of years ago, arrived independently at similar conclusions:

"'Tis only from the sturdy and the good that sturdy young are born: in steers, in steeds, appear the merits of their sires; nor do fierce eagles beget timid doves. Yet training increases inborn worth, and righteous ways make strong the heart; whenever righteousness has failed, faults mar even what nature has made noble."

Al Kissed Him!

Business Satisfactory

Here is a summary of the latest business report from the economic experts of the National City Bank of New York, biggest financial institution in the country:

"The general business situation in May has continued satisfactory. Manufacturing is going on in large volume, distribution is apparently keeping pace, employment conditions are good, and money is abundant for business purposes."

There are troubles, of course. There are the coal strike, the Mississippi flood, overproduction of oil, bad crop weather in the west, and a general downward tendency in non-agricultural commodities—which doesn't worry consumers so much as it does business men. On the other hand, the "supporting influences" are strong. Steel is operating at a high level, building continues in large volume, the automobile industry is doing better than was expected, improvements are recorded in many important lines, foreign trade is healthy.

Thus business in the aggregate is "averaging fully up to or above normal," as shown by such dependable standards as electric power consumption, railway traffic and bank payments.

"Quite clearly, although maladjustments exist, they have not been basic enough to seriously disturb the general condition of stability which has characterized the last few years."

In other words, prosperity continues, with the American people enjoying the highest per capita income ever received by the people of any country, and with business resting on foundations which the experts believe "will sustain the general average at good levels during the coming months."

There are some bad spots, and competition is keener than it used to be, and the inefficient fellow has more trouble than he had during the hectic war boom. But don't believe anybody who tells you business isn't good and this nation isn't sitting, economically, on top of the world.

Worth While Verse

TO DONFARRAN

When your laughing gypsy people
Pitch their camp before my house
On the windy downs of Sussex
  Near the sea,
I shall barricade my window,
And be quiet as a mouse
Lest their all-alluring summons
  Come to me

For I've settled down in England,
And although my anchor's fast
In the golden gorse of Sussex.
  Yet I feel
  That it won't take much to tempt me
Back again into the past,
And the ways I used to wander
  Keel or wheel.

THEY KNEW THEIR PROSPECT

"Old college ties, gentlemen," orated the old grad from the platform, "old college ties—the lasting loyal love for our alma mater, and her love for us. Where, fellow alumni, where, I ask you, can you find a greater, better, worthier, nobler, finer, stonger bond—a bond which will repay you more?—"

"Ya-a-a-ay!" shouted the entire class of '26, rising to their feet. "A customer!"

Men use only 10 per cent of their intelligence, a professor informs us. Now how are we going to go about discounting that statement, figuring that the professor was using only 10 per cent of his own when he made the discovery.

We live in a highly scientific age. But a barefoot boy with a ball and bat is the greatest analyst of us all.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pape

My sister Gladdis was reeding a book with a red cover, saying, Theres no use tawking, I must have some maraskeeno chocklit cherries, I dont seem to be able to injoy a love story without chocklit covered maraskeeno cherries.

Do you wunt me to go around to the candy store and get you some? I sed, Being my favorite kind of candy, and Gladdis, sed, Your generous offer overwelms me, get me a quarter of a pound, heers the money, and for Peet sake remember their chocklit cherries and not baseballs.

Meening to carry them carefill, and wen I brawt them home the outside of the bag was kind of out of shape and probly stained with jooce, giving some ideer of wat the inside mite look like, ony I hadent looked in yet on account of thinking it mite be bad luck, and Gladdis sed, My stars, dont tell me thats my chocklit covered cherries, do you meen to stand there like an unmittigated shrimp and tell me thats my chocklit covered cherries?

I tripped and fell down, enybodys libel to have a axsident, aint they? I sed.

Espeshilly you, Gladdis sed. And she opened the bag and looked in, saying, Wat a diskusting site, wat a gassly reck, do you meen to stand there like a googly eyed midgit and tell me enybody could get this mess in sutch a mess meerly by falling down?

Well, I fell down in a setting position, I sed.

Well, wat of it? she sed, and I sed, Well, I was carrying the bag in my back pockit.

My stars, wat a sweet ideer, well heers wat happins to the bag, Gladdis sed.

And she threw it out her window and it squashed rite down in the street neer ware Puds Simkins and Shorty Judge was standing, and I hurry up ran down and by that time Puds and Shorty had it and was looking in with happy noises, and I had a fearse time to get them to even give me a equal share, being one therd.

The City and the Citizen

Live Articles from an Expert on Municipal Problems

BY LOUIS BROWNLOW

Louis Brownlow

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE PHASES OF MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS

In one city I pay my water bill to the city government and in another to the water company; in one town I call the city hall to complain about my garbage not being collected and in another I call a contractor. Which means that municipal services are not all rendered by the municipal government, and that what is considered a public municipal service in one city may very well be considered a private municipal service in another.

As a matter of fact, municipal services are rendered to the city dwellers of America by three types of organizations: first, the city government in its various phases; second, the privately-owned public utility corporation, and, third, the voluntary association or society. These three are not always distinct, but often cut across the lines of division, as for instance, when a government-owned public utility is operated by a private corporation under a lease, or as when a voluntary charitable association by agreement administers the government funds provided for relief of the poor.

In this series of articles it is my purpose to consider problems that arise in all three fields of organization. Indeed, it is hardly possible to discriminate, because a function or activity that in one community is comfortably and forever, apparently, assigned to one of these three groups of organizations in another community will be seen as naturally and as a matter of course belonging within the scope of another.

Further, as a matter of fact, the functions are constantly changing from group to group and transfers are being effected in great numbers. So it comes about that, generally speaking, we American city dwellers are far from any definite conclusion as to what constitutes the proper sphere of municipal governmental activity.

Under this fact lie hidden many of the deeper springs of difficulties encountered in bringing about a satisfactory solution of municipal problems that arise from day to day.

The three groups, which we will call for brevity's sake, Governmental, Corporation and Voluntary, are at constant war with each other and yet maintain constant contacts of the most intimate and complete co-operation. They tend in some fields to recognize cheerfully the preserves of the other, and in others are constantly striving to conquer and possess domains already pre-empted by the other.

Most familiar, of course, is the disputed question of the municipal ownership and operation of public utilities. Nobody seems to get very much excited when a city owns and operates its water works, yet in many cities this is recognized as the function of a private company. Some cities are selling their water plants to private operating companies and some are buying them from the corporations.

Municipalities own and operate water works, gas plants, street railway systems, electric lighting and power plants, central heating systems, and outside the field usually included under the title "public utility," they own and operate ice factories, coal distribution plants, abbatoirs, grain elevators, and so on. One of them owns a long steam railroad, built for trade development and held as an investment, operated by a corporation under lease. Others own, for revenue producing purposes, oil wells with which they were endowed by geographical accident and geological grace.

All three groups own, manage and operate hospitals, and frequently all three types of hospitals may be found in a single city.

In various cities the Governmental and the Voluntary group divide, generally speaking, the field of health and social work—the visiting nurse function, the clinical provision for the care of the sick, the relief and rehabilitation of the poor. These two groups tend al... to divide the field of recreati... and neighborhood activities. ... many cities these voluntary agen... cies are grouped together in Cou... cils of Social Agencies or simil... bodies for general purposes, or, ... an increasing number, in Financi... Federations or Community Ches... for fiscal purposes. Promotion ... the cities' business interests ma... in our city be undertaken by t... Chamber of Commerce alone, ... another by the Chamber of Com... merce in partnership with the cit... and sometimes, by the city alon...

In considering them, the tot... cost of municipal functions, w... have to consider not only the tax... paid into the public treasury, b... also the fares paid to the transpo... tation companies, the bills paid ... the gas or power companies, a... also the amounts paid to the vo... untary associations by contribu... tions and donations. It takes a... three groups of organizations ... run the municipal functions ... the town.

Then, again, no general rule ... definition of precise scope will a... ply. For instance, I know of ... city of a size above a hamlet th... owns and operates its telephon... system. But I do know of sever... wherein the city government ha... interfered, for good motives ... doubt, with what ought to be ... monopoly and has granted a fran... chise to a rival or "home" tele... phone company; a nuisance no... being eradicated at tremendous ex... pense to the telephone users.

Even within the governments ... groups there are important differ... ences of meaning in commo... speech, because of the carrying con... cept of the proper content of mu... nicipal governmental activitie... Take the humble but most impor... tant matter of garbage. In on... town it means everything that i... waste—food refuse, ashes, trash... In another town it means onl... food refuse. In many cities it ... recognized as the business of th... municipal government to colle... and take away from the home a... three types of refuse; while i... others the householder who ex... pects the city to take away th... ashes from the furnace, burns he... own trash and enters into a pri... vate treaty with a hog-feedin... farmer to call for her table refuse...

It follows then, that in consid... ering the cost of municipal func... tion, we have not only to remem... ber that they are exercised b... three groups, governmental, cor... poration and voluntary, as I point... ed out above, but we also must re... member that what has been taken ... on in one city by one or the othe... of these three groups, or by al... three, in another town is still con... sidered not a municipal function a... all but a private matter. So w... have to consider in comparing ... costs what is included in the scope ... of governmental activities. We ... cannot ignore either the public or ... the private phase of the matter ... and hope to see the problem whole.

Butterfly Dreams

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

THE life history of the moth and the butterfly is almost identical. The adult lays a great many eggs from which the caterpillar larvae hatch. The caterpillars spend their time gorging themselves until they are overtaken with the impulse to become moths or butterflies. The moth caterpillar spins itself a cocoon suspended from a convenient twig and hangs head down in sleep for weeks or months until it emerges a moth. The butterfly caterpillar spins a button of silk and suspends itself head downward to become a naked chrysalis and so it sleeps until nature calls forth the butterfly.

SAID the worm, "I'm worn out with this having to creep
In a hot furry coat. I'm just weary for sleep!"
So he buttoned himself to an alder bush limb
In a chrysalis cradle he spun out of him
And slept while the sun and the stars came to peep.

"I feel very strange. Why I'm really not I."
As he sat in the sun gorgeous lacy wings spread,
